SECTION 1. REGISTRANT'S BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS.

Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On July 20, 2005, FedEx Corporation (FedEx), as borrower, entered into a $1 billion five-year credit agreement (the New Credit Agreement) with a syndicate of banks and other financial institutions (the Lenders), including JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., individually and as administrative agent, Bank of America, N.A., individually and as syndication agent, The Bank of Nova Scotia, Regions Bank, and The Royal Bank of Scotland PLC, each individually and as a co-documentation agent. The syndicate of Lenders was arranged by J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. and Banc of America Securities LLC, as joint lead arrangers and joint bookrunners.

The New Credit Agreement replaced and consolidated the $750 million Five-Year Credit Agreement dated as of September 28, 2001, as amended, among FedEx, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (formerly known as The Chase Manhattan Bank), individually and as administrative agent, and certain lenders, and the $250 million Amended and Restated 364-Day Credit Agreement dated as of September 27, 2002, as amended, among FedEx, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., individually and as administrative agent, and certain lenders (together, the Terminated Agreements). The Terminated Agreements were terminated effective July 20, 2005.

The New Credit Agreement provides the terms under which the Lenders will make available to FedEx an unsecured revolving credit facility in an aggregate amount of up to $1 billion. Borrowings under the New Credit Agreement may be used for FedEx's general corporate purposes, including commercial paper back-up and acquisitions. As of July 25, 2005, FedEx had not made any borrowings under the New Credit Agreement.

The Lenders' commitments under the New Credit Agreement will terminate on July 20, 2010, unless terminated earlier by FedEx or by the administrative agent upon an event of default. FedEx's obligations under the New Credit Agreement are guaranteed by the same FedEx subsidiaries that guarantee FedEx's outstanding public debt securities.

Loans under the New Credit Agreement will bear interest at a rate per year generally equal to, at FedEx's election, either:

the greater of (a) the administrative agent's announced prime rate, and (b) the federal funds effective rate plus 0.5%, plus the applicable margin for such loans (ABR Loans); or the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) for the selected term, plus the applicable margin for such loans (Eurodollar Loans).

FedEx will also pay a facility fee. The applicable margin for loans and the facility fee will vary depending upon FedEx's senior unsecured non-credit-enhanced long-term debt ratings. For example, based upon FedEx's current ratings of BBB (Standard & Poor's) and Baa2 (Moody's)

Investors Service), the applicable margin for ABR Loans would be 0%, the applicable margin for Eurodollar Loans would be 0.375%, and the facility fee is 0.125%. In addition, at any time when the loans outstanding under the New Credit Agreement exceed 50% of the aggregate commitments, FedEx will be required to pay a utilization fee of 0.125% on such outstanding loans.

The New Credit Agreement contains customary affirmative and negative covenants, including a maximum leverage ratio of 70%, as well as customary events of default.

Certain of the Lenders, as well as certain of the lenders under the Terminated Agreements, and their affiliates engage in transactions with, and perform services for, FedEx and its affiliates in the ordinary course of business and have engaged, and may in the future engage, in other commercial banking transactions and investment banking, financial advisory and other financial services transactions with FedEx and its affiliates.

The foregoing description of the New Credit Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the New Credit Agreement, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
