Certain tax considerations:

- The American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (the Jobs Act ), enacted on October 22, 2004, amended certain rules relating to REITs.
- The Jobs Act provides additional mitigating provisions with respect to MCRC 's REIT qualification as a REIT if MCRC inadvertently has more than 5% of its total assets in the securities of one issuer or if MCRC holds more than 10% (by vote or value) of the securities of any one issuer.
- Under the Jobs Act, if less than 95% of MCRC 's gross income is from certain passive sources, then we will be subject to a penalty tax based on the amount by which 95% of MCRC 's gross income exceeded our gross income from such passive sources.

- Under the Jobs Act, if MCRC fails to satisfy one or more requirements for REIT qualification other than the gross income tests and assets tests due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect, MCRC may continue to qualify as a REIT provided that MCRC pays a penalty tax of $50,000 for each such failure.
- The Jobs Act expands the straight debt safe harbor under which certain types of securities are disregarded when calculating the 10% value limitation described in the accompanying prospectus entitled Material United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Requirements for REIT Qualification In General REIT Asset Tests.
- The Jobs Act eliminates the 35% withholding tax on any capital gain dividend with respect to any class of stock (so long as MCRC's common stock is regularly traded on an established securities market in the United States) if the non-U.S. stockholder has not owned more than 5% of such class of stock at any time during the taxable year in which the dividend is received.

All holders should contact their respective tax advisors concerning the treatment of excess inclusion income allocated to them.
