Item 2.04 Triggering Events That Accelerate or Increase a Direct Financial Obligation

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On October 2, 2009, B&G Foods announced that we have issued a notice of redemption for $90,000,002.95 principal amount of our outstanding 12% senior subordinated notes due 2016 at a cash redemption price of 106% of the principal amount of the notes being redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest on such amount, to, but excluding, November 2, 2009. Upon completion of the redemption on November 2, 2009, $69,540,885.70 principal amount of the senior subordinated notes will remain outstanding.

The senior subordinated notes redeemed will include senior subordinated notes represented by B&G Foods Enhanced Income Securities (EISs) and senior subordinated notes held separately. Each EIS represents one share of our Class A common stock and $7.15 principal amount of the senior subordinated notes. The senior subordinated notes will be redeemed on a pro rata basis in accordance with the terms of the indenture governing the senior subordinated notes and will be redeemed in principal amounts of $7.15 or integral multiples thereof.

Pursuant to the terms of the indenture, the partial redemption of the senior subordinated notes by B&G Foods will result in an automatic separation of all of the EISs on the redemption date. As a result, the EISs, which currently trade on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol BGF, will cease trading before the opening of the market on November 2, 2009. When the market opens on November 2, 2009, those shares of Class A common stock that had previously been represented by EISs, will trade on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol BGS together with all other outstanding shares of the our Class A common stock. The remaining senior subordinated notes that are not redeemed, whether previously represented by EISs or held separately, will not be listed on an exchange and we do not intend to create or sustain a market for such notes following the redemption date. Thus, the extent of any market for the remaining senior subordinated notes will depend upon, among other things, the principal amount of the senior subordinated notes that remain outstanding after the redemption date, the number of holders remaining at such time and the interest in maintaining a market in the senior subordinated notes on the part of securities firms. Holders may need to hold their senior subordinated notes until maturity or an earlier redemption, if any, by our company.

The partial redemption of the senior subordinated notes is expected to result in a pre-tax charge in our fourth quarter of fiscal 2009 of $9.5 million, which represents a cash charge of $5.4 million relating to the call premium and a non-cash charge of $4.1 million relating to the write-off of unamortized debt issuance costs associated with the redeemed notes. During the third quarter of fiscal 2009, we repurchased $6.3 million principal amount of senior subordinated notes, which is expected to result in a pre-tax charge in our third quarter of $0.7 million, representing a cash charge of $0.4 million relating to the repurchase premium and a non-cash charge of $0.3 million relating to the write-off of unamortized debt issuance costs associated with the repurchased notes.

Interest on the redeemed portion of the senior subordinated notes will cease to accrue on and after November 2, 2009. The only remaining right of the holders thereof shall be to receive payment of the redemption price (together with the accrued and unpaid interest on such amount).

A copy of the press release announcing the foregoing is attached to this report as Exhibit 99.1 and is furnished pursuant to Item 8.01 and Regulation FD.
