Re: Aon Hewitt Integration Update: Integration Portal and Working Team Leaders

As we communicated last week to Hewitt and Aon Consulting team members, our integration planning effort is off to a great start. We are extremely excited about the potential of Aon Hewitt, and the expanded opportunities we will bring to our clients, our colleagues, and our shareholders. As part of our promise to keep you informed throughout the process, we have launched a shared portal for all Aon Consulting and Hewitt associates. Visit the portal regularly for the latest news on the integration effort, to learn more about both firms and our respective capabilities, and to get answers to a number of important questions you have raised. You can find a link to the portal from the Knowledge Exchange at Aon and The Source at Hewitt.

Edgar Filing: HEWITT ASSOCIATES INC - Form 425

We have launched a three-tiered integration governance structure to achieve a quick and effective integration. Our goal is to maximize our collective strengths and minimize disruption to our respective businesses. The Integration Leadership Team (ILT) provides overall direction and confirms key decisions. The Integration Program Office (IPO) manages the planning process and ensures the teams have the information and support they need. Finally, the Integration Working Teams (IWT), co-led by Aon and Hewitt leaders, are responsible for developing the detailed integration work plans to manage all of the decisions that will allow a smooth transition to a combined business once the merger closes.

Today we are announcing the leaders for the working teams across each of the businesses and the functional support areas. Please keep in mind that these are integration planning teams and should not be interpreted as leadership appointments or an implied structure for the combined organization. These integration team leaders are on point to coordinate planning and facilitate decision-making with leaders in their respective areas. As you would expect with large global firms our size, there is much work to be done, and many more team members will be asked to support various integration activities. Most importantly, we are relying on the vast majority of our colleagues to continue delivering great service for their clients and great results for our respective firms between now and the close.

Edgar Filing: HEWITT ASSOCIATES INC - Form 425

Now that our teams are up and running, it is very important that all integration activities be directed by these leaders. We know that you are anxious to help and participate in the process, but we must adhere to strict compliance requirements until the transaction is closed. Please do not respond to requests for data or agree to meetings on integration topics unless directed by the appropriate IWT leaders. If you have any questions about what is allowed, ask your leaders or contact Dan VanderWoude (Aon Global Strategy) or Kathleen Carroll (Hewitt Corporate Development & Strategy) for guidance.

We would like to extend a sincere thank you to these leaders who are taking on these roles in addition to their existing responsibilities. And a special thanks to all of our associates around the world for staying focused on delivering on our commitments to our clients, our colleagues, and our shareholders.

Best,

Safe Harbor Statement

This communication contains certain statements related to future results, or states our intentions, beliefs and expectations or predictions for the future which are forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from either historical or anticipated results depending on a variety of factors. Potential factors that could impact results include: the possibility that the expected efficiencies and cost savings from the proposed transaction will not be realized, or will not be realized within the expected time period; the ability to obtain governmental approvals of the merger on the proposed terms and schedule contemplated by the parties; the failure of stockholders of Hewitt Associates, Inc. (Hewitt) to approve the proposal to adopt the merger agreement; the failure of the stockholders of Aon Corporation (Aon) to approve the proposal to approve the issuance of shares of Aon common stock to Hewitt stockholders in the merger; the loss of key Aon or Hewitt employees following the merger; the risk that the Aon and Hewitt businesses will not be integrated successfully; disruption from the proposed transaction making it more difficult to maintain business and operational relationships with customers, partners and others; the possibility that the proposed transaction does not close, including, but not limited to, due to the failure to satisfy the closing conditions; general economic conditions in different countries in which Aon and Hewitt do business around the world; changes in global equity and fixed income markets that could affect the return on invested assets; fluctuations in exchange and interest rates that could impact revenue and expense; rating agency actions that could affect Aon's ability to borrow funds; changes in the funding status of Aon's various defined benefit pension plans and the impact of any increased pension funding resulting from those changes; Aon's ability to implement restructuring initiatives and other initiatives intended to yield cost savings, and the ability to achieve those cost savings; the impact on risk and insurance services commission revenues of changes in the availability of, and the premium insurance carriers charge for, insurance and reinsurance products, including the impact on premium rates and market capacity attributable to catastrophic events; the outcome of inquiries from regulators and investigations related to compliance with the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and non-U.S. anti-corruption laws; the impact of investigations brought by U.S. state attorneys general, U.S. state insurance regulators, U.S. federal prosecutors, U.S. federal regulators, and regulatory authorities in the U.K. and other countries; the impact of class actions and individual lawsuits including client class actions, securities class actions, derivative actions and ERISA class actions; the cost of resolution of other contingent liabilities and loss contingencies, including potential liabilities arising from error and omissions claims against Aon or Hewitt; the extent to which Aon and Hewitt retain existing clients and attract new businesses; the extent to which Aon and Hewitt manage certain risks created in connection with the various services, including fiduciary and advisory services, among others, that Aon and Hewitt currently provide, or will provide in the future, to clients; the impact of, and potential challenges in complying with, legislation and regulation in the jurisdictions in which Aon and Hewitt operate, particularly given the global scope of Aon's and Hewitt's businesses and the possibility of conflicting regulatory requirements across jurisdictions in which Aon and Hewitt do business; and the ability to realize the anticipated benefits to Aon of the Benfield merger. Further information concerning Aon, Hewitt, and their business, including factors that potentially could materially affect Aon's and Hewitt's financial results, is contained in Aon's and Hewitt's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). See Aon's and Hewitt's Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Annual Reports to Stockholders for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2009 and September 30, 2009, respectively, and other public filings with the SEC for a further discussion of these and other risks and uncertainties applicable to our businesses. Neither Aon nor Hewitt undertakes, and each of them expressly disclaims, any duty to update any forward-looking statement whether as a result of new information, future events or changes in their respective expectations, except as required by law.
