Bristol-Myers Squibb Provides Update on Pending Transaction with Celgene

Amends Registration Statement on Form S-4 with SEC

Remains on Track to Hold Special Meetings of Stockholders on April 12, 2019

Updated Investor Presentation Highlights Strong Strategic and Financial Merits of Transaction

NEW YORK—(BUSINESS WIRE)—Bristol-Myers Squibb Company (NYSE:BMJ) today provided an update on its proposed acquisition of Celgene Corporation (NASDAQ:CELG).

Bristol-Myers Squibb announced that it has filed an amended registration statement on Form S-4 with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) in connection with Bristol-Myers Squibb’s proposed acquisition of Celgene. The special meetings of stockholders of both Bristol-Myers Squibb and Celgene are currently scheduled for April 12, 2019, and the record dates for stockholders of both companies eligible to vote at the respective special meetings have been set for March 1, 2019. At the special meetings, stockholders of the respective companies will vote on proposals related to the definitive merger agreement between the two companies announced on January 3, 2019.

Bristol-Myers Squibb is continuing its engagement with regulatory authorities in connection with the transaction. In order to facilitate continued dialogue with the Federal Trade Commission (the “FTC”), Bristol-Myers Squibb determined to voluntarily withdraw and refile its premerger notification and report form under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the “HSR Act”). Bristol-Myers Squibb expects to refile its premerger notification and report form under the HSR Act on February 20, 2019, which will restart the 30-day time frame for the FTC’s initial review of the transaction.

The transaction remains on track to close in the third quarter of 2019.

An updated investor presentation about the transaction is available on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov and on Bristol-Myers Squibb’s website at <https://www.bms.com/investors.html>. Highlights of the presentation include:

The Celgene transaction is the natural next step in Bristol-Myers Squibb’s proven strategy that has consistently delivered results for over a decade. Through a disciplined approach to driving innovation, focusing on high-value opportunities and sourcing innovation externally to complement its internal portfolio and pipeline, Bristol-Myers Squibb has generated consistently strong growth and increased its dividend for 10 consecutive years. The combination with Celgene will create a leading biopharma with increased scale, while maintaining the same agility and a focus on delivering for patients in core disease areas of high-unmet medical need.

The pipeline of the combined company provides significant near-, medium- and long-term opportunities for value creation. Bristol-Myers Squibb is acquiring Celgene’s robust and complementary pipeline at an attractive price. In addition to six expected near-term product launches representing more than $15 billion in revenue potential, the combination will greatly increase Bristol-Myers Squibb’s Phase I and II assets, which will provide the next set of registrational opportunities in core therapeutic areas. With an expanded set of scientific platforms and research capabilities, Bristol-Myers Squibb will be well positioned to discover and develop highly innovative medicines and accelerate these new options to patients through one of the highest-performing commercial organizations in the industry.

Bristol-Myers Squibb is well positioned for 2025 and beyond with continued leadership across Oncology and a diversified portfolio of assets. The combined company will have a broad, balanced and earlier life-cycle marketed portfolio with a significantly higher number of opportunities across multiple diseases to drive the growth of Bristol-Myers Squibb in the second half of the decade. These opportunities will support financial strength for continued investment and innovation.

The Celgene transaction is expected to generate meaningful financial benefits for all stockholders. With more than $45 billion of expected free cash flow generation over the first three full years post-closing, the combination will enable rapid debt reduction to de-lever the balance sheet and strengthen Bristol-Myers Squibb's credit profile. Bristol-Myers Squibb expects to realize run-rate cost synergies of approximately $2.5 billion by 2022 from the combination, and the combined company is expected to grow revenue and EPS every year through 2025.

currently estimated by management, including, but not limited to, the risks that: a condition to the closing of the proposed acquisition may not be satisfied; a regulatory approval that may be required for the proposed acquisition is delayed, is not obtained or is obtained subject to conditions that are not anticipated; Bristol-Myers Squibb is unable to achieve the synergies and value creation contemplated by the proposed acquisition; Bristol-Myers Squibb is unable to promptly and effectively integrate Celgene's businesses; management's time and attention is diverted on transaction related issues; disruption from the transaction makes it more difficult to maintain business, contractual and operational relationships; the credit ratings of the combined company decline following the proposed acquisition; legal proceedings are instituted against Bristol-Myers Squibb, Celgene or the combined company; Bristol-Myers Squibb, Celgene or the combined company is unable to retain key personnel; and the announcement or the consummation of the proposed acquisition has a negative effect on the market price of the capital stock of Bristol-Myers Squibb and Celgene or on Bristol-Myers Squibb's and Celgene's operating results. No assurances can be given that any of the events anticipated by the forward-looking statements will transpire or occur, or if any of them do occur, what impact they will have on the results of operations, financial condition or cash flows of Bristol-Myers Squibb or Celgene. Should any risks and uncertainties develop into actual events, these developments could have a material adverse effect on the proposed transaction and/or Bristol-Myers Squibb or Celgene, Bristol-Myers Squibb's ability to successfully complete the proposed transaction and/or realize the expected benefits from the proposed transaction. You are cautioned not to rely on Bristol-Myers Squibb's and Celgene's forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are and will be based upon management's then-current views and assumptions regarding future events and operating performance, and are applicable only as of the dates of such statements. You also should understand that it is not possible to predict or identify all such factors and that this list should not be considered a complete statement of all potential risks and uncertainties. Investors also should realize that if underlying assumptions prove inaccurate or if unknown risks or uncertainties materialize, actual results could vary materially from Bristol-Myers Squibb's or Celgene's projections. Except as otherwise required by law, neither Bristol-Myers Squibb nor Celgene is under any obligation, and each expressly disclaim any obligation, to update, alter, or otherwise revise any forward-looking statements included in this communication or elsewhere, whether written or oral, that may be made from time to time relating to any of the matters discussed in this communication, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, as of any future date.

This communication also contains certain non-GAAP financial measures, adjusted to include certain costs, expenses, gains and losses and other specified items. Reconciliations of these non-GAAP financial measures to the most comparable GAAP measures are available on the company's website at www.bms.com. A reconciliation of pro forma measures, however, is not provided due to no reasonably accessible or reliable comparable GAAP measures for certain pro forma measures and the inherent difficulty in forecasting and quantifying certain pro forma measures that are necessary for such reconciliation.
