If the answer is no, identify report(s)

Yes  No

- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes  No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reason why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

Patient Safety Technologies, Inc. (the "Company") anticipates that its revenue for the year ended December 31, 2007 will significantly exceed its revenue for the year ended December 31, 2006. Increases in revenues from sales of its Safety Sponge during the year ended December 31, 2007 reflect an entire year of sales as opposed to the year ended December 31, 2006 in which the Company initially began recognizing revenues from its Safety Sponge late during the quarter ended September 30, 2006. The Company anticipates that its operating expenses and net loss for the year ended December 31, 2007 are significantly less than the expenses and net loss for the year ended December 31, 2006. The decrease in operating expenses for the year ended December 31, 2007 when compared to December 31, 2006, was primarily the result of stock based compensation expenses, amortization of debt discount and to a lesser extent salaries and employee benefits, and interest expense. Net loss decreased for the year ended December 31, 2007 compared to the year ended December 31, 2006 primarily as a result of a significant decrease in operating expenses.

A reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made at this time due to the fact that the compilation, dissemination and review of the information required to be presented in the Form 10-K has not been completed.

Patient Safety Technologies, Inc.
