Fellow Collaborators,

The regimes of free enterprise and competition oblige companies, their representatives, agents and employees to conduct themselves in an environment of respect and understanding, striving so that every form or relationship, whether internal or external, exalts the dignity of individuals, preserving loyalty and ensuring transparency, both indispensable to the coexistence of feelings of confidence and good faith.

Since the beginning of the activities of the Organization, we have always managed, valuing dialogues and employees, to conquer the admiration of our customers and partners a clear result of the firmness of our actions and seriousness with which we devote ourselves to our work.

Edgar Filing: BANK BRADESCO - Form 6-K

We are constantly expanding our universe of customers and partners, who are attracted by the certainty that respect for ethics and human dignity are alive and present in the Organization.

Reflection on this important matter, in its most varied forms, have led to the creation, by the Board of Directors, of this Corporate Code of Ethics of the Bradesco Organization, which presents guidelines to orient our policy of relationships.

The adoption of ethical procedures has always been an integral part of our daily operations. Thus, it is the responsibility of everybody to learn, understand, experience, and turn this into reality, the observance of the recommendations set forth in this Corporate Code of Ethics, respecting the values on which they were inspired.

The Code performs a fundamental role in the process of strengthening the culture of the Organization. Since consultation of the Corporate Code of Ethics should be facilitated, we recommend keeping your copy in an easily accessible location.
