PROXY STATEMENT
FOR THE 2013 ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

GENERAL INFORMATION

In this Proxy Statement, Sterling Construction Company, Inc. is sometimes referred to as the Company, and the Board of Directors of the Company is sometimes referred to as the Board. The Company is making this Proxy Statement, the form of proxy and the Company's 2012 Annual Report on Form 10-K available to stockholders starting on March 28, 2013 in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board for the 2013 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Annual Meeting will be held on Thursday, May 9, 2013 at 9:00 a.m. local time at the Hyatt Regency Hill Country, 9800 Hyatt Resort Drive, San Antonio, Texas 78251.

On March 28, 2013, the Company mailed a Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials (the Availability Notice) to stockholders of record on March 11, 2013 (the Record Date) and posted the proxy materials on the Company's website:

www.SterlingConstructionCo.com

as well as on the website provided in the Availability Notice:

<http://www.Amstock.com/ProxyServices/ViewMaterial.asp?CoNumber=04770>

The Company is sending the Notice of Availability to all stockholders of record instead of mailing them a printed set of all the proxy materials, although as stated in the Availability Notice, if you wish to obtain a printed set of the proxy materials, you can do so without charge by requesting a copy by telephone, by e-mail or on either of the websites listed above, all as described in the Availability Notice. This procedure reduces the Company's mailing costs and the amount of paper used in the proxy solicitation process.

On or about April 9, 2013, the Company plans to mail a second Availability Notice to stockholders that will be accompanied by a proxy card on which you can indicate how you wish your shares to be voted.

The Record Date. The Company established Monday, March 11, 2013 as the Record Date. The persons or entities whose names appear on the records of the Company as holders of the Company's common stock on the Record Date are entitled to notice of the Annual Meeting and to vote at the Annual Meeting or at any adjournment of the meeting. On the Record Date, there were 16,602,034 shares of the Company's common stock outstanding.

Methods of Voting. As a holder of common stock of the Company on the Record Date, you may vote your shares either by coming to the Annual Meeting and voting in person, or by appointing someone to vote your shares for you by giving that person a proxy. In this Proxy Statement, you are being asked to appoint each of Patrick T. Manning, the Company's Chairman; Elizabeth D. Brumley, the Company's Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer; and Roger M. Barzun, the Company's Senior Vice President & General Counsel as your proxy to vote your shares the way you direct both at the Annual Meeting and at any adjournment of the meeting.

Voting by Proxy. Stockholders have the option to vote by proxy in three ways:

Edgar Filing: STERLING CONSTRUCTION CO INC - Form DEF 14A

- Via the Internet: You may vote via the Internet by following the instructions in the Availability Notice.
- By telephone: You may vote by telephone by calling toll-free 1-800-PROXIES (1-800-776-9437) in the United States, or 1-718-921-8500 from a foreign country using a touch-tone telephone and by following the instructions given to you. You should have your proxy card with you when you call so that you can input the numbers found on your proxy card when asked to do so.

- By mail: You may vote by mail by obtaining a printed copy of the proxy card in the manner described in the Availability Notice. You need to complete, sign, and date the proxy card and then mail it to the Company.

If your shares are held by a bank, a broker or by another nominee holder of record, please refer to information they provide to you on your voting options.

If you vote by proxy, your shares will be voted as you direct if —

- Your proxy is properly completed;
- Your proxy is received by the Company before the Annual Meeting; and
- Your proxy is not revoked by you before the voting.

If you do not specify on your proxy how you want your shares voted, they will be voted in the following way:

FOR the election of two Class III nominees for three-year terms (Proposal 1).

FOR the ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for 2013 (Proposal 2).

FOR the approval of the compensation of the Company's named executive officers for 2012 as set forth in this Proxy Statement (Proposal 3) (an advisory vote).

The Board does not know of any other proposal that will be presented for consideration at the Annual Meeting.

Revocation of a Proxy. You may revoke a proxy you have already given in any one of the following three ways:

- By sending to the Secretary of the Company, at the Company's address set forth above, a written statement that you wish to revoke your proxy;
- By submitting another proxy dated later than a previous proxy; or
- By attending the Annual Meeting in person and notifying the chairman of the meeting that you wish to vote in person.

Quorum, Vote Required and Method of Counting.

The Quorum for the Meeting. A quorum must be present in order to hold the Annual Meeting. A quorum consists of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock issued and outstanding on the Record Date. Holders of shares of common stock who are either present at the Annual Meeting in person or through representation by a proxy (including those who abstain from voting or who do not vote on one or more of the proposals) will be counted for purposes of determining whether there is a quorum present at the meeting.

Vote Required. Each share of common stock entitles the record holder to one vote on each of the matters to be voted on at the Annual Meeting.

Proposal 1. The election of a nominee requires that he receives more votes for his election than against his election.

Proposal The ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public
2. accounting firm for 2013 requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the meeting. See also the information below under the heading Ratification of the Selection of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm (Proposal 2) for the effect of your vote.

Proposal The advisory vote to approve the compensation of named executive officers also requires the affirmative
3. vote of the holders of a majority of the common stock represented and entitled to vote at the meeting.

Method of Counting. The Company will not count as votes cast on a proposal either the shares of stockholders who abstain from voting on that proposal, or the shares held in "street" name by banks, brokers or nominees who indicate on their proxies that they do not have the discretionary authority to vote the shares on the proposal. The latter are known as broker non-votes.

Proposal 1. The election of a director does not require a minimum number of votes. Therefore, abstentions and broker non-votes will have no effect on the voting for the election of directors.

Proposals 2 & 3. Because the ratification of the appointment of Grant Thornton LLP and the approval of named executive officer compensation both require an affirmative vote by the holders of a majority of the shares that make up the meeting's quorum, abstentions and broker non-votes will have the effect of votes against the proposal.

The Solicitation of Proxies and Expenses. In addition to the solicitation of proxies by means of this Proxy Statement, directors, officers and employees of the Company and, if considered necessary, a third-party solicitation agent may solicit proxies using personal interviews, telephone calls, facsimile transmissions and e-mails. The Company will request banks, brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to solicit votes from their customers who are beneficial owners, but not record holders, of common stock, and to forward or make available proxy solicitation materials to those beneficial owners. The Company will reimburse them for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses they incur in doing so and will pay the expenses of preparing, printing and mailing this Proxy Statement, the form of proxy, the Availability Notice, the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for 2012 and any other solicitation materials.

The 2012 Annual Report. A copy of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012, which has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) contains financial statements and other information of interest to stockholders. Stockholders may obtain a copy of the 2012 Annual Report in the same manner as they may obtain a copy of the other proxy solicitation materials.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS (Proposal 1)

The Composition of the Board. The Company's Certificate of Incorporation provides for the division of directors into three classes, each class to be as nearly equal in number as reasonably possible. The term of each class is three years, and the terms are staggered so that at each Annual Meeting of Stockholders, the term of one class of directors expires. A director holds office until the expiration of his or her term and until a successor is elected and qualified unless the director dies, resigns or is removed from the Board. In any of those circumstances, the Board has the authority to appoint a replacement. The Bylaws of the Company permit the Board to determine from time to time how many directors the Company will have. To be elected, a director must receive more votes for his election than against his election.

There are currently ten directors. The Board has set the number of directors from and after the Annual Meeting at eight directors. The Board has considered declassifying the Board as discussed in the section entitled Corporate Governance under the heading Board Operations where an explanation can be found as to why the Board has decided not to declassify the Board at the 2013 Annual Meeting.

The Board of Directors recommends that stockholders vote for each director nominee

Director Independence.

The following table shows the Company's incumbent independent directors at the date of this Proxy Statement and the committees of the Board on which they serve.

Each director listed satisfies the Nasdaq Stock Market's definition of an independent director because none of them has been an employee of the Company within the past three years and none of them (or their family members) have any connection with the Company other than as directors. No other factors affected the Board's determination that these directors are independent. Each member of the Company's three standing committees, the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee and the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee, satisfies Nasdaq's independence standards for service on those committees. The members of the Audit Committee also satisfy the independence requirements of the SEC's Regulation §240.10A-3. Independent directors have elected Mr. Hemsley the Board's Lead Director.

Experience, Qualifications, Attributes and Skills of Nominees and Directors.

The following describes the basis on which the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee has concluded that the incumbent directors (listed alphabetically below) some of whom are nominees, should continue to serve as directors of the Company. As more fully described below in the section entitled Nomination of Directors under the heading Board Operations, the Committee typically does not look for a specific experience, qualification, attribute or skill in nominating a director for election or re-election, but rather tries to find a person whose overall combination of those factors would enable him or her to make valuable contributions to the Board.

Mr. Abernathy has extensive financial and accounting experience as well as leadership skills that he has gained as a member and later as Chairman and Chief Executive Partner of BDO Seidman, a public accounting firm, and from nine years as Chief Operating Officer of a major Washington, D.C. law firm. On the Board, the breadth and depth of his experience allows him to play an important role as one of the Board's Audit Committee Financial Experts. He has been a director of two other public companies for more than five years, as described above in his biographical data, and that hands-on experience enables him to provide valuable contributions and insights into corporate governance matters.

Mr. Eckels has a long and distinguished background in the public sector as well as broad experience and a strong interest in transportation matters. These are two areas in which other directors have no particular experience or expertise and ones which enable Mr. Eckels to assist the Board as the Company seeks to expand its business into design-build, CM/GC (construction manager/general contractor) and other project delivery methods, which are alternatives to the traditional fixed unit price, low bid process, and in which success is based not only on bid price, but also on reputation, marketing and quality. In addition, Mr. Eckels's knowledge and experience described in his biographical data help the Board oversee the Company's efforts to bid successfully on the kind of large, transportation infrastructure projects on which it has worked in the past. In furtherance of his corporate governance education, in 2012 he became a Board Leadership Fellow of the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) by completing NACD's comprehensive program of study for corporate directors, which the Company believes will enhance his effectiveness as Chairman of the Company's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee.

Mr. Harper has forty years of experience in heavy civil construction with the Company. His operational skills combined with financial acumen developed as chief financial officer for many years enable him as a director to aid the Board in making assessments and decisions about the Company's annual budgets, its capital expenditures, and cash management; to assess the risks of entry into new types of construction projects; and to evaluate the strategic direction of the Company's acquisition program.

Mr. Hemsley has extensive financial experience and managerial skills gained over many years as chief financial officer of the Company for thirteen years and as its President for seven years; through his recent position managing investment funds; and his responsibilities during his career as chief financial officer of several medium-sized public and private companies in a variety of business sectors in the U.S. and Europe. His knowledge of the Company derived from more than twenty years' service, as well as his analytical skills honed as a fund manager in making investment decisions and overseeing the management of a wide range of portfolio companies, enable him to contribute to the Board's oversight of the Company's business, its financial risks, its executive compensation arrangements, the risks inherent in its acquisition program, and in post-acquisition integration issues.

Mr. MacKenna has more than 25 years of civil construction experience, which includes both operational experience in water, waste water, heavy highway, transit, marine, and foundation construction as well as extensive business experience in acquisition analysis and strategy, and post-acquisition integration. These are all areas that the Board believes are critical to the Company's future success and growth. His construction experience has been in an enterprise much larger than the Company, and as a result, he brings to the Board many of the techniques, processes and procedures that the Company will need as it integrates its operations and continues to grow.

Mr. Manning has more than thirty-five years of experience in heavy civil construction with the Company as well as interpersonal and public relations skills he has developed from service for many years on the construction industry committees referred to in his biographical data. That experience and those skills are critical at the Board level, where oversight of the Company's business, its growth, its entry into new types of construction projects, its long-term strategy and its overall risks are important.

Mr. Schaum has extensive executive and management experience at all levels in a Fortune 100 company, and knowledge of, and interest in, corporate governance matters, gained on the board of a Fortune 500 company. In addition, his technical background and his operating experience at all levels of management contribute to the breadth and depth of the Board's deliberations.

Mr. Scott has many years of experience as an audit partner at a large public accounting firm; leadership, managerial and corporate governance skills acquired during his tenure as a senior executive at a Fortune 500 company; and entrepreneurial skills developed through the founding of several companies in the energy and service sectors. He has also served as a chief executive officer of private companies and as a lead director at a public company. Mr. Scott's background and experience enable him to bring to the Board and its deliberations a broad range and combination of valuable insights as well as leadership skills, particularly in his role as Chairman of the Board's Audit Committee.

RATIFICATION OF THE SELECTION OF THE INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM (Proposal 2)

Pursuant to its charter, the Audit Committee is directly responsible for the appointment of the Company's Auditors. The Audit Committee has selected Grant Thornton LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm to perform the audit of the Company's financial statements for 2013. Grant Thornton was also the Company's independent registered public accounting firm for the year ended December 31, 2012.

The Committee may select an independent registered public accounting firm at any time during the year if it determines that to do so would be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. The Board is asking stockholders to ratify the selection of Grant Thornton as a matter of good corporate practice, although ratification is not required by law or by the Company's Bylaws, and the vote is not binding on the Committee.

There is additional information about Grant Thornton, below, under the heading Information About Audit Fees and Audit Services. The ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting.

The Board of Directors recommends that stockholders vote for the ratification of the selection of Grant Thornton LLP.

APPROVAL OF THE COMPANY'S NAMED EXECUTIVE OFFICER COMPENSATION (an advisory vote)
(Proposal 3)

Current SEC regulations require the Company to solicit a stockholder vote on the approval of the compensation of the named executive officers, who are listed below in the section entitled The Executive Officers under heading Executive Compensation. This advisory vote, as described below, is commonly referred to as say-on-pay. The vote is not binding on the Company. At the 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, holders of 80% of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting voted in accordance with the Company's recommendation to hold a say-on-pay vote annually, and the Company has and will continue to do so.

In determining how to vote on Proposal 3, stockholders should take into account all of the disclosures in this Proxy Statement that relate to the compensation of executives. That information is set forth in this section and below under the heading Executive Compensation. The information includes tables of compensation and stock option data, as well as an explanation of why and how the types and levels of compensation of the named executive officers have been determined.

The Company's executive compensation structure is designed to pay executives for the day-to-day work they perform, to give them an incentive to make extra efforts to maximize the Company's profits, and to encourage them to remain with the Company, all of which, the Company believes, further the interests of stockholders.

Compensation consists of salary and incentive compensation. The compensation structure is embodied in multi-year employment agreements because the Compensation Committee believes that they provide stability and predictability in compensation matters, benefiting both the executive and the Company.

At the Annual Meeting, stockholders will have the opportunity to vote for, against, or to abstain from voting on the approval of executive compensation.

In the event that stockholders do not approve executive compensation, the Committee will review its decisions on compensation structure and levels as well as the comparability of executives' compensation to that of a peer group of companies before deciding whether to make any changes in the compensation of one or more executives. It should be noted that with multi-year employment agreements, the Company can only make changes with the consent of the executive or after the term of the agreement expires.

The affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of common stock represented and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is required to approve executive compensation.

BOARD OPERATIONS

Corporate Governance. During the last six years, the Board has periodically adopted changes to its policies and procedures to reflect changes in public company corporate governance trends because directors believe that it is in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders to do so. The following is a brief description of those changes:

Year of Adoption	Description of Actions Taken
2006	Adopted a policy to hold annual meetings of stockholders contemporaneously with a regularly-scheduled board meeting so that all directors can attend the annual meeting without additional expense to the Company.
2007	Established the position of Lead Director to be elected from among the Company's independent directors.
2007	Changed the election of directors from a plurality vote to a majority vote.
2008	Allowed the 1998 so-called poison pill to expire.
2008	Adopted a requirement that directors retain at least that number of shares of the Company's common stock awarded as director compensation that is equal in market value to the sum of the cash fees paid to the director in the previous two calendar years.
2009	Amended the Company's charter to eliminate certain restrictive provisions, some of which were designed to protect the Company's tax loss carry-forwards, including — <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· An article that prohibited a stockholder from acquiring more than 4.5% of the Company's common stock.</li> <li>· The requirement for supermajority stockholder votes to approve any stockholder by-law amendment; to remove a director; or to amend certain articles of the charter.</li> </ul> and added a provision that a director elected by the Board to fill a vacancy will serve only until the next stockholders' meeting at which directors are elected.
2011	Adopted a policy prohibiting officers of the Company and its subsidiaries from hedging their shares of the Company's stock.
2011	Adopted a stock retention policy that prospectively prohibits officers of the Company and its subsidiaries from pledging shares of Company stock they hold, and requiring them to retain shares of Company stock with a value equal to a multiple of salary.
2011	Adopted a so-called "claw-back" policy providing for the repayment to the Company of any bonus or incentive compensation if restated financial statements show that the employee received more than the amount that he or she would have received had the financial statements been restated before the amount of the bonus or incentive compensation was determined. The policy applies irrespective of the employee's culpability with respect to the reason for the restatement.
2012	Separated the roles of Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer.

Board Declassification. Most recently, the Board considered the advantages and disadvantages of retaining its classified Board of Directors, which provides for directors to serve staggered three-year terms. Among the advantages of a classified board are the stability and continuity that result from having directors serve for more than a one-year term. The longer term with its increased knowledge of the Company's business also enhances directors' independence from management. A classified board provides a measure of protection against hostile acquisitions and proxy contests that may not be in the best interests of stockholders, and encourages directors to take a long-term perspective and thereby facilitates strategic planning.

On the other hand, directors have noted that there is a growing investor sentiment in favor of the annual election of all directors because it is the primary means for stockholders to influence corporate governance policies and to hold management accountable for implementing those policies. In addition, declassifying the Board is consistent with the Company's ongoing commitment to corporate governance "best practices."

After a discussion of these issues and the various means by which declassification might be achieved, the Board decided that it is not in the best interests of the Company at this time to start the declassification process. In reaching this decision, the Board noted that certain directors may wish to retire from the Board in the near future and that other directors have potential health problems that could prevent them from serving on the Board. In either case, declassification could result in losing the continuity and institutional memory that three-year terms provide. However, the Board also decided that it is their intention to declassify the Board in the foreseeable future.

Communicating with the Board. Interested persons wishing to communicate with the Board about their concerns, questions or other matters may do so by U.S. Mail addressed to:

Board of Directors
The Secretary
Sterling Construction Company, Inc.
20810 Fernbush Lane
Houston, TX 77073.

The Secretary will give these communications to the directors as they are received unless they are frivolous, or if they are voluminous, in which case the Secretary will, instead, summarize them and furnish the summary to the directors.

The Board's Leadership Structure.

The Company's Board of Directors has a Chairman and a Lead Director. Until September 1, 2012, the Chairman was also the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. Since 2007, the independent directors have appointed one of their members Lead Director.

In February 2012, the Company announced, among other things, that the Board had decided to separate the roles of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer and had launched a search for a new chief executive. As a result of the search, effective September 1, 2012, Patrick T. Manning resigned as Chief Executive Officer and his successor, Peter E. MacKenna, was elected Chief Executive Officer as well as a director of the Company. The Chairman will continue to chair Board and stockholder meetings, but will have no operating responsibilities.

The Company believes that the separation of these roles is appropriate because it enhances the integrity of the Company's operations and, among other considerations, it is a growing corporate governance trend among publicly-traded companies.

The Board's Risk Oversight.

The Board exercises oversight of the Company's risks through its three standing committees and through working together as a group.

The Audit Committee is primarily responsible for matters relating to financial risk. The Committee holds regularly-scheduled, quarterly, in-person meetings at which it reviews materials supplied to it in advance, and receives oral reports on a variety of matters, including the Company's operations and the condition of its markets, its SEC filings and related press releases, its internal controls, its independent auditing firm, the independent audit of its internal controls environment, its related party transactions, the Company's compliance with the financial requirements of its line of credit agreement, the investment of cash reserves, whistleblower reports, and financial and accounting consultants, if any. Confidential, anonymous submission by employees and others of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters are collected by an independent organization specializing in those services and are conveyed to the Chairman of the Committee and to the Company's General Counsel. The Committee also holds special meetings when circumstances make it advisable to do so. All independent directors are currently members of the Committee.

The Compensation Committee is responsible, among other things, for identifying risks that could be affected by compensation arrangements and for assessing the extent of those risks. More information about compensation arrangements and risk can be found below in the section entitled Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management under the heading Executive Compensation.

The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee is primarily responsible for overseeing risks that can arise from matters of corporate governance by ensuring the independence of directors, assessing the qualifications of nominees for director, and assisting in the development of a clear and comprehensive Board and management succession plan.

During 2012, Board members received a monthly so-called flash to keep them current on financial matters and on factors vital to the Company's business. The Board also holds four to five regularly-scheduled in-person meetings a year at which it receives reports from management on financial and operating results, as well as on current business activities, future business opportunities, potential acquisitions, and risk assessment. Independent directors of the Company meet in executive session at least quarterly and often more frequently to discuss matters affecting the management of the Company and any perceived problems or risks associated with the Company's business and/or management.

Nomination of Directors. The Board's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee has the responsibility, among others, to identify and recommend to the Board the nomination of qualified candidates by the Board, including by a majority of independent directors.

On February 15, 2012, the Committee voted to recommend to the Board the nomination of Messrs. Hemsley and MacKenna, whose current terms of office expire at the Annual Meeting.

The term of newly-elected Class III directors will expire at the 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders; the term of Class I directors will expire at the 2014 Annual Meeting; and the term of Class II directors will expire at the 2015 Annual Meeting. Information about the background and qualifications of the nominees is set forth above in the sections entitled Background of Nominees and Experience, Qualifications, Attributes and Skills of Nominees and Directors under the heading Election of Directors (Proposal 1). For a discussion of the consideration by directors to declassify the Board, see the section entitled Corporate Governance, above.

The Committee seeks to achieve a Board that is composed of individuals who have experience that is relevant to the needs of the Company, who have a high level of professional and personal ethics, and who contribute to the diversity of the Board as defined in its charter. The Committee looks for candidates with experience in the construction industry and/or in engineering, transportation, finance and accounting, financial reporting, investment, corporate governance, senior management and public sector matters. The Committee also considers other factors, such as race, gender, geographical representation and other skills and experience that can bring cognitive diversity to the Board and thereby lead to better decisions and solutions. In 2009, when the Board believed it needed additional independent members, an analysis was done by preparing a chart that showed each incumbent director's experience and strengths in order to determine where gaps existed. In that manner, the Board's make-up was balanced and a degree of diversity achieved. Given the Company's size, however, the Committee realized that it is difficult to achieve broad diversity. When it is determined that replacement directors or additional directors are needed, the Committee expects to go through a similar process and in so doing, will be able to assess whether it has achieved the diversity that was sought. Candidates are expected to be committed to enhancing shareholder value and to have sufficient time to carry out the duties of a director, both on the Board as a whole and on one or more of its standing committees.

The Committee has not specified any minimum qualifications for serving on the Board. The Committee has also not established a policy regarding the consideration of director candidates recommended by stockholders, primarily because the Company has not received recommendations of that kind for more than the last ten years. If a stockholder wishes to recommend a person as a director candidate, the stockholder may follow the procedure for communicating with the Board that is described above in the section entitled Communicating with the Board. The Committee would evaluate any candidate recommended by a stockholder in the same manner as any other candidate. Recommendations of candidates for nomination for the 2014 Annual Meeting of Stockholders must be received by the date set forth below under the heading Submission of Stockholder Proposals.

The Committee uses a variety of methods for identifying and evaluating nominees for director. Candidates may come to the attention of the Committee through current members of the Board, Company management and employees, professional search firms, stockholders and other persons, but in any event, the Committee conducts independent evaluations of candidates and requires and checks references before recommending a candidate for election.

Election of Directors by Majority Vote. In order to be elected a director, a nominee needs to receive more votes for his or her election than against it. A director is elected for a specific term and until his or her successor is elected and qualified. This means that an incumbent director who is nominated for re-election, but fails to receive a majority vote, would still remain a director because no successor had been elected. To cure this problem, each incumbent director, as a precondition to being nominated for re-election, must, in advance of the Annual Meeting, submit a resignation that becomes effective if he or she does not receive the required vote and if the Board accepts the resignation. The Board has the option to accept or not accept the resignation based on the recommendation of the Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee.

Directors' Attendance at Meetings in 2012. The Board held fourteen in-person and telephone conference call meetings during 2012, some of which were meetings of independent directors only. Each incumbent independent director and each incumbent non-independent director attended more than 75% of the meetings of the Board he was eligible to attend. Each incumbent director also attended more than 75% of the meetings of the standing committees of the Board on which he served during 2012. All incumbent directors also attended last year's Annual Meeting of Stockholders in person. The Company's policy is to schedule the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to coincide with a regular Board meeting so that directors can attend the Annual Meeting without the Company incurring extra travel and related expenses.

Committees of the Board. The Board has the following three standing committees:

- The Audit Committee
- The Compensation Committee
- The Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee

Each of these committees has a charter that is posted on the Company's website at www.SterlingConstructionCo.com. The Board also establishes special-purpose, or ad hoc, committees as the need arises.

The Audit Committee. The members of the Audit Committee are all of the independent directors, namely Milton L. Scott, Chairman, John D. Abernathy, Robert A. Eckels, Maarten D. Hemsley, Richard O. Schaum and David R. A. Steadman. The Board has determined that Messrs. Abernathy and Scott are Audit Committee Financial Experts based on the definition of that term contained in applicable regulations. Their backgrounds are described above under the heading Election of Directors (Proposal 1). The Committee meets at least quarterly and held fourteen meetings in 2012.

The Committee assists the Board in fulfilling its responsibility to oversee the Company's accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, which is referred to in its charter as the independent auditors. In particular, the Committee has the responsibility to —

- Review financial reports and other financial information, internal accounting and financial controls, controls and procedures relating to public disclosure of information, and the audit of the Company's financial statements by the Company's independent auditors;

- Appoint independent auditors, approve their compensation, supervise their work, oversee their independence and evaluate their qualifications and performance;
- Review with management and the independent auditors the audited and interim financial statements that are included in filings with the SEC;
  - Review the quality of the Company's accounting policies;
  - Review with management major financial risk exposures;
- Review and discuss with management the Company's policies with respect to press releases on earnings and earnings guidance, including the use of pro forma information;

- Review all proposed transactions between the Company and related parties in which the amount involved exceeds $100,000; and
- Provide for the confidential, anonymous submission by employees and others of concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters.

The Audit Committee Report. In fulfillment of its responsibilities, the Audit Committee has —

- Reviewed, and met and discussed with management and with the Company's independent registered public accounting firm the Company's 2012 audited consolidated financial statements;
- Discussed with the independent auditors the matters required to be discussed by the statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended (AICPA, Professional Standards, Vol. 1. AU section 380) as adopted by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board in Rule 3200T;
- Received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent accountant required by applicable requirements of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board regarding the independent accountant's communications with the audit committee concerning independence, and has discussed with the independent accountant the independent accountant's independence; and
- Based and in reliance on the foregoing review and discussions, recommended to the Board, and the Board has approved the inclusion of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012 for filing with the SEC.

In exercising its authority and carrying out its responsibilities, the Committee meets to discuss the executive compensation structure, proposed employment agreements, salaries, cash and equity incentive awards, and the achievement and the setting of personal goals on which executive incentive compensation is based, using information circulated in advance of the meeting by the Chairman of the Committee. This information may include salaries of comparable officers in comparable companies in the construction industry, and the Company's financial results for the year on which some incentive compensation awards are based. The Committee may not delegate any of its responsibilities, but may share them with other independent directors. The Committee discusses an executive officer's compensation in advance of making a decision on it. The executive may not be present during voting or deliberations by the Committee on his or her compensation. For a description of the compensation of executives of the Company and of other senior officers, see the information below under the heading Executive Compensation.

Director Compensation.

Set forth below is a table showing the compensation paid for 2012 to non-employee directors who served during 2012. The Company does not pay any additional compensation for serving on the Board to directors who are employees of the Company or its affiliates. In 2012, those directors consisted of Messrs. Harper, MacKenna, Manning and Wadsworth. Mr. Wadsworth is an employee of the Company's subsidiary, Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC (RLW). In 2012, RLW paid Mr. Wadsworth, under his RLW employment agreement in his capacity as Chief Executive Officer of RLW, a salary of $244,000, and cash incentive compensation of $934,946, and the Company awarded him 2,157 shares of Company common stock.

None of the Company's non-employee directors received any other compensation for any service provided to the Company. All directors are reimbursed for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending meetings of the Board and its committees.

The amounts in the table include annual retainer fees, chairmanship fees and meeting fees paid for service in 2012. All dollar amounts are rounded to the nearest dollar. ## STOCK OWNERSHIP INFORMATION Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management. The following table sets forth certain information at March 1, 2013 about the beneficial ownership of shares of the Company's common stock by each person or entity known to the Company to own beneficially more than 5% of the outstanding shares of common stock; by each nominee and incumbent director; and by each executive officer named below in the section entitled Summary Compensation Table for 2012 under the heading Executive Compensation; and by all directors and executive officers as a group. The Company has no other class of equity securities outstanding.

Rule 13d-3(d)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires that the percentages listed in the following table assume for each person or group the acquisition of all shares that the person or group can acquire within sixty days of March 1, 2013 (for instance by the exercise of a stock option) but not the acquisition of the shares that can be acquired in that period by any other person or group listed.

Policies Regarding Hedging, Holding and Pledging Company Stock. The Company has a policy that prohibits directors, executive officers, officers of the Company's majority-owned subsidiaries, as well as any employee of the Company or its subsidiaries to whom the Company has awarded shares of common stock, from hedging the value of their shares, however acquired.

The Company also has a policy that prohibits the sale or pledging of shares of the Company's stock if after giving effect to the sale or pledge, the market value of the number of unpledged shares then held by the employee would be less than two times his or her annualized base salary in the case of an executive officer of the Company; and less than one times his or her annualized base salary in the case of an officer of a majority-owned subsidiary. These executive officers are named in the Summary Compensation Table for 2012, below, and are therefore sometimes referred to as the named executive officers. The named executive officers are as follows:

(1) Except for Mr. MacKenna, incentive compensation of the named executive officers in 2012 was based on a percentage of an executive incentive compensation pool consisting of 4% of the Company's defined earnings, namely, income before income taxes reduced by earnings attributable to non-controlling interests (and excluding accruals for the incentive compensation itself) provided that a minimum 5% average three-year return on equity is achieved.

Mr. MacKenna's 2012 incentive compensation was based on achieving three goals by November 30, 2012: providing the Board with a 2013 budget and delivering two reports on areas of particular concern to the Board. The Compensation Committee determined that all three goals were achieved.

- (2) Except for Mr. MacKenna, whose 2012 incentive compensation was payable all in cash, incentive compensation is payable 50% in the form of a service-vesting, three-year restricted stock award, 20% in cash based on the level of achievement of personal goals, and 30% in cash without pre-condition.
- (3) The number of shares of restricted stock is determined by using the simple average closing price of the Company's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market during December 2012 ($9.24 per share). Under his agreement with the Company, this portion of Patrick T. Manning's incentive compensation was paid in cash.
- (4) The Company has established a bonus pool of 1% of defined earnings, the award of which is in the discretion of the Compensation Committee of the Board. In 2012, the discretionary pool was distributed to the above executives (other than Mr. MacKenna) based on their percentage participation in the executive incentive compensation pool.

In connection with joining the Company, Mr. MacKenna was paid a bonus in the amount indicated and was awarded 100,000 shares of the Company's common stock that are subject to service-vesting restrictions that lapse in five equal annual installments on the first five anniversaries of the day immediately preceding the September 20, 2012 award date.

- (5) Mr. Colombo resigned from the Company in February 2013 and pursuant to his severance arrangements, waived any incentive compensation for 2012.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis.

Introduction. This discussion and analysis of executive compensation is designed to show how the compensation of the named executive officers has been determined and why certain compensation decisions were made. This section also includes a discussion of the Company's compensation policies and practices as they relate to risk and risk-taking by all employees of the Company, including the named executive officers. That discussion is found below in the section entitled Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management.

At the 2011 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, the holders of 80% of the shares present in person or represented by proxy provided an advisory vote in accordance with the Company's recommendation to hold a say-on-pay vote annually, and the Company is doing so. At the 2012 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, holders of 84.6% of the Company's common stock present at the meeting or represented by proxy provided an advisory vote to approve the Company's 2011 executive compensation.

The compensation of the named executive officers is determined by the Compensation Committee, which is composed of four independent directors of the Company.

Compensation Objectives. The Committee's compensation objectives for each of the named executive officers as well as for other management employees is as follows:

- To provide the employee with a rate of pay for the work he or she does that is appropriate in comparison to similar companies in the industry and that is considered fair by the executive and the Company;
  - To give the executive a significant incentive to make the Company financially successful;
  - To give the executive an incentive to remain with the Company; and
- In the case of Mr. MacKenna, to provide him with an incentive to leave a successful career at his prior employer and join the Company, and to relocate his family to the Houston, Texas area.

Employment Agreements. The Committee believes that compensating an executive under a multi-year employment agreement has the benefit of assuring the executive of continuity, both as to his or her employment and the amounts and elements of compensation. At the same time, a multi-year employment agreement gives the Company some assurance that the executive will remain with the Company for the duration of the agreement, and enables the Company to budget salary costs over the term of the agreement.

How the Terms of the Employment Agreements Were Determined.

Compensation Principles and Policies. In considering employment agreements for the named executive officers (other than Mr. MacKenna) for the period 2011 through 2013, members of the Committee revised some of their compensation principles reflected in prior agreements based on the experience with these prior employment agreements and the changes in the economy, in particular in the construction industry. The significant changes made were as follows:

- The Base Deferred Salary of the prior agreements, which was based on a relatively easily achieved EBITDA target, was eliminated. The deferral of this portion of salary was originally designed to keep base salaries low and thereby conserve cash if financial results fell substantially short of expectations. Because the Company had grown substantially and had a strong cash position, it was deemed no longer necessary to have this kind of safety net for the Company. The deferred salary amount was added to base salary.
- Members noted that in the economic climate of 2010, it was difficult to predict city, county, state and federal funding of highway and infrastructure projects on which the Company's business depends. This in turn made it difficult to establish a fair and reasonable annual earnings-per-share target, much less a long-term target on which to base incentive compensation, as was done in the prior agreements. As a result, the Committee determined to base incentive compensation on a percentage of the Company's pre-tax net income, but contingent on the Company maintaining at least a 5% trailing three-year average return on equity, thereby making the annual incentive dependent to a certain extent on prior years' results.
  - The Committee added a long-term element to incentive compensation, which had been absent in the prior agreements, by making a significant portion of any earned incentive compensation payable in the form of a service-vesting three-year restricted stock award in order to encourage executives to take a long-range perspective in fulfilling their responsibilities.
- The Committee provided the executives with a change in control agreement providing for a severance payment, but only if the executive's employment is terminated without cause just prior to, or within two years after, the change in control. Members of the Committee believe that it is in the Company's best interests to provide executives with this level of financial assurance in order to preserve their neutrality in negotiating and implementing a transaction that would result in a change in control.

Incentive Compensation. Based on predetermined percentages for each of them, the employment agreements of the named executive officers (other than Mr. MacKenna) provide for participation in an incentive compensation pool made up of 4% of the Company's income before income taxes reduced by earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests and after deducting accruals for the executive compensation itself. The size of the pool was designed to yield potential incentive compensation in an amount approximately equal to the incentive compensation the executives earned for 2010 under their prior agreements, as well as to be competitive with the Company's peer group, described below. The Committee concluded that this structure would have the effect of providing an incentive that rises and falls with the Company's financial results, assures a minimum return to stockholders before any incentive compensation is paid, but does not require making estimates of future results.

The Committee also established a discretionary bonus pool equal to 1% of the same adjusted income figure to be distributed based on management's recommendations, but subject to approval by the Committee, in order to be able to reward superior efforts or achievements.

Mr. McKenna. The Committee decided that Mr. MacKenna's incentive compensation should also be based on the achievement of a financial goal and personal goals. Under his employment agreement, these goals are to be determined from year to year by the Committee in consultation with Mr. MacKenna. For the financial goal, the Committee determined to use earnings per share because the Committee believes it is the number of greatest significance and interest to shareholders and the stock market in general. In the Committee's view, the economic climate in 2012 was sufficiently improved to make it reasonable to forecast Company performance for purposes of setting internal incentive compensation goals. Mr. MacKenna's target incentive compensation of 120% of salary was determined to be reasonable in the personal judgement of Committee members. Payment of at least 30% of the target incentive for 2013 is guaranteed in order to reflect the fact that as a new chief executive officer, Mr. MacKenna's ability to affect the financial results of the Company and thereby meet financial incentive goals in his first year on the job may be limited.

In addition, Mr. MacKenna's employment agreement provides for two restricted stock awards, one in 2012 and one in 2013. The Committee provided for these awards so that Mr. MacKenna would have a significant equity stake in the Company from the outset of his tenure. The 2012 award is a service-vesting award, and is an incentive for him to remain with the Company. The 2013 award is a cliff-vesting award based on the Company achieving an average return on equity target at the end of a five-year period, and is designed to provide Mr. MacKenna with a long-term incentive. The Committee believes that both incentives are a benefit to the Company.

Incentive Goals — Personal. All executives are required to establish personal goals annually that are approved by the Committee. The extent of the achievement of the goals is assessed after the end of the year by the officer to whom the executive reports and by the Committee, and in the case of the Chief Financial Officer, also by the Audit Committee.

Payment of Incentive Compensation.

For executives other than Mr. MacKenna, in order to align the incentives with the Committee's compensation principles described above, the executive's share of the incentive compensation pool is payable as follows:

- 50% in the form of a three-year service-vesting restricted stock award;
- 20% based on the level of achievement of personal goals; and
- 30% in cash without pre-conditions.

For Mr. MacKenna, one-half of his incentive compensation in 2013 and beyond is based on the Company achieving an earnings-per-share (EPS) goal, and the other half on achieving personal goals. Seventy percent is payable in cash and 30% is payable in a three-year service-vesting restricted stock award. No incentive compensation is paid for the EPS goal if less than 80% is achieved; above the 80% threshold, payment is calculated by multiplying the percentage achieved by the target incentive amount up to, but not in excess of, a 120% level of achievement. For personal goals, there is no required minimum level of achievement.

In light of Pat Manning's handing over his Chief Executive Officer responsibilities to Mr. MacKenna, the Committee agreed to guarantee Mr. Manning payment of at least $120,000 of 2013 incentive compensation, payable during 2013 in monthly installments of $10,000 each.

Compensation Levels.

Compensation Consultant — Independence. Hay Group was first retained by the Committee in 2007 to provide benchmarking services to the Committee in connection with the 2007-2010 employment agreements of executive officers. Because of that work, the Board's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee retained Hay Group to do a similar analysis and report relating to the compensation of the Company's non-employee directors.

In mid-2010, the Committee again retained Hay Group because of its familiarity with the Company and the general satisfaction with its earlier work. Hay Group reported directly to the Committee and the Committee had the sole authority to retain or dismiss Hay Group and to approve its fee arrangements. The Committee has assessed the independence of Hay Group pursuant to Securities and Exchange Commission rules and has concluded that its work for the Committee did not raise any conflict of interest.

Hay Group has performed no other services of any kind for the Committee, the Board, or the Company. Hay Group's fees for services in 2007 for both the executive and the director compensation reports totaled $40,184 and for the 2010 report was $56,539.

The Committee has used and continues to use the services of its regular outside counsel firm for certain compensation issues, primarily tax matters, and considers the firm to be independent as well.

Compensation Consultant — Benchmarking. In 2010, Hay Group was asked to benchmark the compensation of the Company's executive officers as well as to make recommendations as to their compensation starting in 2011. In seeking a useful peer group, both management, the Committee and Hay Group recognized that there are few publicly-traded companies in the heavy civil construction business that are close to the Company's size. Most other publicly-traded heavy civil construction companies are much larger than the Company and are companies with which the Company rarely competes. Nevertheless, management and the Committee agreed on the following peer group in order to have a basis for comparison:

Argan, Inc.	Matrix Service Company
Dycom Industries, Inc.	Orion Marine Group, Inc.
Granite Construction Incorporated	Preformed Line Products Company
Great Lakes Dredge & Dock Corporation	Primoris Services Corporation
Insituform Technologies, Inc.	Pure Cycle Corporation
Layne Christensen Company	The Goldfield Corporation
MasTec, Inc.

Hay Group's analysis, which is based on multiple surveys, revealed that the executives' base salaries when compared to publicly-traded companies in the construction industry were between 117% and 122% of the median; their total cash compensation was between 80% and 94% of the median; and their total direct compensation was between 51% and 75% of the median. The total direct compensation comparison reflects the fact that under the agreements then in effect, the Company paid executives no long-term incentive compensation.

Hay Group not only compared the executive officers' compensation to the peer group, but at the Committee's request, also made recommendations on salary levels. Senior management also made compensation proposals for themselves and for each of the other named executive officers. After reviewing these recommendations and proposals, the Committee approved base salaries that were in some cases less than Hay Group's recommended salaries and in some cases more than senior management's proposals. The resulting salaries represent approximately a 5% increase over the sum of the Base Payroll Salary and Base Deferred Salary of the prior employment agreements. The Committee considered this increase to be appropriate in light of the fact that the executives' salaries had not been increased since 2007, the first year of the three-year term of their prior employment agreements. In the case of Messrs. Colombo and Brian R. Manning, $15,000 was added to their base salaries to compensate them for the elimination of full-time use of company vehicles or car allowances that they had been entitled to in prior years.

Mr. MacKenna. In determining the level and the elements of Mr. MacKenna's compensation, the Committee took into account the following:

- His twenty-five years of experience in the construction industry and the breadth of that experience, which covers most area of civil construction and business management.
  - His then current compensation.
- The compensation levels in the peer group of companies, listed above, that was used in establishing the compensation for the Company's other executive officers in their 2011 employment agreements.
  - The desire to have him own stock of the Company as a long-term incentive.
  - The fact that he would be required to move his family from New York to Texas.
    - His compensation requests.

- The fact that he would be giving up incentive compensation from his prior employer by joining the Company near the end of the third quarter of the calendar year.

Mr. MacKenna's employment agreement establishes a salary level only slightly higher than that of the Chief Executive Officer he succeeded. Starting in 2014, his salary is subject to annual merit and cost-of-living increases in the discretion of the Committee. The agreement has no fixed term, but continues until terminated either by Mr. MacKenna or by the Company. When combined with its approval authority over financial and personal goals, the Committee believes that this arrangement is beneficial because it provides flexibility on compensation matters, but avoids a periodic re-negotiation of the other terms and conditions of the agreement.

In addition to the other factors discussed above, members exercised their personal judgment based on their experience in business matters in making decisions regarding appropriate compensation and incentive levels for Mr. MacKenna.

Change in Control Agreements.

As noted above, the Committee decided to enter into change of control severance agreements with the named executive officers in order to provide them with a level of financial assurance, under certain circumstances, in the event of a change in control of the Company. The change in control agreements, have no fixed terms and (other than Mr. MacKenna's) are independent of their employment agreements, except that severance that is payable under the change in control agreement is reduced by the amount of any severance payable under an employment agreement then in effect.

For Mr. MacKenna, the change-in-control provisions are part of his employment agreement, which, as noted above, has no fixed term. The financial assurance afforded by the change-in-control provisions is intended by the Committee to preserve the executive's neutrality in negotiating and implementing a transaction that would result in a change in control of the Company and that could result in the termination of his or her employment for reasons other than cause. The Committee believes that a change in control payment is only appropriate if the termination of the executive's employment is without cause or because of a breach by the Company of his or her employment agreement. The Committee did not want a change in control agreement to serve as an incentive to the executive to leave the Company's employ after a change in control.

The Committee believes that the amount of the change in control severance should not be so large as to be a windfall for the executive and/or a deterrent to a potential acquiror of the Company. The Committee determined that three times base salary together with the vesting of any restricted stock then held by the executive is an appropriate severance amount. This decision was based in part on the fact that the severance amount is substantially below the maximum that is payable without incurring punitive tax consequences under the Internal Revenue Code; that it is substantially below what some other companies provide; and that the amount is adequate to afford the executive sufficient income while seeking other employment. The Committee understands that some of the compensation payable to certain executives under the change-in-control agreements may not be deductible under Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Compensation Policies and Practices — Risk Management.

This section describes the Company's risks that have the potential to be affected by the Company's compensation policies and practices applicable to all employees, and in particular, by its incentive compensation arrangements.

Background. Compared to other businesses, the Company's business risks that are likely to be affected by compensation policies and practices are relatively straight forward. Consequently, as in the past, the Committee elected not to hire an outside adviser in undertaking its review.

The Committee has reviewed each element of employee compensation that is designed to provide an incentive to the employee to do his or her best work for the Company. The Committee then discussed the extent to which, if at all, the employee would be able to manipulate the Company's records or financial statements to artificially achieve or contribute to the achievement of that incentive. Committee members then determined whether in their judgment, the risk of such manipulation is material.

As a general matter, the Company's policy with respect to incentive compensation, as opposed to regular wages and salary, is to encourage behavior that will benefit and improve the Company's financial results and financial condition and thereby benefit its shareholders. Because regular wages and salary are paid periodically, because they are considered to be competitive, and because they are not paid for the achievement of a specific goal, they do not by themselves affect risk-taking.

After the Committee's review, it is the belief of members that the Company's compensation policies and practices are not reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Company. The basis for this belief is discussed below.

The Company's Risks. Many of the risks that the Company faces are outside the control of management, such as economic and weather conditions; the failure of government agencies to let construction contracts or the cancellation of contracts already let; local, state and federal funding of infrastructure construction and repairs; actions of suppliers; terrorist attacks, and the like. For a full description of the Company's significant risk factors, see Item 1A. Risk Factors in the Company's 2012 Annual Report on Form 10-K, which is available with this Proxy Statement.

The Company's other major risks can be grouped into four general categories:

- Bidding on and performing civil construction projects in which the contract for the project is awarded to the lowest bidder. In low-bid contracts, the prime risk is a failure to accurately estimate the overall risks, requirements and costs involved in the project. If the Company bids too high it will not win the contract; if it bids too low and wins the contract, lower profits than anticipated or a loss can result.
- Design-build, CM/GC (construction manager/general contractor) and other alternative project delivery methods. These projects are ones in which winning the contract depends not only on the bid price, but also on reputation, marketing efforts, quality of design, and the minimization of public inconvenience. Projects of this kind are often bid and performed by joint ventures in which the Company is only one of two or more participants. This means that the Company is subject not only to the risk of making an inaccurate bid, but also to the additional risk of design errors by the design/engineering firm, as well as liability for the entire contract if other participants in the joint venture fail to carry out their portions of the contract, or fail to do so in conformity with the contract.
- The Company's strategy of expanding its market, opportunities, competencies and geographic diversification organically and through acquisitions. Growth can require the investment of significant capital, and in the case of an acquisition, if the negotiation of the purchase agreement and the subsequent integration of the acquired entity are not successfully performed, significant losses can result.
- The percentage-of-completion accounting and revenue recognition rules under which the Company is required to prepare its financial statements. Percentage-of-completion accounting requires management to make quarterly and annual estimates of the cost of completing projects that are on going at the date of the financial statements. These estimates directly affect reported profits, and profits are the basis for the award of much of the Company's incentive compensation.

Incentive Compensation and Risk.

Employees Without Employment Agreements. The Company compensates its direct labor and clerical staff on an hourly basis; the rest of its employees are paid a salary. All of these employees are eligible to earn bonuses. Bonuses are paid in cash and are based on an employee's job performance in his or her area of responsibility. For example, the bonuses of project managers are based on the gross profit of the project and the level of competency with which it is administered, including things such as the timeliness of invoice submissions and job-cost estimates and updates. These jobs by their very nature are not ones that require risk-taking for the employee to be successful; rather they require attention to detail and the avoidance and minimization of risk. Although bonuses for these employees are generally not promised or quantified in advance, the Committee believes that the tradition of paying bonuses encourages employees to be careful and diligent in their job performance. Project managers' estimates of the cost to complete their contracts are reviewed by senior managers, and from year to year are compared to prior year's actual results. In this way, senior management can determine whether a project manager's estimates are generally accurate. A material variance between estimates and actual results can lead to termination of employment.

Employees with Employment Agreements. The Company compensates certain of its officers and certain of the officers of its operating units under the terms of written employment agreements. When these employment agreements come up for renewal, the Committee considers whether and to what extent the incentives in those agreements continue to meet the Company's incentive and risk management objectives. In the Nevada office, incentive pay for senior officers is in the discretion of the Company's President and is based generally on the extent to which elements of the agreed-upon budget for the year have or have not been achieved or exceeded. Incentive pay for senior officers of the Utah office is based on the achievement of the office's budgeted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA. The Committee believes that EBITDA is a good measure of operating performance because it is EBITDA on which operating personnel have the most direct effect. EBITDA for a given year is derived from the budget, which represents the best estimate of results for the following year as determined jointly by senior management of the office and the Company. Therefore, while budgets may reflect an optimistic assessment of the future, by their nature, they should not require extreme effort to achieve. In addition, excessive risk-taking could directly and adversely affect EBITDA and therefore the officer's incentive compensation.

The incentive compensation of the named executive officers is also established by employment agreements. As noted above, under their current agreements, other than Mr. MacKenna's, incentive compensation in 2012 was based on the Company's net earnings. The Committee believes that the Company's incentive goals do not create or encourage excessive risk-taking for the following reasons.

- The bid preparation process, whether for a low-bid contract or a design-build contract requires careful, meticulous and diligent estimation and calculation of all aspects of the project.
- The estimates required for percentage cost-of-completion accounting are subject to review, verification and audit.
- The incentive compensation for the named executive officers in 2012 was based on net income, with no floor and no cap.
- No extreme effort or risk-taking by executive officers will necessarily result in a large increase in net income.
- No incentive pay is awarded for completing a single task, such as winning a contract, making a capital investment or completing an acquisition. The officer only benefits if the contract, investment or acquisition is profitable and thereby contributes to the financial success of the Company. This avoids creating an incentive to achieve short-term results at the expense of longer-term results.

The Committee has determined that cost-of-completion accounting is the most likely to encourage manipulation of financial results and therefore deserves further discussion of the monitoring and mitigation of the risk. In the course of its annual audits, the Company's outside auditor reviews the current year's cost-to-complete estimates and compares them to actual, prior-year results, so that over a period of several years, any manipulation of results would become evident. In addition, since most of the Company's large projects are performed over the course of more than one calendar year, an under-estimate of the cost-to-complete in order to inflate profits in one year would have the effect of reducing profits in the following year. In addition, members of senior management of the Company hold a significant number of shares of the Company's common stock, so that any potential incentive to manipulate short-term results is offset by the knowledge that to do so could have long-term, adverse consequences and a negative effect on the value of their own shares of the Company's common stock. The Committee has formed a judgment that the integrity of the members of senior management is the most valuable element in mitigating this risk. Finally, the Company's policy on so-called claw-backs requires a repayment of any over-payment of incentive compensation that was based on financial statements that are subsequently restated, whether or not the employee was culpable with respect to the error, event, act or omission that caused the restatement to be made.

Equity Compensation. In the past, the Company awarded options to a wide variety of employees that vested over a number of years in order to give them a long-term perspective on the success of the Company. More recently, for the same purpose, the Company has awarded vice-president-level officers of the Company's operating units shares of common stock that may not be sold or transferred for five years and that are subject to forfeiture under certain circumstances, such as termination of employment for cause or resignation. As noted above, in the current employment agreements of the named executive officers, one-half of any incentive compensation will be paid in the form of three-year restricted stock awards.

The Committee monitors compensation-related risks annually when year-end financial results are available and the achievement of personal goals is assessed. Since senior officers' employment agreements have traditionally had three-year terms, the Committee is also able periodically to determine whether the Company's incentive programs are achieving the desired results and to make changes if they are not.

Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers.

Employment Agreements of Named Executive Officers Other Than Mr. MacKenna. In 2012, the named executive officers (other than Mr. MacKenna) were compensated under employment agreements that became effective on January 1, 2011 (except for Ms. Brumley's agreement, which became effective as of February 1, 2011). The agreements establish a base salary for the term of the agreement and provide for annual incentive compensation expressed as a percentage of an incentive compensation pool made up of 4% of the Company's income before income taxes reduced by earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests and after adding back accruals for the executive incentive compensation itself (defined earnings) provided that a trailing three-year average return on equity of at least 5% has been met. One-half of an executive's share of the incentive compensation pool is paid in the form of a three-year restricted stock award; up to 20% is paid in cash depending on the level of achievement of the executive's personal goals; and the remaining 30% is paid in cash without pre-conditions. All executive officers of the Company are eligible to receive a bonus paid out of a discretionary bonus pool made up of 1% of defined earnings based on management's recommendations, but subject to the approval of the Compensation Committee.

In March 2012, the employment agreements were amended to reflect certain changes in titles and reporting relationships. The agreements were also amended to clarify the definition of defined earnings and to provide that if in a given year there is an extraordinary item or event that has a significant effect on the net earnings of the Company, whether the effect is positive or negative, the Committee has the sole discretion to determine whether to exclude some or all of the effect of the extraordinary item or event from the calculation of defined earnings and/or from the calculation of the three-year average return on equity, both for the year in which the item or event is recorded and for any subsequent year. An example of such an event was the substantial write-down in goodwill in 2011. In 2012, the Committee exercised its discretion by excluding $6.7 million in earnings for non-controlling interest owners that resulted from an amendment to the operating agreement of Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC that provided for the exclusion of goodwill impairments from the determination of earnings available for distribution to members.

Mr. MacKenna's Employment Agreement. Effective September 1, 2012, Mr. MacKenna was elected to succeed Patrick T. Manning as Chief Executive Officer of the Company, and the Company entered into an employment agreement with him. The employment agreement has no fixed term, but continues in effect until terminated by the Company or by Mr. MacKenna. See the section below entitled Potential Payments upon Termination or Change-in-Control. The employment agreement provides for a signing bonus of $250,000; relocation expense reimbursement; a base annual salary of $600,000 with merit and cost of living increases subject to the discretion of the Committee, starting with the calendar year 2014; a restricted stock award in each of 2012 and 2013; and an incentive compensation target of 120% of base salary.

The 2012 restricted stock award was for 100,000 shares of Company common stock that are subject to restrictions that lapse in five equal annual installments on the first five anniversaries of the day immediately preceding the September 20, 2012 award date. The 2013 award was for an additional 100,000 shares of Company common stock that are subject to restrictions that lapse on March 31, 2018 if the Company has achieved a 5% average return on equity over the previous five years.

Mr. MacKenna's incentive compensation for the four-month period in 2012 that he was an employee of the Company was based on his providing to the Board reports on certain matters that the Board had an immediate interest in, including a 2013 Company budget.

Mr. MacKenna's incentive compensation has a target amount equal to 120% of his base salary. One-half of any incentive compensation is based on the Company achieving an earnings-per-share (EPS) goal, and one-half on Mr. MacKenna achieving personal goals, all of which are established by the Committee in consultation with him. The Company has guaranteed payment of $216,000 of his potential 2013 incentive compensation to reflect the fact that his ability to affect 2013 financial results may be limited by his short-term tenure at the Company.

No incentive compensation is paid for the EPS Goal if less than 80% is achieved; above the 80% threshold, payment is calculated by multiplying the percentage achieved by the target incentive amount up to, but not in excess of a 120% level of achievement. Of any incentive compensation earned, 70% is payable in cash and 30% is payable in shares of common stock of the Company, that are restricted from sale or other transfer that lapse after a period of three years. The number of shares is calculated using the average closing price of the Company's common stock during December of the year for which the incentive compensation is paid.

The following table shows the material financial features of the employment agreements of the named executive officers:

Name	Annual Salary ($)	Percentage of Defined Earnings Incentive Pool (%)	2012 Fixed Amount Incentive Compensation ($)	Guaranteed 2013 Incentive Compensation ($)	2012 Fixed Stock Award (#)	2013 Fixed Stock Award (#)
Patrick T. Manning	550,000	22.5	N/A	120,000	N/A	N/A
Peter E. MacKenna (1)	600,000	N/A	250,000	216,000	100,000	100,000
Joseph P. Harper, Sr. (2)	525,000	22.0	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
Anthony F. Colombo (3)	360,000	16.5	N/A	—	N/A	N/A
Elizabeth D. Brumley	315,000	16.5	N/A	—	N/A	N/A
Brian R. Manning	315,000	16.5	N/A	—	N/A	N/A

(1) Mr. MacKenna's incentive compensation is based on the Company achieving an earnings-per-share goal. His target incentive compensation for 2013 and thereafter is 120% of his salary. Mr. MacKenna also received a signing bonus of $250,000.

(2) Mr. Harper's employment agreement expired on December 31, 2012.

(3) During 2012, Mr. Colombo was paid additional salary of $45,382 as a cost of living adjustment when he relocated at the Company's request to California. He resigned from the Company in February 2013.

Potential Payments upon Termination or Change-in-Control.

The following table describes the payments and other obligations of the Company under the employment agreements and change of control agreements of the named executive officers at, following, or in connection with, any termination of employment or change in control of the Company.

In every instance of termination, the Company is required to pay the executive any accrued but unpaid salary through the date of termination and any other legally-required payments through that date.

After termination of employment, irrespective of the reason for termination, each of the named executive officers is prohibited from competing with the Company or soliciting its employees or customers for a period of twelve months or for the post-employment period, if any, for which the executive is entitled to be paid salary, whichever period is longer.

The table also shows the estimated cost to the Company had the executive's employment terminated on December 31, 2012. Mr. Harper's employment agreement expired on that date. Mr. MacKenna's employment agreement has no fixed term, and the employment agreements of the other named executive officers expire on December 31, 2013.

Event	Payment and/or Other Obligations (1)
1. Termination—

- By the Company without cause. (2)
  - Involuntary resignation(2) by the executive.
Mr. MacKenna
  - All other named executive officers:
- In either event, the Company is obligated as follows:
- A. To pay him in a lump sum eighteen months of his base salary.
  - B. To pay the executive his or her base salary in a lump sum for the balance of the term of the employment agreement or one year's base salary, whichever amount is larger.

Event	Payment and/or Other Obligations (1)
All named executive officers:	C. To continue to cover the executive under the Company's medical and dental plans provided the executive reimburses the Company the COBRA cost thereof, in which event, the Company must reimburse the amount of the COBRA payments to the executive.
All named executive officers:	D. To pay the executive any incentive compensation that would have been earned had the executive remained an employee of the Company through the end of the calendar year in which his or her employment terminated, and to pay in cash any incentive compensation otherwise payable in restricted stock.
Estimated December 31, 2012 termination payments:	For A, B, and C, above, the executive would be entitled to the dollar amounts set forth below. For D, the executive would be entitled to his or her 2012 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of termination.
Mr. MacKenna	$900,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for an 18-month period, at a cost to the Company of approximately $34,293.
Mr. Patrick T. Manning	$550,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a one-year period, at a cost to the Company of approximately $18,637.
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	None. Since Mr. Harper's employment agreement expired on December 31, 2012, no payment or continuation of benefits would be required.
Mr. Colombo	$360,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a one-year period, at a cost to the Company of approximately $5,824. Mr. Colombo resigned from the Company in February 2013.
Ms. Brumley	$315,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a one-year period, at a cost to the Company of approximately $5,824.
Mr. Brian R. Manning	$315,000 plus COBRA reimbursement for a one-year period, at a cost to the Company of approximately $18,637.
2. Termination by reason of the executive's death or permanent disability.	The Company is obligated to pay the executive or his or her personal representative, as the case may be, a portion of any incentive compensation that would have been earned had the executive remained an employee of the Company through the end of the calendar year in which the executive's employment terminated, based on the number of days during the year that the executive was an employee of the Company, and to pay in cash any incentive compensation otherwise payable in shares of restricted stock.
Estimated December 31, 2012 termination payments:	None. The executive would be entitled to his or her 2012 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of termination.

3. Termination by the Company for cause:(3) All of the executive's stock options terminate and all shares awarded by the Company that are then still subject to restrictions imposed on the shares by the Company are forfeited.
- Estimated December 31, 2012 termination payments: None.
4. Voluntary resignation by the executive: If the resignation occurs during a calendar year, the Company is not obligated to pay the executive any incentive compensation. If the resignation occurs at or after the end of a calendar year, the Company is obligated to pay the executive any earned incentive compensation for such year.
- Estimated December 31, 2012 termination payments: None. The executive would be entitled to his or her 2012 incentive compensation, to the extent earned, irrespective of the resignation.

Event	Payment and/or Other Obligations (1)
5.	None
Change-in-Control.	Each named executive officer is entitled to an amount payable in a lump sum equal to three times salary, less any severance payable under any employment agreement then in effect. In addition, un-exercisable but in-the-money stock options become exercisable in full, and the restrictions that were imposed by the Company on any shares awarded by the Company to the executive expire.
Termination without cause or because of a breach by the Company of the executive's employment agreement within a period commencing one month before (except as to Mr. MacKenna, ninety days before) and ending two years after a Change-in-Control.	The lump sum amounts payable are set forth below. Except for Messrs. MacKenna and Harper, the amounts reflect three years' salary less the one year's salary that is payable under the executives' employment agreements.
Estimated December 31, 2012 Change-in-control termination payments:	Under Mr. MacKenna's employment agreement, his severance payment for a termination without cause (three times salary) is the same amount as is payable to him for a termination without cause under the change-in-control terms of his agreement.
	Since Mr. Harper's employment agreement expired on December 31, 2012 there could be no termination without cause on that date.
	No cost would be incurred by the Company as a result of the acceleration of stock option vesting provision because all of the outstanding stock options held by named executive officers were already vested (exercisable) in full at December 31, 2012.
	No additional expense is incurred by reason of the acceleration of the lapse of restrictions on restricted stock, but recognition of the expense incurred on the issuance of the restricted stock, which would otherwise have been amortized over the restriction period, is accelerated as well.
Mr. MacKenna	$1,800,000
Mr. Patrick T. Manning	$1,100,000
Mr. Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	—
Mr. Colombo	$720,000
Ms. Brumley	$630,000
Mr. Brian R. Manning	$630,000

(1)The executives' salary and eligibility for incentive compensation are set forth above in the section entitled Employment Agreements of the Named Executive Officers. For the amount of any incentive compensation paid to the named executive officers for 2012, see the section entitled Summary Compensation Table for 2012, below.

(2)A termination without cause is a termination for any reason other than for cause, permanent disability, death or voluntary resignation.

An executive resigns involuntarily when his or her resignation is the result of a breach by the Company of a material provision of his or her employment agreement and the Company fails to cure the breach within thirty days, or, if the nature of the breach is one that cannot practicably be cured in thirty days, if the Company fails to diligently and in good faith commence a cure of the breach within the thirty-day period.

(3)The term "cause" is defined in the named executive officers' employment agreements, and means what is commonly referred to as cause in employment matters, such as gross negligence, dishonesty, insubordination, inadequate performance of responsibilities after notice, and the like.

Summary Compensation Table for 2012.

The following table sets forth all compensation awarded to, earned by, or paid to the following executive officers for 2012:

- The Company's three most highly compensated executive officers (other than the officers listed above) who were serving at the end of 2012.

The Company pays compensation to these executive officers according to the terms of their employment agreements. The Company does not pay any additional compensation to any executive officer for serving on the Board. The amounts include any compensation that was deferred by the executive through contributions to his or her defined contribution plan account under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. All dollar amounts are rounded to the nearest dollar.

(1) This is the cost of the use of a Company-owned vehicle, and after his relocation to California, a car allowance of $1,000 a month.

(2) This consists of an $800 monthly car allowance for part of the year.

(3) Mr. MacKenna's employment agreement provides that in lieu of participating in the Company's health insurance program, he may elect to have the Company reimburse him the cost of maintaining the health coverage of his former employer pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA) for so long as it is available to him.

Grants of Plan-Based Awards for 2012.

The following table shows each grant of an award for 2012 to Mr. MacKenna and the other named executive officers under a Company plan. No awards of stock options were made to named executive officers in 2012.

Mr. MacKenna.

Name	Grant Date	Estimated Possible Payouts Under Non-Equity Incentive Plan Awards			All Other Stock Awards:
		Threshold	Target	Maximum	Number of Shares of Stock or Units of Stock Awards (#)	Grant Date Fair Value of Stock Awards ($)

	9/20/2012				100,000(2)	977,000(3)

(1) This amount is a one-time incentive payment provided for in the executive's September 1, 2012 employment agreement. It was conditioned on the executive furnishing the Board with three reports on or before November 30, 2012. The Compensation Committee of the Board has determined that the pre-conditions for the payment were met. There is no provision in the employment agreement for any payment of less than the full amount shown if fewer than all three reports are delivered, or if one or more reports are not delivered on time. Accordingly, there was no different threshold and/or maximum level for this award.

(2) This stock award is provided for in the executive's employment agreement and is subject to restrictions on the sale or other transfer of the shares. The restrictions lapse in five equal annual installments over a five-year period provided that the executive is an employee of the Company on the date the restrictions on an installment lapse. The award is not subject to the satisfaction of any other condition or performance goal.

(3) This is the aggregate grant date fair value computed in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 718, namely the number of shares of common stock multiplied by the closing price of the Company's common stock on the award date. The accounting for stock awards is described in Note 14 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012.

Named Executive Officers Other Than Mr. MacKenna. Incentive compensation for 2012 for all named executive officers other than Mr. MacKenna was based on a percentage of an executive incentive compensation pool equal to 4% of the Company's income before income taxes reduced for earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests and after adding back any accrual of the incentive compensation itself, to avoid circular calculations. This adjusted net income amount is referred to in the executives' employment agreements as defined earnings.

No incentive compensation is paid for a given year if there are no defined earnings or if at the end of a given year, a 5% trailing three-year average return on equity target is not met. If in a given year there is an extraordinary item or event that has a significant effect on the net earnings of the Company, whether the effect is positive or negative, the Committee has the discretion to determine whether to exclude some or all of the effect of the extraordinary item or event from the calculation of defined earnings and/or from the calculation of the three-year average return on equity, both for the year in which the item or event is recorded and for any subsequent year. For 2012, the Committee exercised its discretion by excluding $6.7 million in earnings for non-controlling interest owners that resulted from an amendment to the operating agreement of Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC that provided for the exclusion of goodwill impairments from the determination of earnings available for distribution to members. As a result, for purposes of the calculation of executives' incentive compensation, the Company had a three-year trailing average return on equity of 5.12% and defined earnings of $6,065,775.

The level of incentive compensation that can be earned is linear and in direct proportion to the amount of defined earnings. The payment of 20% of any earned incentive compensation is based on the level of achievement of personal goals, with no threshold level of achievement required.

These executive officers are also eligible for payments out of a discretionary bonus pool equal to 1% of defined earnings. Payments from this pool are in the discretion of the Committee based on senior management's recommendations and are determined after the end of the year. Discretionary bonuses, if any, are paid in cash. For 2012, the discretionary bonus pool was allocated to these executive officers based on their share of the executive incentive compensation pool.

The following table shows the amount of incentive compensation and discretionary bonuses paid to these named executive officers for 2012.

Name/Title	Percentage of Executive Incentive Compensation Pool (%)	Total 2012 Incentive Compensation (1) ($)	2012 Incentive Compensation Paid in Restricted Stock (2) (#)	2012 Discretionary Bonus Payment ($)
Patrick T. Manning	22.5	54,592	—	13,648
Joseph P. Harper, Sr.	22.0	53,379	2,888	13,345
Anthony F. Colombo(3)	16.5	N/A	N/A	N/A
Elizabeth D. Brumley	16.5	40,034	2,166	10,009
Brian R. Manning	16.5	40,034	2,166	10,009

(1) Incentive compensation is payable 50% in the form of a service vesting, three-year restricted stock award, 20% in cash based on the level of achievement of personal goals, and 30% in cash without pre-condition.

(2) The number of shares of restricted stock is determined by using the simple average closing price of the Company's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market during December 2012 ($9.24 per share). Under his agreement with the Company, this portion of Patrick T. Manning's incentive compensation was paid in cash.

(3) Mr. Colombo resigned from the Company in February 2013 and pursuant to his severance arrangements, waived any incentive compensation for 2012.

change of control of the Company.

(2) This option vested in equal installments on the first five anniversaries of its grant date. If there is a change in control of the Company, the option becomes exercisable in full; however, as indicated in the table above, the outstanding options are already exercisable in full.

PERFORMANCE GRAPH.

The following graph compares the percentage change in the Company's cumulative total stockholder return on its common stock for the last five years with the Dow Jones US Index, a broad market index, and the Dow Jones US Heavy Construction Index, a group of companies whose marketing strategy is focused on a limited product line, such as civil construction. Both indices are published in The Wall Street Journal. The returns are calculated assuming that an investment with a value of $100 was made in the Company's common stock and in each index at the end of 2007, and that all dividends were reinvested in additional shares of common stock, although the Company has paid no dividends during the periods shown. The graph lines merely connect the measuring dates and do not reflect fluctuations between those dates. The stock performance shown on the graph is not intended to be indicative of future stock performance.

BUSINESS RELATIONSHIPS WITH DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS.

Transactions with Related Persons. This section describes transactions since the beginning of 2012 and currently proposed transactions in which the Company or its affiliates was or is to be a participant, and in which any related person had or will have a direct or indirect material interest.

Joseph P. Harper, Sr. On November 6, 2012, the Board agreed to sell to Mr. Harper the key man life insurance policies on his life that the Company owned. The sale price is the policies' cash surrender values at the most recent quarter end. The policies have been maintained for several years through the use of the cash surrender values to pay the premiums.

Kip L. Wadsworth.

In December 2009, the Company acquired an 80% membership interest in Ralph L. Wadsworth Construction Company, LLC (RLW). The purchase agreement gave the sellers, Messrs. Kip, Con, Tod and Ty Wadsworth, who are brothers, the right to put (or sell) their remaining 20% membership interests in RLW to the Company, and concurrently gave the Company the right to call (or acquire) their 20% membership interests, in each case within the sixty-day period after the Company files its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the calendar year 2012.

On December 31, 2012, the Company exercised its call right and purchased the remaining 20% membership interests in RLW. The call was exercised prior to the filing of the Annual Report on Form 10-K in order to make payment of the purchase price to the Wadsworths in 2012, as well as to retain the continued employment of three of the Wadsworth brothers, Kip Wadsworth, Chief Executive Officer of RLW as well as Con Wadsworth, President of RLW, and Tod Wadsworth, Vice President Business Development of RLW, all of whose employment agreements were due to expire on December 31, 2012.

The purchase price of $23.1 million was determined by a formula set forth in the December 2009 purchase agreement, but was based on estimated financial results for 2012, and accordingly, was made subject to adjustment when financial results for 2012 were available. After re-computing the formula with the final results, the total purchase price was $23.7 million.

The Company also agreed to accelerate the payment of the 2012 incentive compensation of Mr. Wadsworth and his three brothers in 2012, with a similar adjustment to be made after year end based on final 2012 financial results.

For 2012, RLW paid Kip Wadsworth, as Chief Executive Officer of RLW, total cash compensation of $1,178,646, which is made up of his $244,000 annual salary and his cash incentive compensation of $934,646 under the terms of his employment agreement with RLW that was negotiated in connection with the acquisition. Pursuant to that employment agreement, the Company issued to Mr. Wadsworth as additional incentive compensation 2,157 shares of the Company's common stock with a value of $24,400 on the date of the award.

Mr. Wadsworth and some of his immediate family members are part owners of the following companies with which RLW had a business relationship in 2012. Their ownership interests are shown in the table below.

- Wadsworth Development Group, LLC (WDG). In 2012, as part of a monthly service agreement, RLW provided WDG with office supplies, payroll services, computers, IT services, telephone service and the like on a monthly basis for total billings to WDG in 2012 of $1,009,853.
- Wadsworth Corporate Center Building A, LLC (WCC), Wadsworth Dannon Way, LLC (WDW) and Wadsworth & Sons III (W&S3). In 2012, RLW leased —

- o its primary office space from WCC at an annual rent of $228,474 plus common area maintenance charges of $78,485;
- o a facility for RLW's equipment maintenance shop from WDW at an annual rent of $178,333 plus common area maintenance charges of $73,720; and
- o a facility from W&S3 to provide temporary living quarters for field employees at an annual rent of $47,457 plus common area maintenance charges of $20,980.

The WCC and WDW leases expire in 2022 and the W&S3 lease expires in 2014.

- Big Sky, LLC. Big Sky, LLC is an entity owned and managed by W&S3. Big Sky owns a plane that RLW rented in 2012 for certain business travel of its employees, including Mr. Wadsworth, and for which RLW paid Big Sky rental fees and expenses totaling $51,773.

Name (Relationship)	WDG	WCC	WDW	W&S3
Kip L. Wadsworth	24.50%	24.50%	19.60%	28.25%
Con L. Wadsworth (brother)	24.50%	24.50%	19.60%	24.69%

Ralph L. Wadsworth (father)	1.00%	1.00%	1.00%	—
Peggy Wadsworth (mother)	1.00%	1.00%	1.00%	—

RLW is the general contractor on a parking structure, in Glendale, Colorado, the owner of which is Real Estate Opportunity Capital Fund LP, also known as the ROC Fund 1, a private equity firm specializing in commercial and residential real estate. Kip Wadsworth has an investment in ROC Fund 1 of less than 1%.

During 2012, Ralph L. Wadsworth, Kip Wadsworth's father and the founder of RLW, provided engineering consulting services to two of RLW's projects for which RLW paid a total of $26,500. Kip Wadsworth is a brother of Guy Wadsworth, who is the owner of Wadsworth Brothers Construction Company. Wadsworth Brothers Construction Company and RLW are both 12.5% members of a $1.1 billion joint venture with Fluor Corporation and Ames Construction, Inc. on a construction project covering 23 miles of Interstate Highway 15 in Utah, which was approximately 98% complete at December 31, 2012.

Policies and Procedures for the Review, Approval or Ratification of Transactions with Related Persons.

General. The Board's policy on transactions between the Company and related persons is set forth in the written charter of the Audit Committee. The policy requires the Committee to review in advance the terms of any transaction between the Company (including its subsidiaries) and a director, executive officer, nominee for election as a director, or stockholder; and any of their affiliates or immediate family members that involves more than $100,000. If the Committee approves the transaction, it must do so in compliance with Delaware law and report it to the full Board.

Joseph P. Harper, Sr. The Committee determined in November 2012 that it was advisable to sell Mr. Harper the life insurance policies on his life because of his expressed intention to retire when his employment agreement expired on December 31, 2012. Because the Company did not intend to continue the policies, their value to the Company was the cash surrender values, the price at which the policies were offered to Mr. Harper.

Kip L. Wadsworth. As part of its due diligence review prior to the acquisition of its 80% interest in RLW, the Company reviewed the relationships and transactions between RLW, Mr. Wadsworth and Mr. Wadsworth's family members, and concluded that the prices being charged to RLW or by RLW, as the case may be, are competitive and no less favorable to RLW than could be obtained from unrelated third parties. Any new transaction will be taken under consideration in advance by the Committee and will be reviewed by an independent audit firm retained by the Committee to ensure, among other considerations, that it is in compliance with Delaware law and is likewise on terms that are no less favorable to the Company than could be obtained from unrelated third parties.

INFORMATION ABOUT AUDIT FEES AND AUDIT SERVICES

A representative of the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, Grant Thornton LLP, is expected to be available at the Annual Meeting and will have the opportunity to make a statement, if he or she wishes, and to respond to appropriate questions from stockholders.

All Other Fees. In 2012 and 2011, these fees consisted primarily of consultation with Grant Thornton on various tax issues related to new jurisdictions in which the Company operates.

Procedures for Approval of Services.

All requests for services that are to be provided by the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, which must include a detailed description of the services to be rendered and the amount of corresponding estimated fees, are submitted to both the Company's Chief Financial Officer and the Chairman of the Audit Committee. The Chief Financial Officer authorizes services that have been approved by the Committee within pre-set limits. If there is any question as to whether a proposed service fits within an approved service, the Chairman of the Committee is consulted for a determination. The Chief Financial Officer submits to the Committee any requests for services that have not already been approved by the Committee. The request must include an affirmation by the Chief Financial Officer and the independent registered public accounting firm that the request is consistent with the SEC's rules on auditor independence.
