Item 8.01. Other Event.

On July 28, 2015, Immunomedics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") reported that licensing partner, UCB, SA, ("UCB") announced that the two EMBODY™ Phase 3 clinical trials for epratuzumab in Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (SLE) did not meet the primary clinical efficacy endpoints in either dose in both studies. Treatment response in patients who received epratuzumab in addition to standard therapy was not statistically significant when compared to those who received placebo in addition to standard therapy. UCB is in the process of analyzing the full set of results from both studies. A high level review of the safety data did not identify any new safety concerns.

In May 2006, UCB and the Company entered into a Development, Collaboration and License Agreement (the "Collaboration Agreement") providing UCB an exclusive worldwide license to develop, manufacture, market and sell epratuzumab for the treatment of all autoimmune disease indications. The Collaboration Agreement was amended by the parties in December 2011.
