BITSTREAM INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

SEPTEMBER 30, 2003

(1) Significant Accounting Policies

Bitstream is composed of three different businesses: (1) its type and type technology business, which currently generates revenue primarily from the licensing of font rendering software and fonts to the embedded, set-top box, wireless device and information appliance markets, but has more recently focused its product development efforts on a leading-edge browser for handheld devices named ThunderHawk (Type); (2) its MyFonts.com business, which generates revenue from its Web site, Myfonts.com, as well as from providing its database technology for other sites including Bitstream.com. Myfonts.com was the first e-commerce site to aggregate fonts from multiple vendors on one easy-to-use Web site (MyFonts); and (3) its Pageflex business, which generates revenue from on-demand marketing and composition solutions such as Mpower an enterprise solution that allows companies to dynamically create customized and personalized business documents driven from the web and marketing databases, Persona, a variable data desktop publishing application designed to produce personalized documents, and .EDIT, a java-browser-based interactive WYSIWYG composition software that presents the user with templates that can be customized (Pageflex).

(a) Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements of the Company presented herein, without audit, have been prepared pursuant to the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) for quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and do not include all of the information and footnote disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles. The balance sheet information at December 31, 2002 has been derived from the Company s audited consolidated financial statements. These statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2002 included in the Company s Annual Report on Form 10-K, which was filed by the Company with the SEC on March 31, 2003.

The balance sheet as of September 30, 2003, the statements of operations for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, the statements of cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, and the notes to each are unaudited, but in the opinion of management include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the Company for these interim periods.

The results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 may not necessarily be indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2003.

(b) Off-Balance Sheet Risk and Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents and trade accounts receivable. The Company places a majority of its cash investments in one highly-rated financial institution. The Company has not experienced significant losses related to receivables from any individual customers or groups of customers in any specific industry or by geographic area. Due to these factors, no additional credit risk beyond amounts provided for collection losses is believed by management to be inherent in the Company's accounts receivable. At September 30, 2003, three customers accounted for 17%, 15% and 13%, respectively, of the Company's accounts receivable. At December 31, 2002, two customers accounted for 16% and 10%, respectively, of the Company's accounts receivable.

For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, no single customer accounted for 10% or more of the Company's consolidated revenue. For the three months ended September 30, 2003, one customer of the Company's Type segment accounted for 19% of the revenue for that segment, two customers of the Pageflex segment accounted for 18% and 13%, respectively, of the revenue for that segment and no customers accounted for 10% or more of the MyFonts segment revenue. For the three months ended September 30, 2002, three customers of the Company's Type segment accounted for 17%, 12% and 10%, respectively, of the revenue for that segment, one customer of the Pageflex segment accounted for 10% of the revenue for that segment, and no customers accounted for 10% or more of the revenue of the MyFonts segment. For the nine months ended September 30, 2003, one customer of the Pageflex segment accounted for 11% of the revenue for that segment and no customers accounted for 10% or more of the revenue for the Type or MyFonts segments. For the nine months ended September 30, 2002, two customers of the Company's Type segment accounted for 10% each of the revenue for that segment, and no customers accounted for 10% or more of the revenue of the Pageflex or MyFonts segments.

(c) Goodwill and other intangible assets (in thousands)

Goodwill consists of the following:

	September 30, 2003	December 31, 2002

Acquisition of Type Solutions, Inc.	$ 228	$ 228
Acquisition of Alaras Corporation.	499	499

Embedded goodwill from equity investment in DiamondSoft, Inc. (Note 3)		557

Total Goodwill	$ 727	$ 1,284

The Company follows the accounting and reporting requirements for goodwill and other intangible assets as required by SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Under SFAS No. 142, goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized, but are required to be reviewed annually for impairment, or more frequently if impairment indicators arise. Separable intangible assets that have finite lives are amortized over their useful lives. The Company has established and allocated goodwill to each of the following reporting units: Type, MyFonts, and Pageflex. The Company had recorded goodwill embedded in its equity investment in DiamondSoft, Inc. of $557 at December 31, 2002, which was not attributable to a reporting unit. The Company sold its investment and related embedded goodwill in DiamondSoft, Inc. on July 1, 2003. See Note 3 for additional disclosure on DiamondSoft, Inc.

The carrying amounts of goodwill attributable to each reporting unit are as follows:

(d) Accounting For Stock-Based Compensation

The Company accounts for its employee stock plans using the intrinsic value method. The SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, disclosures include pro forma net income and earnings per share as if the fair value-based method of accounting had been used. Stock issued to non-employees is accounted for in accordance with SFAS 123 and related interpretations. The following table sets forth the pro forma amounts of net loss and net loss per share for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 that would have resulted if the Company accounted for its employee stock plans under the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation (in thousands, except per share amounts):

	For the Three Months Ended September 30,		For the Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2003	2002	2003	2002
Net loss:
As reported	$ (191)	$ (616)	$ (976)	$ (1,096)

For purposes of computing pro forma net loss, the Company estimates the fair value of all option or warrant grants granted to employees as of September 30, 2003 and September 30, 2002 using the Black Scholes option pricing model prescribed by SFAS No. 123. No additional options

In November 2002, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Other (FIN No.45). FIN No. 45 requires that a guarantor is required to recognize, at the inception of the guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken by issuing the guarantee. The interpretation also requires additional disclosure to be made by a guarantor in its financial statements about its obligations under certain guarantees it has issued. The accounting requirements for the initial recognition of guarantees are applicable on a prospective basis for guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002. The disclosure requirements are effective for all guarantees outstanding, regardless of when they were issued or modified, for financial statement periods that end after December 15, 2002. The adoption of FIN 45 did not have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. The following is a summary of agreements that are within the scope of FIN No. 45.

As permitted under Delaware law, the Company has agreements whereby it indemnifies its officers and directors for certain events or occurrences while the officer or director is, or was serving, at the Company's request in such capacity. The term of the indemnification period runs until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations with respect to any claims against such directors or officers arising out of such acts or omissions. The maximum potential amount of future payments the Company could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited; however, the Company has a director and officer insurance policy that limits its exposure and enables it to recover a portion of any future amounts paid. As a result of insurance policy coverage, the Company believes the estimated fair value of these indemnification agreements is minimal.

The Company enters into standard indemnification agreements in the ordinary course of business. Pursuant to these agreements, the Company indemnifies, holds harmless, and agrees to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party, generally business partners or customers, in connection with any U.S. patent, or any copyright or other intellectual property infringement claim by any third party with respect to the Company's products. The term of these indemnification agreements is generally perpetual any time after execution of the agreement. The maximum potential amount of future payments the Company could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited. The Company has never incurred costs to defend lawsuits or settle claims related to these indemnification agreements. As a result, the Company believes the estimated fair value of these agreements is minimal.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure - an amendment of FAS 123. This Statement amends SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to provide alternative methods of transition for an entity that voluntarily changes to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. It also amends the disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 123 to require prominent disclosure about the effects on reported net income of an entity's accounting policy decisions with respect to stock-based employee compensation. This Statement also amends Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 28, Interim Financial Reporting (APB No. 28), to require disclosure about those effects in interim financial statements. The amendments to SFAS No. 123 are generally effective for financial statements for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The amendment to APB No. 28 is effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The Company's adoption of SFAS No. 148 has not had, and is not expected to have, a significant effect on its financial position or its results of operations.

In January 2003, the FASB issued FIN No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an Interpretation of ARB 51. The primary objectives of FIN No. 46 are to provide guidance on the identification of entities for which control is achieved through means other than through voting rights (variable interest entities or VIEs) and how to determine when and which business enterprise should consolidate the VIE. This new model for consolidation applies to an entity for which either: (a) the equity investors (if any) do not have a controlling financial interest; or (b) the equity investment at risk is insufficient to finance that entity's activities without receiving additional subordinated financial support from other parties. In addition, FIN No. 46 requires that both the primary beneficiary and all other enterprises with a significant variable interest in a VIE make additional disclosures. The Company is required to apply FIN No. 46 to all new variable interest entities created or acquired after January 31, 2003. For variable interest entities created or acquired prior to February 1, 2003, the Company is required to apply FIN No. 46 on July 1, 2003. The Company's adoption of FIN No. 46 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position or its results of operations.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, and for hedging activities under SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. The Company's adoption of SFAS 149 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. SFAS 150 requires that certain financial instruments, which under previous guidance were accounted for as equity, must now be accounted for as liabilities. The financial instruments affected include mandatory redeemable stock, certain financial instruments that require or may require the issuer to buy back some of its shares in exchange for cash or other assets and certain obligations that can be settled with shares of stock. SFAS 150 is effective for all financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003, and otherwise is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. The Company's adoption of SFAS 150 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

(2) Income (Loss) Per Share (in thousands)

Basic earnings or loss per share is determined by dividing the net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflect the effect of the conversion of potentially dilutive securities, such as stock options and warrants, based on the treasury stock method. In computing diluted earnings per share, common stock equivalents are not considered in periods in which a net loss is reported, as the inclusion of the common stock equivalents would be antidilutive. As a result there is no difference between the Company's basic and diluted loss per share for the three month and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 and 2002.

If the Company had reported a profit for these periods, potential common shares would have increased the weighted average shares outstanding by 1,238 and 573 shares for three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively, and by 782 and 1,120 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. In addition, there were warrants and options outstanding to purchase 458 and 526 shares for the three months and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 and 1,082 and 884 shares for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002, respectively, that were not included in the potential common share computations because their exercise prices were greater than the market price of the Company's common stock. These common stock equivalents are antidilutive even when a profit is reported in the numerator.

(3) Investment (in thousands, except percentages)

On March 13, 1998, the Company made a $500 or 25% equity investment, accounted for under the equity method, in DiamondSoft, Inc. (DiamondSoft), a California corporation primarily engaged in the business of developing, marketing and distributing software tools to a variety of professional markets. During the year ended December 31, 2001 the Company made additional investments totaling $410 in DiamondSoft, resulting in an increase in Bitstream's ownership percentage to 31.7% at December 31, 2001, which remained unchanged until July 1, 2003. Gains for the three months and nine months ended September 30, 2003, and 2002 related to the Company's investment in DiamondSoft totaled approximately $399 and $591, and $5 and $47, respectively, and are included in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations. The Company recorded goodwill related to this investment equal to the difference between the amount paid for the investment and the Company's share of DiamondSoft's underlying net assets at the time of each investment. This goodwill amortization ceased in accordance with the Company's adoption of SFAS No. 142 on January 1, 2002. (See Note 1(c))

On June 19, 2000, the Company deposited $300 into a money market account at Wells Fargo Bank to secure a $300 line of credit granted DiamondSoft by that bank. At December 31, 2002 this cash was presented on the Company's consolidated balance sheet as restricted cash. On June 30, 2003 this line of credit was terminated and all restrictions on the cash were released.

On July 1, 2003, in connection with the acquisition of DiamondSoft by Extensis, a wholly owned subsidiary of Celartem Technology USA, Inc., the Company sold its shares in DiamondSoft to Extensis in a cash transaction resulting in a realized and recognized gain on its investment of $399. The Company's investment in DiamondSoft as of the June 30, 2003 Balance Sheet was $940 and the Company received $1,339 in cash from this transaction on July 1, 2003. In addition, the purchase agreement called for $300 of the purchase price to be placed in escrow to provide security for escrow and indemnification obligations as set forth in the purchase agreement. The Company has deferred recognition of its $90 share of this escrow balance until such time as the amount to be received is fixed and determinable.

The Company's reportable segments are strategic business units that sell the Company's products through distinct distribution channels. They are managed separately as each business requires different marketing strategies. The Company's approach is based on the way that management organizes the segments within the enterprise for making operating decisions and assessing performance. The e-commerce segment's revenues include revenue from products it purchases from the Type segment. The inter-segment revenues created by these transactions have been eliminated from the e-commerce segment revenue below, as well as from the Company's consolidated financial statements. The Company evaluates performance based on profit or loss from operations before income taxes, not including non-recurring gains and losses.

The following table sets forth the Company's revenue and loss from operations by segment:

In August 2003, the Company entered into a six-year lease agreement and moved its corporate offices. The new lease agreement commenced on September 1, 2003 and obligated the Company to make minimum lease payments listed below plus its pro-rata share of future real estate tax increases and certain operating expense increases above the base year. This lease agreement also required the Company to obtain a Letter of Credit in for the amount of $250,000, which resulted in $250,000 in cash being classified as restricted on the Company's Balance Sheet. The amount will be reduced to $200,000 on the second anniversary and further to $150,000 on the fourth anniversary of the lease.

PART 1, ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto.

OVERVIEW

Bitstream Inc. is a software development company that focuses on the presentation of data. Its core competencies include font technology, browsing technology, e-commerce technology, and publishing technology. Bitstream's offering is made up of four distinct product lines: type and type technology, and ThunderHawk, which are both reported under the Company's Type business segment (Type), MyFonts.com (MyFonts) and Pageflex. Bitstream is a leading developer of font technology, digital fonts, and custom font designs. Bitstream licenses its TrueDoc® and Font Fusion® technologies to Web and application developers, and to manufacturers of information appliances, wireless and handheld devices, set-top boxes, embedded systems, and printers. ThunderHawk is a client-server technology that brings full-featured wireless Web browsing to mobile devices. It gives customers complete Internet access to real Web pages while maintaining full text legibility. Now in alpha release, ThunderHawk SmartPhone Edition enables users to browse the Web on SmartPhones. ThunderHawk PocketPC Edition allows consumers to browse the Web on Pocket PC devices. ThunderHawk Enterprise Server is a client-server technology for corporations and telecommunications companies. Providing wireless Web browsing across networks, it gives a mobile workforce complete access to Internet and corporate intranet Web pages. MyFonts.com is a showcase of the world's fonts available from one easy-to-use Web site. It provides the largest collection of fonts ever assembled for on-line delivery, and offers easy ways to find and purchase fonts on-line. MyFonts.com also offers unique typographic resources and forums for interacting with font experts. Pageflex technologies have pioneered a new direction in composition software: Web-top publishing. Web-top publishing software helps novice users create high-quality printed products using intelligent, flexible templates, without installing or learning any new desktop publishing software. Pageflex templates are intelligent and flexible because professional designers can set rules to define which elements can change, how much they can change, and who can change them. Pageflex products thus maintain corporate identity and design integrity while enabling sophisticated customizing of documents.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

Except for the historical information contained herein, this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Investors are cautioned that forward-looking statements are inherently uncertain. Actual performance and results of operations may differ materially from those projected or suggested in the forward-looking statements due to certain risks and uncertainties, including, without limitation, market acceptance of the Company's products, competition and the timely introduction of new products. Additional information concerning certain risks and uncertainties that would cause actual results to differ materially from those projected or suggested in the forward-looking statements is contained in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including those risks and uncertainties discussed in the Company's final Prospectus, dated October 30, 1996, included as part of the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-1 (333-11519), in the section entitled Risk Factors. The forward-looking statements contained herein represent the Company's judgment as of the date of this report, and the Company cautions readers not to place undue reliance on such statements. Management undertakes no obligation to publicly release any revisions to the forward-looking statements or reflect events or circumstances after the date of this document.

The increase in revenue for the three months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2002 was attributable to an increase in revenue in the MyFonts and Pageflex segments of $249 and $426, respectively, partially offset by a decrease in revenue in the Company's Type segment of $220. The increase in revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 was attributable to an increase in revenue in the MyFonts and Pageflex segments of $781 and $728, respectively, partially offset by a decrease in revenue in the Company's Type segment of $615. The increase in cost of license revenue for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 was due to increased royalty, shipping, and credit card processing expenses for the Company's MyFonts segment resulting from increased sales. The increase in cost of service revenue for the same periods was primarily the result of costs incurred for support of the Company's new ThunderHawk product. Cost of revenue for the Company includes royalties and fees paid to third parties for the development or license of rights to technology and/or unique typeface designs, costs incurred in the fulfillment of custom orders, costs incurred in providing customer support, maintenance, and training, and costs associated with the duplication, packaging and shipping of product. Gross profit generated by each segment is discussed in more detail below.

The decrease in Type revenue for the three months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2002 was the result of decreases in OEM license revenue and direct retail product sales of $179 and $56, respectively. These decreases were partially offset by increases in retail reseller revenue and custom design services of $9 and $6, respectively. The decrease in revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 was the result of decreases in OEM license revenue, direct retail product sales and revenue from custom design services of $445, $147, and $41, respectively. These decreases were partially offset by an increase in retail reseller revenue of $16. Sales of the Company's Type products and custom design work decreased due to consumer concerns about the economy and decreases in spending on development efforts by high-technology customers. Cost of license revenue for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 decreased primarily because of a lower proportion of sales of third party typeface products in relation to sales of the Company's internally developed typeface and technology products. Cost of services increased primarily due to costs incurred upon the establishment of a service and support structure for the Company's ThunderHawk product during 2003. This increase was partially offset by decreases in type design and consulting service expenses during the same period due to decreased sales of those services.

The Company's Type business recognizes font license revenue from the resale of its font products through various resellers. Resellers have an electronic digital format of the company's font products available to them through the Bitstream Manufacturing System (BMS). This system is installed on their servers and allows them to manufacture a font for sale to a customer. The BMS system tracks the fonts sold and generates a monthly sales report, which is sent by the reseller to Bitstream. Revenue is recognized if collection is probable, upon notification from the reseller that it has sold the product or if for a physical product, upon delivery of the software.

MyFonts continued to be successful in increasing the number of fonts available on its Web site, the number of foundries participating, and the number of consumer accounts. Inter-company sales, which MyFonts generated from the resale of Bitstream fonts, have been excluded. Cost of revenue increased primarily due to an increase in royalties and referrer fees due to increased revenue, and an increase in shipping, packaging and handling costs due to the increase in products sold that must be physically shipped. Cost of revenue as a percentage of sales, however has decreased as the Company has negotiated lower royalty percentages to be paid to third party foundries and because of a lower royalty paid on sales of CD products.

MyFonts currently recognizes revenue from referral agreements (Level 1 agreements) and resale agreements (Level 2 agreements). Referral revenue for each of the three months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 was $3, and for each of the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002 was $11 and $10, respectively. All other revenue recognized by MyFonts resulted from Level 2 agreements under which MyFonts sells the fonts directly from its site(s). There are only minimal costs to the Level 1 program, which represent the time to load copies of the fonts provided by each participating foundry for addition to the MyFonts database, and the Company expenses those costs as incurred.

Pageflex service revenue for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 increased as compared to the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002, because of increases in support maintenance and training revenue due to Pageflex's increasing customer base. Cost of revenue decreased slightly in absolute dollars, and has decreased as a percentage of sales revenue as Pageflex's existing infrastructure has been able to satisfy the demands of the increased customer base.

Type marketing and selling expenses increased primarily due to the hiring of dedicated sales resources for ThunderHawk, participation in wireless tradeshows, and print advertising for ThunderHawk totaling $103 for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and $185 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003. The increase for the three months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to 2002 was partially offset by cost savings from the closure of the UK sales office on March 31, 2003 of $32 and decreased participation in non-ThunderHawk trade shows of $12. MyFonts marketing and selling expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 decreased primarily due to a decrease in its use of marketing personnel from the Type segment and related charges during the first quarter of 2003. Pageflex marketing and selling expenses increased primarily due to costs associated with the addition of three independent sales representatives engaged at the end of 2002, an increase in trade show participation, and an increase in travel related expenses, which increased expenses $42 for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and $83 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the same periods ended September 30, 2002, respectively. Additionally, in the quarter ended September 30, 2003, Pageflex incurred severance costs associated with the elimination of the Pageflex General Manager position of $75.

Type R&D expenses decreased for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 primarily because of decreases in both internal personnel and outside contractor development on the Company's Type products totaling $102 and $241, respectively. The decrease in R&D expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 was partially offset by an increase in development costs for ThunderHawk of $35. The increase in MyFonts R&D expense for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 was primarily due to an increase in employee-related costs resulting from a higher utilization of Type resources of $17 and $41, respectively, combined with the non-recurrence of credits of $6 and $24 realized in the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002, respectively, for variable accounting treatment of stock options granted to non-employee consultants. The decrease in Pageflex R&D expense for the three months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2002 was primarily attributable to a decrease in the use of outside consultants on Mpower development of $11. The use of outside consultants, however, increased Pageflex R&D expenses by $12 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to September 30, 2002. The increase in Pageflex R&D expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 also included $56 in increased personnel-related costs for internal Mpower development efforts, partially offset by a decrease in depreciation expense of $20.

The increase in G&A expenses for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 included approximately $72 in expenses incurred to relocate the Company's offices, $67 in legal expenses incurred to defend against certain trademark infringement lawsuits, combined with the non-recurrence of a credit of $118 realized in the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 for a change in an estimate associated with the Company's sale of two product lines to Inso Corporation in August 1998. The increase for the three months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2002 was partially offset by decreases in fees for various outside professional services, depreciation, and in G&A personnel costs of $67. The increase in G&A expenses for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2002 includes increased costs incurred during the six months ended June 30, 2003 including bonuses expensed and paid, fees associated with the transfer of the Company's stock from the NASDAQ/NM to the NASDAQ SmallCap Market, costs related to the closing of the Company's UK sales office, and legal fees of approximately $175. G&A expenses are primarily allocated to the business segments based on headcount.

In March 1998, the Company made a $500 equity investment in DiamondSoft, Inc. (DiamondSoft) representing a 25% ownership interest. During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company made additional investments totaling $410 in DiamondSoft, resulting in an increase in Bitstream's ownership percentage to 31.7%. This ownership percentage remained at 31.7% through June 30, 2003. The gain above represents the Company's pro rata share of DiamondSoft's net income and a $399 gain on the sale of Bitstream's investment in DiamondSoft on July 1, 2003 in a cash transaction. Further discussion can be found in Note 3 in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included herewith.

Other income for the three months ended September 30, 2003 and September 30, 2002 includes interest income earned on cash and money market instruments net of interest expense. In addition, other income for the nine months ended September 2003 consists of a loss on the disposition of assets related to the closure of the UK sales office of $(20) during the first quarter of 2003. Interest income has decreased over the nine-month periods due to a combination of a lower investment balance and lower interest rates.

The provision for income taxes consists primarily of foreign income taxes. Foreign taxes vary with Type OEM license royalties from customers in countries who have signed tax conventions with the United States including Japan, Korea, and Poland, and also with the results of operations from the Company's location in the United Kingdom, prior to its closure on March 31, 2003.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES (in thousands, except share amounts)

The Company has funded its operations primarily through the public sale of equity securities, cash flows from operations and cash received from the sale of the Company's MediaBank and InterSep OPI product lines to Inso Providence Corporation in August of 1998 and the sale of the Company's investment in DiamondSoft in July of 2003. As of September 30, 2003, the Company had net working capital of $3,572 versus $3,718 at December 31, 2002.

The Company used cash of approximately $1,124 and $630 to fund its operations during the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. After adjustment for non-cash expenses and the gain on investment in DiamondSoft, the Company used $1,343 and $874 in cash during the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Changes in operating assets and liabilities resulted in cash savings of $219 and $244 for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company's investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 provided cash from the sale of its investment in DiamondSoft and the removal of restrictions on cash of $1,339 and $50, respectively. This cash was partially offset by cash used to acquire additional property and equipment, and intangible assets of $249 and $24, respectively. The Company's investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2002 used cash to acquire property and equipment, and intangible assets of $82 and $78, respectively. The Company's financing activities provided cash of $82 and $53 for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively, from the exercise of stock options.

The Company believes its current cash and cash equivalent balances will be sufficient to meet the Company's operating and capital requirements for at least the next 12 months. There can be no assurance, however, that the Company will not require additional financing in the future. If the Company were required to obtain additional financing in the future, there can be no assurance that sources of capital will be available on terms favorable to the Company, if at all.

PART I, ITEM 2, MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS, continued

As of September 30, 2003, the Company had no material commitments for capital expenditures. From time to time, the Company evaluates potential acquisitions of products, businesses and technologies that may complement or expand the Company's business. Any such transactions consummated may use a portion of the Company's working capital or require the issuance of equity or debt. As of September 30, 2003, the Company had future minimum lease payments under the Company's six-year facilities lease, which commenced on September 1, 2003, of approximately $2,511. The lease obligates the Company to make minimum lease payments plus its pro-rata share of future real estate tax increases and certain operating expense increases above the base year. This lease agreement also required the Company to obtain a Letter of Credit in the amount of $250, which resulted in $250 in cash being classified as restricted on the Company's Balance Sheet. The amount will be reduced to $200 on the second anniversary and further to $150 on the fourth anniversary of the lease.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In November 2002, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Other (FIN No.45). FIN No. 45 requires that a guarantor is required to recognize, at the inception of the guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken by issuing the guarantee. The interpretation also requires additional disclosure to be made by a guarantor in its financial statements about its obligations under certain guarantees it has issued. The accounting requirements for the initial recognition of guarantees are applicable on a prospective basis for guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002. The disclosure requirements are effective for all guarantees outstanding, regardless of when they were issued or modified, for financial statement periods that end after December 15, 2002. The adoption of FIN 45 did not have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. The following is a summary of agreements that are within the scope of FIN No. 45.

As permitted under Delaware law, the Company has agreements whereby it indemnifies its officers and directors for certain events or occurrences while the officer or director is, or was serving, at the Company's request in such capacity. The term of the indemnification period runs until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations with respect to any claims against such directors or officers arising out of such acts or omissions. The maximum potential amount of future payments the Company could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited; however, the Company has a director and officer insurance policy that limits its exposure and enables it to recover a portion of any future amounts paid. As a result of insurance policy coverage, the Company believes the estimated fair value of these indemnification agreements is minimal.

The Company enters into standard indemnification agreements in the ordinary course of business. Pursuant to these agreements, the Company indemnifies, holds harmless, and agrees to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party, generally business partners or customers, in connection with any U.S. patent, or any copyright or other intellectual property infringement claim by any third party with respect to the Company's products. The term of these indemnification agreements is generally perpetual any time after execution of the agreement. The maximum potential amount of future payments the Company could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited. The Company has never incurred costs to defend lawsuits or settle claims related to these indemnification agreements. As a result, the Company believes the estimated fair value of these agreements is minimal.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure - an amendment of FAS 123. This Statement amends SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to provide alternative methods of transition for an entity that voluntarily changes to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. It also amends the disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 123 to require prominent disclosure about the effects on reported net income of an entity's accounting policy decisions with respect to stock-based employee compensation. This Statement also amends Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 28, Interim Financial Reporting (APB No. 28), to require disclosure about those effects in interim financial statements. The amendments to SFAS No. 123 are generally effective for financial statements for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The amendment to APB No. 28 is effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The Company's adoption of SFAS No. 148 has not had, and is not expected to have, a significant effect on its financial position or its results of operations.

In January 2003, the FASB issued FIN No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an Interpretation of ARB 51. The primary objectives of FIN No. 46 are to provide guidance on the identification of entities for which control is achieved through means other than through voting rights (variable interest entities or VIEs) and how to determine when and which business enterprise should consolidate the VIE. This new model for consolidation applies to an entity for which either: (a) the equity investors (if any) do not have a controlling financial interest; or (b) the equity investment at risk is insufficient to finance that entity's activities without receiving additional subordinated financial support from other parties. In addition, FIN No. 46 requires that both the primary beneficiary and all other enterprises with a significant variable interest in a VIE make additional disclosures. The Company is required to apply FIN No. 46 to all new variable interest entities created or acquired after January 31, 2003. For variable interest entities created or acquired prior to February 1, 2003, the Company is required to apply FIN No. 46 on July 1, 2003. The Company's adoption of FIN No. 46 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position or its results of operations.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, and for hedging activities under SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003 and for hedging relationships designated after June 30, 2003. The Company's adoption of SFAS 149 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS 150, Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. SFAS 150 requires that certain financial instruments, which under previous guidance were accounted for as equity, must now be accounted for as liabilities. The financial instruments affected include mandatory redeemable stock, certain financial instruments that require or may require the issuer to buy back some of its shares in exchange for cash or other assets and certain obligations that can be settled with shares of stock. SFAS 150 is effective for all financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003, and otherwise is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. The Company's adoption of SFAS 150 has not had and is not expected to have, a significant effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

PART I, ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Derivative Financial Instruments, Other Financial Instruments and Derivative Commodity Instruments.

As of September 30, 2003, the Company did not participate in any derivative financial instruments or other financial and commodity instruments for which fair value disclosure would be required under SFAS No. 107. All of the Company's investments are short-term, investment-grade commercial paper, and money market accounts that are carried on the Company's books at amortized cost, which approximates fair market value. Accordingly, the Company has no quantitative information concerning the market risk of participating in such investments.

Primary Market Risk Exposures

The Company's primary market risk exposures are in the areas of interest rate risk and foreign currency exchange rate risk. The Company's investment portfolio of cash equivalent and short-term investments is subject to interest rate fluctuations, but the Company believes this risk is immaterial due to the short-term nature of these investments. The Company's exposure to currency exchange rate fluctuations has been, and is expected to continue to be, modest due to the fact that the operations of its international subsidiaries are almost exclusively conducted in their respective local currencies. International subsidiary operating results are translated into U.S. dollars and consolidated for reporting purposes. The impact of currency exchange rate movements on inter-company transactions was immaterial for the nine months ended September 30, 2003. Currently the Company does not engage in foreign currency hedging activities.

PART I, ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Based on the evaluation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2003, each of Charles Ying, the Chief Executive Officer of the Company, Anna Chagnon, President and Chief Operating Officer, and James Dore, the Chief Financial Officer of the Company as of March 2003, have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) were sufficiently effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q was recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and Form 10Q.

There were no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect these controls subsequent to the date of their evaluation, including any corrective actions with regard to significant deficiencies and material weaknesses.

The Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer, and Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls will prevent all error and fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

Although the Company is involved in litigation from time to time, it is not involved in any material legal proceedings currently except as described below:

On June 24, 2003, Agfa Monotype Corporation and International Typeface Corporation filed a complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division claiming that the Company, through its TrueDoc software, infringes trademarks and copyrights and violates the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. The complaint fails to identify any of the plaintiffs' trademarks or copyrights that have been allegedly infringed and does not specify any amount of monetary damages. The plaintiffs do seek injunctive relief, but do not make any statement that any of the alleged acts have actually taken place. The Company is contesting these claims.

ITEM 2. CHANGES IN SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

- (a) Instruments defining the rights of the holders of any class of registered securities of the Company have not been materially modified during the three months ended September 30, 2003.
- (b) Rights evidenced by any class of registered securities of the Company have not been materially limited or qualified by the issuance or modification of any other class of securities during the three months ended September 30, 2003.
- (c) There were no unregistered securities sold by the Company during the three months ended September 30, 2003.

ITEM 3. DEFAULTS UPON SENIOR SECURITIES

Not applicable.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the three months ended September 30, 2003.

ITEM 5. OTHER INFORMATION

Edgar Filing: BITSTREAM INC - Form 10-Q

Consistent with Section 10A(i)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as added by Section 202 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the Company is responsible for listing the non-audit services approved during any reporting period by its Audit Committee to be performed by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, the Company's external auditor. All non-audit services are pre-approved by the Audit Committee or the Audit Committee's Chairman pursuant to delegated authority by the Audit Committee. During the three months ended September 30, 2003, no non-audit services were brought to the attention of the Audit Committee.

On September 30, 2003, the Company's management eliminated the position of General Manager for its Pageflex business and replaced it with a Vice President of Sales-Pageflex position. With the redefinition of this position, David Frenkel, the General Manager for Pageflex as of that date, left the Company's employment to pursue other interests.
