UMC Introduces Breakthrough RFCMOS Design Methodology

1. Date of occurrence of the event: 2003/12/15

2. Cause of occurrence:

HSINCHU, Taiwan, December 15, 2003 -- UMC (NYSE: UMC; TSE: 2303), a world leading semiconductor foundry, today announced a breakthrough Electromagnetic Design Methodology (EMDM) for RFCMOS designs that uses a combination of electromagnetic (EM) analysis tools working in conjunction with each other to reduce simulation cycle times from hours to just minutes. UMC's new methodology effectively eliminates what has traditionally been a tremendous time and resource intensive commitment for RF designers. The methodology was also created to greatly reduce overall development cycle times and costs for customers designing RFCMOS ICs.

S. C. Chien, division director of Central Research and Development at UMC, commented, "UMC is constantly seeking ways to better enhance the services available to our customers. With our innovative EMDM, the learning curve for 3D EM simulation tools has totally been eliminated. The inductor simulation process can now be thoroughly completed in as little as 20 minutes with a few clicks of a computer mouse, allowing UMC RF customers to realize a significant advantage over their competitors not using UMC's EMDM."
