The following factors, among others, could cause Wachovia's or SouthTrust's financial performance to differ materially from that expressed in such forward-looking statements: (1) the risk that the businesses of Wachovia and SouthTrust in connection with the merger or the businesses of Wachovia and Prudential in the brokerage transaction will not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; (2) expected revenue synergies and cost savings from the merger or the brokerage transaction may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; (3) revenues following the merger or the brokerage transaction may be lower than expected; (4) deposit attrition, operating costs, customer loss and business disruption

Additional factors that could cause Wachovia's and SouthTrust's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in Wachovia's and SouthTrust's Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K filed with the SEC. All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements concerning Wachovia or the proposed merger or other matters and attributable to Wachovia or any person acting on its behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements above. Press Release Sept. 29, 2004

WACHOVIA TO ACQUIRE BOSTON WEALTH ADVISORY FIRM, TANAGER FINANCIAL SERVICES

Tanager Gives Wachovia Wealth Management

First Presence in Boston

Waltham, Mass. Wachovia Corporation, the nation's fifth largest bank holding company, announced today that it has agreed to acquire the assets of Tanager Financial Services, Inc., of Waltham, Mass. Tanager, the nation's 10th largest independent wealth advisory firm, will become part of Wachovia Wealth Management and its Calibre family office business. The Boston office of Tanager will become Calibre's third location, in addition to offices in Philadelphia and Winston-Salem, N.C.

Tanager was established in 1995 and in less than a decade has grown to 47 employees serving 175 families representing $2 billion in assets under advisement.

Stanhope Kelly, president of Wachovia Wealth Management, said the acquisition is part of a strategic plan for the company to expand in attractive growth markets. Wachovia Wealth Management is also opening an office in Dallas and opened its first Manhattan office last year.

Wachovia Wealth Management is emerging as a leading wealth manager, as we build our presence in important high net worth markets such as Boston, Kelly said. We will continue to look for opportunities as we broaden our client base in key locations.

Tanager President David Beatty said the firm was attracted to Wachovia by its integrated, holistic approach to wealth management and the sophistication of its Calibre family office practice. Calibre is one of the largest multifamily offices in the U.S., with more than $10 billion in assets under care, serving 180 families. Joining Wachovia will enable the firm to offer clients a more comprehensive array of services than Tanager could offer alone, Beatty said, including fiduciary services, expanded charitable services, credit and more flexible financial information and reporting systems.

By partnering with Wachovia and Calibre, we will be able to provide our clients with many advantages, Beatty said. Two are paramount. First, we are assuring our clients of the long-term stability of our firm something that few independent advisors can do. Our client service teams will remain intact, and the founders plan to remain a part of the team for many years to come. Second, we are maintaining our core values and culture. We will retain our objective, open-architecture strategic investment approach.

Dan Prickett, executive vice president of investments at Wachovia Wealth Management, said that Tanager was appealing to Wachovia because of its sophisticated investment style and dedicated investment consulting department. We're very pleased to have won Tanager's confidence as a firm that can deliver their clients the resources of a Fortune 100 company, while at the same time enabling them to retain their character as a boutique firm, Prickett said.

Glenn Frank, vice president of Tanager's Wealth Advisory Group, said the Wealth and Family Office groups in Tanager would continue to work in tandem, serving a wide range of clients with investment assets of client families ranging from $1 million to hundreds of millions of dollars.

Terms of the deal were not disclosed. The acquisition is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2004. Cambridge International Partners and Kadis & Co. acted as financial advisors to Tanager.

n Merger and Investment Update

Wachovia Corporation and SouthTrust Corporation signed a definitive merger agreement on June 21, 2004. The proposed merger is expected to be submitted to Wachovia's and SouthTrust's shareholders for their vote in October. Important information will soon be mailed to you concerning the proposed merger. In the meantime, Wachovia has filed a registration statement with the SEC containing a preliminary joint proxy statement/prospectus and other relevant documents about the merger. All of these documents containing information about Wachovia or SouthTrust may be obtained for free at the SEC's internet site, <http://www.sec.gov>, at www.wachovia.com or at www.southtrust.com. When you receive the merger mailing, please read the definitive proxy statement/prospectus carefully because it will contain important information about the merger.

Wachovia, SouthTrust, and their respective directors and executive officers may participate in soliciting proxies from Wachovia and/or SouthTrust shareholders in connection with the merger vote. Information about these directors and executive officers is in Wachovia's and SouthTrust's respective proxy statements for their 2004 annual shareholders' meetings filed with the SEC. The definitive joint proxy statement/prospectus regarding the merger will contain additional information regarding the interests of participants in the merger.

The two companies believe the merger will create an unmatched franchise in their high-growth Southeastern footprint, and accelerate Wachovia's already announced expansion into attractive Texas markets. The key leaders of the combined company's General Bank, Risk Management and Wealth Management organizations have already been named to help ensure a smooth, well-organized transition that will allow Wachovia to continue to effectively serve customers and maintain their valuable relationships. Planning for the merger integration has already begun. A detailed, 15-month integration timeline and a 65-person joint integration team are already in place and the team is moving forward with merger integration planning.

Last year, Wachovia Securities, LLC, and Prudential Financial, Inc., combined their retail brokerage units and private client groups. The integration of the two firms' brokerage systems onto one operating platform took place over the Labor Day weekend. Many new products and services have been introduced to clients as a result of this transaction, and progress has been made on gaining overall efficiencies, including the consolidation of 78 brokerage branch offices. All retail brokerage integration activities are expected to be complete by year-end 2004.
