Director Compensation

Directors who also are employees or officers receive no compensation for serving as directors. In 2004, non-employee directors were paid a retainer of $6,000 per year and a fee of $1,500 for each Board of Directors meeting attended and were reimbursed for the out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending those meetings. No separate compensation was paid for attending meetings of Committees of the Board of Directors on which directors served.

Beginning in fiscal 2005, the annual retainer paid to each non-employee director will be $8,000 and non-employee directors will receive fees of (i) $2,000 for each Board of Directors meeting attended (ii) $2,000 for attending any meeting of a Board Committee held on a date other than the date of a Board meeting. Out of pocket expenses incurred by non-employee directors in attending those meetings will continue to be reimbursed by us.

Pursuant to our Employee Stock Incentive Plans, on an annual basis each non-employee director is automatically granted options to purchase 2,000 shares of our common stock at an exercise price that is equal to the fair market value of our shares on the date of grant. Upon joining the Board, each new non-employee director receives an option to purchase 2,000 shares, which becomes exercisable in full one year after the date of grant.

Compensation Committee Interlocks

In fiscal 2004, the members of the Compensation Committee were Robert S. Throop, John W. Casey and Leonard P. Danna, each of whom is a non-employee director of the Company. None of our executive officers served on the board of directors or compensation committee of any corporation or other entity which has one or more of its executive officers serving as members of our Board of Directors or its Compensation Committee.

Table of Contents

Report of the Compensation Committee

The Compensation Committee is a standing committee of our Board of Directors. The Compensation Committee is responsible for adopting and evaluating the effectiveness of our management compensation policies and programs and for making determinations regarding the compensation of our executive officers.

The following report is submitted by the members of the Compensation Committee with respect to the executive compensation policies that the Committee has established and the compensation paid or awarded to the our Chief Executive Officer and the other Named Officers for fiscal year 2004.

Compensation Policies and Objectives

In adopting compensation programs for the Named Officers and other management employees, the Compensation Committee is guided by three basic principles:

Coast Distribution must offer competitive salaries and benefits to be able to attract and retain highly-qualified and experienced executives and other key management personnel.

Annual cash compensation in excess of base salaries should be tied primarily to Coast Distribution's performance or a combination of its performance and the achievement by Named Officers of specific goals established for them by the Board or Committee.

The financial interests of senior executives should be aligned with the financial interests of the stockholders, primarily through stock option grants, and other forms of equity-based compensation, under equity incentive programs that reward executives for improvements in the market performance of Coast Distribution's common stock. It is the Compensation Committee's policy, as well, to submit all such stock incentive programs for approval by the stockholders and to place limits on the number of shares for which options or stock purchase rights may be granted under those programs.

Salaries and Employee Benefits Programs

In order to retain executives and other key employees, and to be able to attract additional well-qualified executives when the need arises, Coast Distribution strives to offer salaries and health care and other employee benefit programs to its executives and other key management employees which are comparable to those offered by competing businesses. In establishing salaries for executive officers, the Compensation Committee reviews (i) the historical performance of the executives; and (ii) available information regarding prevailing salaries and compensation programs offered by competing businesses. Another factor which is considered in establishing salaries of executive officers are the costs of living in Northern California where the Company is headquartered, as such costs generally are higher than in other parts of the country.

In order to retain qualified management personnel, Coast Distribution also has followed the practice of seeking to promote executives from within the company whenever that is practicable. The Compensation Committee believes that this policy enhances employee morale and provides continuity of management. Generally, modest salary increases are made in conjunction with such promotions.

In the second half of 2001, the respective salaries of Mr. McGuire, Ms. Knell and Messrs. Berger and Castagnola were reduced by 15% as part of a company-wide cost reduction program. Those reductions remained in effect throughout 2002 and 2003. During 2004, their salaries were restored to the pre-reduction levels. Salary figures shown in the Summary Compensation Table included in this Report reflect those reductions in each of fiscal 2002 and 2003. The 2004 salaries in that Table reflect a partial restoration of their salaries, beginning from the effective date during 2004 that the restoration was first implemented.

Performance-Based Compensation

The Compensation Committee believes that, as a general rule, annual compensation in excess of base salaries should be made dependent primarily on Coast Distribution's performance. Accordingly, during the first half of each fiscal year, the Compensation Committee establishes an annual bonus compensation program for the Named Officers and other key management personnel. The program establishes a net earnings goal for the fiscal year and provides that if the goal is achieved, a bonus pool will be established from which bonuses will be paid to participants in the program, including the Named Officers. The amount of the bonus pool depends on the extent to which the net earnings goal is exceeded.

The earnings goal for each year's annual bonus program is established on the basis of the annual operating plan for that year that is initially developed by management and then is submitted to the Board of Directors for its review, possible modification and approval. The annual operating plan, which is designed to maximize profitability within the constraints of prevailing economic and competitive conditions, some of which are outside the control of management's control, is developed on the basis of (i) the prior year's financial performance; (ii) estimates of sales revenue for the plan year based upon recent market conditions and trends and other factors which, based on historical experience, can be expected to affect the level of sales that can reasonably be expected to be achieved; (iii) historical operating costs, as adjusted for anticipated increases in costs resulting from pricing changes by vendors or changes in economic conditions and any cost savings that management believes can be realized during the upcoming year; and (iv) competitive conditions in the company's markets. By taking all of these factors into account, the earnings goal in the annual operating plan, which also is the basis on which bonus awards are determined under the annual management bonus program, is fixed at what is believed to be a realistic level so as to make the incentives under the bonus program meaningful to executives and to avoid penalizing plan participants for conditions outside of their control.

In certain instances, bonuses under an annual bonus program are awarded not only on the basis of the Coast Distribution's overall profitability, but also on the achievement by an executive of specific objectives within his or her area of responsibility. For example, a bonus may be awarded for an executive's efforts in achieving greater than anticipated cost savings, or establishing new or expanding existing markets for the company's products. Typically, the maximum bonus that may be awarded for achievement of specific objectives is determined early in the year to provide the requisite incentive for such performance.

As a result of these performance-based bonus programs, executive compensation generally increases in those years in which profitability increases. On the other hand, in years in which Coast Distribution experiences less than anticipated profit growth, such bonuses and, therefore, also total executive compensation tend to be lower. During fiscal 2004, net earnings not only exceeded the earnings goal established in the 2004 management bonus plan, but exceeded fiscal 2003 net earnings by 80%, notwithstanding the fact that in 2003 earnings had doubled as compared as to 2002. As a result of the net earnings performance in 2004, the bonuses awarded the Named Officers for, and the total cash compensation earned by the Named Officers in, fiscal 2004 exceeded their respective bonus awards and their total cash compensation for each of the two preceding fiscal years.

Finally, the Compensation Committee reserves the authority to grant discretionary bonuses, on a selective basis, when the Committee members believe that conditions justify the award of such bonuses. However, during the past three years, no discretionary bonuses were awarded to any of the Named Officers.

Stock Options and Equity-Based Programs

In order to align the financial interests of management with those of the stockholders, the Committee grants stock options to senior executives and other key employees on a periodic basis and has authorized the making of contributions to an employee stock purchase plan under which officers and employees (who own less than 5% of the outstanding shares of Coast Distribution common stock) may elect to have a portion of their salaries withheld and used, together with the company's contributions, to purchase shares of our common stock. Stock option grants, in particular, reward senior executives and other key employees for performance that results in increases in the market price of the company's common stock, which directly benefits all stockholders. Moreover, generally options are granted on terms which provide that the options become exercisable in cumulative annual installments, generally over a three-to-five-year period. The Compensation Committee believes that these features of the option grants not only provide an incentive for senior executives to remain in the employ of the Company, but also makes the Company's earnings performance and longer term growth in share prices important for the executives who receive stock option grants.

Respectfully Submitted,

John W. Casey

Robert S. Throop

Leonard P. Danna
