OneWeb Q&As

Who is BNY?

The Bank of New York Company, Inc. is a global leader in providing a comprehensive array of services that enable institutions and individuals to move and manage their financial assets in more than 100 markets worldwide. The Company has a long tradition of collaborating with clients to deliver innovative solutions through its core competencies: securities servicing, treasury management, asset management, and private banking. The Company's extensive global client base includes a broad range of leading financial institutions, corporations, government entities, endowments and foundations. Its principal subsidiary, The Bank of New York, founded in 1784, is the oldest bank in the United States and has consistently played a prominent role in the evolution of financial markets worldwide. The Company has $12.2 trillion in assets under custody and more than $179 billion in assets under management. Additional information is available at www.bankofny.com.

Why did you agree to this deal?

It is the best course of action for BNY and Mellon, as well as their employees, clients, shareholders and communities, including, and especially, Pittsburgh.

The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation will be the world's leading asset servicer and one of the largest asset managers, with incredible scale and global reach.

The companies have complementary businesses that will come together to produce an extraordinarily strong competitor in their core businesses. The businesses and skills that come together in this deal will create new growth opportunities unique to the combined corporation.

Organic growth potential is very strong, and revenue synergy opportunities are excellent. This deal is good, sound business.

We have been saying for years that our independence provided the best framework for the success of our company and its employees. What has changed?

In this very rapidly changing business environment, new opportunities develop constantly and must be carefully evaluated to determine the best course of action.

This merger provides both BNY and Mellon with the opportunity to grow together, capitalizing on the complementary businesses, dominant market positions, incredible scale and global reach.

Did Mellon consider other partners?

No. Mellon was approached with a proposal to join companies, and following a thorough due diligence process, we believe that this deal produces a winning outcome for shareholders, clients and employees.

What is the timeframe for the merger?

We are working to close the transaction by the third quarter of 2007, with a three-year transition period to follow.

Can I talk with employees/my counterpart(s) at The Bank of New York?

Please speak to your manager before reaching out to anyone at the Bank of New York.

What should I do if the media or local community groups approach me about this transaction?

Refer all questions to Corporate Affairs at (412) 234-0850 or (412) 234-7157.

Which businesses will be headquartered or based in Pittsburgh?

Though headquartered in New York, The Bank of New York Mellon will remain committed to a continuing strong and growing employee presence in Pittsburgh, which will be home to several businesses including cash management and stock transfer, and will be a center of excellence for technology, operations and administration.

What impact will this announcement have on Mellon employees?

We expect that for the immediate future it will be business as usual.

Will there be any immediate layoffs or displacements prior to the closing of the deal?

This deal is not expected to close until the third quarter of 2007. Until that time Mellon will continue to operate its business as usual and may add or eliminate positions as needed.

Will there be layoffs or displacements following the close of the deal?

Approximately 10 percent of the combined employee base will be reduced over the three-year integration period following the close of the transaction, or approximately 3,900 of the combined 40,000 positions globally.

The companies will reduce headcount through normal attrition wherever possible and will provide support to eligible employees whose positions are eliminated by the merger.

Will there be layoffs in Pittsburgh?

In the short run, there may be a reduction in Mellon's 6,100-member Pittsburgh workforce, but the long-term prospects are actually for increased employment in Pittsburgh.

It is anticipated that most reductions will be absorbed through attrition and that the Pittsburgh workforce eventually will grow by 1,000-2,000 over the next 3-5 years.

What happens to my Mellon benefits? Will my 2007 benefit elections remain?

Mellon's 2007 employee benefit program, including any elections you may have made during open enrollment, will remain in place throughout the entire year.

For 2007, it is anticipated that there will be no changes to Mellon human resource programs such as vacation, holiday schedules, tuition reimbursement, matching gifts, etc.

What will happen to my existing ShareSuccess stock option grants?

Grants of stock options made under the ShareSuccess program will fully vest upon a change of control. Please refer to the materials found on Mellon's ShareSuccess intranet site.

Will Mellon still increase the match under the Mellon 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan to 75 cents as previously announced?

Yes, Mellon still plans on increasing the company matching contribution for the 401(k) plan from 65 cents to 75 cents on each dollar of employee pre-tax contribution made up to 6 percent of eligible plan compensation, effective January 1, 2007.

Will my years of service with Mellon count with the new combined organization?

Yes. Your years of service with Mellon will count as they currently do for our employee benefit plans, such as pension, 401(k) and vacation.

Will Career Opportunities still exist, and can I continue to post for open jobs? Can I post for jobs with BNY prior to the merger?

Yes. You can still post for open positions with Mellon.

As for BNY, until the deal closes, you would be viewed as an external candidate for any position.

Mellon provides a tremendous amount of support to communities where it has a presence. Will this change?

The agreement calls for funding of a new charitable foundation, dedicated to grant-making in southwestern Pennsylvania. The initiative will have $60 million in new funding, plus $20 million of assets from Mellon's current foundation.

The new $80 million foundation will be called the Mellon Financial Foundation and will result in an increase of about $1.8 million in local spending, providing a total of approximately $4 million in local foundation giving. The current non-foundation spending on sponsorships and other non-profit spending in this region is expected to remain at the existing level of more than $1 million. Local Advisory Board members will serve as trustees of the new foundation.

Mellon's existing foundation will be renamed The Bank of New York Mellon Foundation and will be funded at $40 million and fund ongoing initiatives throughout the non-Pittsburgh locations of the combined company.
