Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

On June 5, 2008, Nanogen, Inc. (the Company or Nanogen ) announced the award of a contract from the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention as described in more detail in Item 8.01 below. A copy of the press release issued by the Company on June 5, 2008 is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On June 5, 2008, the Company announced that it has been awarded a new $10.4 million, two-year contract from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (the CDC ) to develop a multi-analyte molecular diagnostic assay for Influenza. This is the second contract the Company has been awarded by the CDC related to the development of diagnostic tests for influenza. Under this new contract, the Company will develop a fast molecular test that simultaneously detects and differentiates Influenza Type A, Influenza Type B, seasonal flu (H1N1 and H3N2) strains, and Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV). The contract provides for a secondary, reflex , test for avian flu strains (H5N1, H7N1, & H9N1) to be available for samples that are determined to be positive for Flu A but negative for seasonal flu.

Disclosures in this Item 8.01 contain forward-looking statements that are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those set forth in the forward-looking statements, including but are not limited to, whether all of the phases of the CDC development project will be funded by the Federal government, whether the development program will be successful if fully funded, or whether the assay to be developed by Nanogen will be selected by CDC for use under its auspices if that development is successful, and other risks and uncertainties discussed under the Risk Factors Item and elsewhere in Nanogen s Form 10-K or Form 10-Q most recently filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These forward-looking statements speak only as of the date hereof. Nanogen disclaims any intent or obligation to update these forward-looking statements.
