On December 8, 2011, the Board of Directors of Covanta Holding Corporation (the Company) approved amendments to Article II of the Company's Bylaws to provide that, in order to properly bring a proposal before an annual meeting of stockholders, a stockholder must, among other things, provide notice thereof to the Secretary of the Company not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days in advance of the anniversary of the previous year's annual meeting, subject to certain conditions, and provide certain required information regarding the proponent. In the case of a stockholder proposing a nominee for election as a director, certain information is also required about the proposed nominee. The Bylaws were also amended to clarify that the only business that may be conducted at a special meeting of stockholders is such business as shall have been brought before the meeting pursuant to the Company's notice of the special meeting.
