BARNES & NOBLE, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

For the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012

(Thousands of dollars, except per share data)

(unaudited)

The unaudited consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Barnes & Noble, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, Barnes & Noble or the Company).

In the opinion of the Company's management, the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of the Company contain all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly its consolidated financial position as of October 26, 2013 and the results of its operations for the 13 and 26 weeks and its cash flows for the 26 weeks then ended. These consolidated financial statements are condensed and therefore do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles. The consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the 52 weeks ended April 27, 2013 (fiscal 2013).

Due to the seasonal nature of the business, the results of operations for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 are not indicative of the results to be expected for the 53 weeks ending May 3, 2014 (fiscal 2014).

(1) Merchandise Inventories

B&N Retail inventory cost is determined primarily by the retail inventory method under the first-in, first-out (FIFO) basis. B&N College inventory is also determined by the retail inventory method. However, its textbook and trade book inventories are valued on a last-in, first-out (LIFO) basis, where the related reserve was not material to the recorded amount of the Company's inventories or results of operations at October 26, 2013. Textbook rentals are reclassified to Prepaid and Other Current Assets in the period in which they were rented, and are amortized to their estimated residual value over the rental period. NOOK merchandise inventories are determined based on the average cost method.

Merchandise inventories for all segments are stated at the lower of cost or market. Market is determined based on the estimated net realizable value, which is generally the projected selling price. Since the majority of the B&N Retail and B&N College book inventory purchased is returnable for full credit to vendors, obsolescence reserves are primarily limited to non-returnable inventory. Reserves for non-returnable inventory are based on the Company's history of liquidating non-returnable inventory.

The Company also estimates and accrues shortage for the period between the last physical count of inventory and the balance sheet date. Shortage rates are estimated and accrued based on historical rates and can be affected by changes in merchandise mix and changes in actual shortage trends.

(2) Reclassifications and Restatements

Certain prior period amounts may have been reclassified to conform to the current presentation.

The Company has restated its previously reported consolidated financial statements for the 13 and 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. In fiscal 2013, management determined that the Company had incorrectly overstated certain accruals for the periods prior to April 27, 2013, as a result of inadequate controls over its Distribution Center accrual reconciliation process. In addition, in reviewing the Company's components of deferred income tax assets and liabilities, management determined that a deferred income tax liability was related to a transaction in which gain was reported for both accounting and tax purposes prior to 2010. Accordingly, management concluded that this deferred income tax liability should be reversed. Also, in fiscal 2013, management determined that the Company had not accrued a tenant allowance related to one of its properties in fiscal 2012 and did not record the current portion of deferred rent and tenant allowances as current liabilities. The financial information included in the accompanying financial statements and notes thereto reflect the impact of the corrections and other adjustments described within.

(3) Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sales of the Company's products is recognized at the time of sale or shipment, other than those with multiple elements and FOB destination point shipping terms. Certain of the Company sales agreements with its distribution partners contain rights of inspection or acceptance provisions as is standard in the Company's industry. The Company accrues for estimated sales returns in the period in which the related revenue is recognized based on historical experience and industry standards. ECommerce revenue from sales of products ordered through the Company's internet websites is recognized upon delivery and receipt of the shipment by its customers. Sales taxes collected from retail customers are excluded from reported revenues. All of the Company's sales are recognized as revenue on a net basis, including sales in connection with any periodic promotions offered to customers. The Company does not treat any promotional offers as expenses.

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 605-25, Revenue Recognition, Multiple Element Arrangements and Accounting Standards Updates (ASU) 2009-13 and 2009-14, for multiple-element arrangements that involve tangible products that contain software that is essential to the tangible product's functionality, undelivered software elements that relate to the tangible product's essential software and other separable elements, the Company allocates revenue to all deliverables using the relative selling-price method. Under this method, revenue is allocated at the time of sale to all deliverables based on their relative selling price using a specific hierarchy. The hierarchy is as follows: vendor-specific objective evidence, third-party evidence of selling price, or best estimate of selling price. NOOK® device revenue is recognized at the segment point of sale.

The Company includes post-service customer support (PCS) in the form of software updates and potential increased functionality on a when-and-if-available basis, as well as wireless access and wireless connectivity with the purchase of a NOOK® from the Company. Using the relative selling price described above, the Company allocates revenue based on the best estimate of selling price for the deliverables as no vendor-specific objective evidence or third-party evidence exists for any of the elements. Revenue allocated to NOOK® and the software essential to its functionality is recognized at the time of sale, provided all other conditions for revenue recognition are met. Revenue allocated to the PCS and the wireless access is deferred and recognized on a straight-line basis over the 2-year estimated life of a NOOK®.

The average percentage of a NOOK®'s sales price that is deferred for undelivered items and recognized over its 2-year estimated life ranges between 3% and 6%, depending on the type of device sold. The amount of NOOK®-related deferred revenue as of October 26, 2013, October 27, 2012 and April 27, 2013 was $12,816, $15,946 and $15,331, respectively. These amounts are classified on the Company's balance sheet in accrued liabilities for the portion that is subject to deferral for one year or less and other long-term liabilities for the portion that is subject to deferral for more than one year.

The Company also pays certain vendors who distribute NOOK® a commission on the content sales sold through that device. The Company accounts for these transactions as a reduction in the sales price of the NOOK® based on historical trends of content sales and a liability is established for the estimated commission expected to be paid over the life of the product. The Company recognizes revenue of the content at the point of sale of the content. The Company records revenue from sales of digital content, sales of third-party extended warranties, service contracts and other products, for which the Company is not obligated to perform, and for which the Company does not meet the criteria for gross revenue recognition under ASC 605-45-45, Reporting Revenue Gross as a Principal versus Net as an Agent, on a net basis. All other revenue is recognized on a gross basis.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

For the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012

(Thousands of dollars, except per share data)

(unaudited)

The Company rents both physical and digital textbooks. Revenue from physical textbooks is deferred and recognized over the rental period commencing at point of sale. Revenue for digital textbooks is deferred and recognized over the rental period commencing when the textbook has been downloaded. Over time, certain textbook rentals are not downloaded. The Company estimates that the likelihood of a download of textbooks that have not been downloaded after one year since the point of sale is remote. The Company records this amount in income on the month following the one-year anniversary of the point of sale.

NOOK acquires the rights to distribute digital content from publishers and distributes the content on barnesandnoble.com, NOOK® devices and other eBookstore platforms. Certain digital content is distributed under an agency pricing model in which the publishers set prices for eBooks and NOOK receives a commission on content sold through the eBookstore. The majority of the Company's eBook sales are sold under the agency model.

The Barnes & Noble Member Program offers members greater discounts and other benefits for products and services, as well as exclusive offers and promotions via e-mail or direct mail generally for an annual fee of $25.00, which is non-refundable after the first 30 days. Revenue is recognized over the twelve-month period based upon historical spending patterns for Barnes & Noble Members.

(4) Research and Development Costs for Software Products

The Company follows the guidance in ASC 985-20, Cost of Software to Be Sold, Leased or Marketed, regarding software development costs to be sold, leased, or otherwise marketed. Capitalization of software development costs begins upon the establishment of technological feasibility and is discontinued when the product is available for sale. A certain amount of judgment and estimation is required to assess when technological feasibility is established, as well as the ongoing assessment of the recoverability of capitalized costs. The Company's products reach technological feasibility shortly before the products are released and therefore research and development costs are generally expensed as incurred.

(5) Earnings (Loss) per Share

In accordance with ASC 260-10-45, Share-Based Payment Arrangements and Participating Securities and the Two-Class Method, the Company's unvested restricted shares, unvested restricted stock units and shares issuable under the Company's deferred compensation plan are considered participating securities. During periods of net income, the calculation of earnings per share for common stock are reclassified to exclude the income attributable to unvested restricted shares, unvested restricted stock units and shares issuable under the Company's deferred compensation plan from the numerator and exclude the dilutive impact of those shares from the denominator. Diluted earnings per share for the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 was calculated using the two-class method for stock options, restricted stock and restricted stock units, and the if-converted method for the preferred stock.

During periods of net loss, no effect is given to the participating securities because they do not share in the losses of the Company. Due to the net loss during the 13 and 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012 and the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, participating securities in the amount of 2,846,643, 2,886,968 and 2,758,721, respectively, were excluded from the calculation of loss per share using the two-class method because the effect would be antidilutive. The Company's outstanding stock options were also excluded from the calculation of loss per share using the two-class method because the effect would be antidilutive.

The Company's three operating segments are: B&N Retail, B&N College and NOOK.

B&N Retail

This segment includes 673 bookstores as of October 26, 2013, primarily under the Barnes & Noble Booksellers trade name. These stores generally offer a dedicated NOOK® area, a comprehensive trade book title base, a café, and departments dedicated to Juvenile, Toys & Games, DVDs, Music, Gift, Magazine and Bargain products. The stores also offer a calendar of ongoing events, including author appearances and children's activities. The B&N Retail segment also includes the Company's eCommerce website, barnesandnoble.com, and its publishing operation, Sterling Publishing.

B&N College

This segment includes 695 stores as of October 26, 2013 that are primarily operated under contracts by B&N College and include sales of digital content within the higher education marketplace through NOOK Study. The 695 B&N College stores generally offer new, used, rental and digital textbooks, course-related materials, emblematic apparel and gifts, trade books, computer products, NOOK® products and related accessories, school and dorm supplies, and convenience and café items.

NOOK

This segment includes the Company's digital business, including the development and support of the Company's NOOK® product offerings. The digital business includes digital content such as eBooks, digital newsstand, apps and sales of NOOK® devices and accessories to third party distribution partners, B&N Retail and B&N College.

(8) Gift Cards

The Company sells gift cards which can be used in its stores or on barnesandnoble.com. The Company does not charge administrative or dormancy fees on gift cards and gift cards have no expiration dates. Upon the purchase of a gift card, a liability is established for its cash value. Revenue associated with gift cards is deferred until redemption of the gift card. Over time, some portion of the gift cards issued are not redeemed. The Company estimates the portion of the gift card liability for which the likelihood of redemption is remote based upon the Company's historical redemption patterns. The Company records this amount in income on a straight-line basis over a 12-month period beginning in the 13th month after the month the gift card was originally sold. The Company recognized gift card breakage of $5,840 and $6,015 during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively and $11,672 and $12,060 during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively. The Company had gift card liabilities of $313,581 and $297,191 as of October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively.

(9) Other Long-Term Liabilities

Other long-term liabilities consist primarily of deferred rent, obligations under a junior seller note related to the acquisition of B&N College, tax liabilities and reserves and the Microsoft Commercial Agreement financing transaction (see Note 15). The Company provides for minimum rent expense over the lease terms (including the build-out period) on a straight-line basis. The excess of such rent expense over actual lease payments (net of tenant allowances) is classified as deferred rent. Other long-term liabilities also include accrued pension liabilities, store closing expenses and long-term deferred revenues. The Company had the following long-term liabilities at October 26, 2013, October 27, 2012 and April 27, 2013:

	October 26, 2013	October 27, 2012	April 27, 2013

 Total long-term liabilities	 $ 323,378	 $ 393,261	 $ 419,946

(10) Income Taxes

The Company recorded an income tax provision of $1,201 on a pre-tax income of $14,430 during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013, which represented an effective income tax rate of 8.3%. The Company recorded a $306 tax provision on pre-tax income of $807 during the 13 weeks ended October 27, 2012, which represented an effective income tax rate of 37.9%.

The Company recorded an income tax provision of $16,727 on a pre-tax loss of $(57,066) during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, which represented an effective income tax rate of (29.3)%. The Company recorded a $(21,093) tax benefit on pre-tax loss of $(60,420) during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012, which represented an effective income tax rate of 34.9%.

The income tax provisions for the 13 and 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 do not include income tax benefits on losses incurred by certain domestic operations because the Company recorded valuation allowances against the associated deferred assets. The income tax provision is principally comprised of the result of the activities of profitable jurisdictions and valuation allowances against certain deferred assets at October 26, 2013. The Company's pre-tax income in profitable jurisdictions, where it records tax provisions, was lower than domestic losses where it maintains valuation allowances and does not record tax benefits, resulting in a negative effective income tax rate for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013. The balance sheet presentation of certain tax payable and other items as at October 27, 2012 has been adjusted to conform with the appropriate presentation which is reflected at April 27, 2013.

As of October 26, 2013, the Company had $28,945 of unrecognized tax benefits, all of which, if recognized, would affect the Company's effective tax rate. The Company's continuing practice is to recognize interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. The Company had $10,705 accrued for interest and penalties, which is included in the $28,945 of unrecognized tax benefits noted above.

The Company is subject to U.S. federal income tax as well as income tax in jurisdictions of each state having an income tax. The Company's income tax returns are subject to ongoing tax examinations in several jurisdictions in which it operates. The tax years that remain subject to examination are primarily 2007 and forward. Some earlier years remain open for a small minority of states.

(11) Fair Values of Financial Instruments

In accordance with ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, the fair value of an asset is considered to be the price at which the asset could be sold in an orderly transaction between unrelated, knowledgeable and willing parties. A liability's fair value is defined as the amount that would be paid to transfer the liability to a new obligor, not the amount that would be paid to settle the liability with the creditor. Assets and liabilities recorded at fair value are measured using a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. These tiers include:

- Level 1 Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices in active markets
- Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring the Company to develop its own assumptions

The Company's financial instruments include cash, receivables, accounts payable and preferred membership interests warrants. The fair values of cash, receivables and accounts payable approximates carrying values because of the short-term nature of these instruments. The Company believes that its credit facility approximates fair value since interest rates are adjusted to reflect current rates. The Company believes that the terms and conditions of the junior seller note are consistent with comparable market debt issues. The fair value of the preferred membership interests warrants was determined using the Monte Carlo simulation method (see Note 16).

(12) Credit Facility

The Company is party to an amended and restated credit facility with Bank of America, N.A., as administrative agent, collateral agent and swing line lender, and other lenders, dated as of April 29, 2011 (as amended and modified to date, the Credit Facility), consisting of up to $1,000,000 in aggregate commitments under a five-year asset-backed revolving credit facility expiring on April 29, 2016, which is secured by eligible inventory and accounts receivable with the ability to include eligible real estate and related assets. Borrowings under the Credit Facility are limited to a specified percentage of eligible inventories and accounts receivable and accrued interest, at the election of the Company, at Base Rate or LIBO Rate, plus, in each case, an Applicable Margin (each term as defined in the Credit Facility). In addition, the Company has the option to request an increase in commitments under the Credit Facility by up to $300,000, subject to certain restrictions.

The Credit Facility requires Availability (as defined in the Credit Facility) to be greater than the greater of (i) 10% of the Loan Cap (as defined in the Credit Facility) and (ii) $50,000. In addition, the Credit Facility contains covenants that limit, among other things, the Company's ability to incur indebtedness, create liens, make investments, make restricted payments, merge or acquire assets, and contains default provisions that are typical for this type of financing, among other things. Proceeds from the Credit Facility are used for general corporate purposes, including seasonal working capital needs.

The Company had $105,000 of outstanding debt under the Credit Facility as of October 26, 2013 compared with $338,400 as of October 27, 2012. The Company had $34,485 of outstanding letters of credit under its Credit Facility as of October 26, 2013 compared with $34,567 as of October 27, 2012.

On July 8, 2013, the Company announced that William J. Lynch, Jr. resigned from the Company's Board of Directors and as Chief Executive Officer of the Company, effective immediately. In connection with his termination of employment on July 8, 2013, Mr. Lynch received full vesting in respect of 275,846 restricted stock units granted by the Company to Mr. Lynch, which had an aggregate value of $4,968. As a result of his resignation, Mr. Lynch also forfeited 166,667 shares of restricted stock units and 1,000,000 stock options, which had an aggregate forfeiture value of $1,119 and $1,690, respectively. The net stock compensation cost for this resignation was $1,883 and was recorded in selling and administrative expenses during the 13 weeks ended July 27, 2013.

(14) Pension and Other Postretirement Benefit Plans

As of December 31, 1999, substantially all employees of the Company were covered under a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the Pension Plan). As of January 1, 2000, the Pension Plan was amended so that employees no longer earn benefits for subsequent service. Effective December 31, 2004, the Barnes & Noble.com Employees Retirement Plan (the B&N.com Retirement Plan) was merged with the Pension Plan. Substantially all employees of Barnes & Noble.com were covered under the B&N.com Retirement Plan. As of July 1, 2000, the B&N.com Retirement Plan was amended so that employees no longer earn benefits for subsequent service. Subsequent service continues to be the basis for vesting of benefits not yet vested at December 31, 1999 and June 30, 2000 for the Pension Plan and the B&N.com Retirement Plan, respectively, and the Pension Plan will continue to hold assets and pay benefits. The actuarial assumptions used to calculate pension costs are reviewed annually. Pension expense was $709 and $842 for the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively and $1,331 and $1,587 for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively.

The Company maintains a defined contribution plan (the Savings Plan) for the benefit of substantially all employees. Total Company contributions charged to employee benefit expenses for the Savings Plan were $3,579 and $3,471 for the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively and $8,537 and $8,207 for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively. In addition, the Company provides certain health care and life insurance benefits (the Postretirement Plan) to certain retired employees,

(15) Microsoft

On April 27, 2012, the Company entered into an investment agreement between the Company, Morrison, and Microsoft pursuant to which the Company would form a Delaware limited liability company (NOOK Media), and transfer to NOOK Media the Company's digital device, digital content and college bookstore businesses and NOOK Media would sell to Morrison, and Morrison would purchase, 300,000 convertible preferred membership interests in NOOK Media (Series A Preferred) for an aggregate purchase price of $300,000.

Concurrently with its entry into this agreement, the Company also entered into a commercial agreement with Microsoft, pursuant to which, among other things, NOOK Media would develop and distribute a Windows 8 application for e-reading and digital content purchases, and an intellectual property license and settlement agreement with Microsoft and Microsoft Licensing GP.

The parties closed Morrison's investment in NOOK Media and the commercial agreement became effective on October 4, 2012.

Investment Agreement

Pursuant to the agreement, Microsoft invested $300,000 in NOOK Media in exchange for 300,000 Series A Preferred interests, representing approximately 17.6% of the common membership interests in NOOK Media on an as-converted basis as of closing. Following Microsoft's investment, the Company retained the common membership interest in NOOK Media, representing approximately 82.4% of the common membership interests in NOOK Media (after giving effect to the conversion of the Series A Preferred interests into common membership interests) as of closing. The investment agreement is classified as temporary equity in the mezzanine section of the balance sheet between liabilities and permanent equity, net of investment fees. The temporary equity designation is due to a potential put feature after five years from the closing of the investment agreement on the preferred membership interests. The preferred membership interests have a liquidation preference equal to the original investment.

Commercial Agreement

Under the commercial agreement, NOOK Media has developed and will continue to develop certain applications for Windows 8 for purchasing and consumption of digital reading content. The commercial agreement also requires NOOK Media to use its good faith efforts to undertake an international expansion of the digital business.

As part of the commercial agreement, NOOK Media and Microsoft share in the revenues, net of certain items, from digital content purchased from NOOK Media by customers using the NOOK Media Windows 8 applications or through certain Microsoft products and services that may be developed in the future and are designed to interact with the NOOK Media online bookstore. Microsoft has made and is obligated to continue to make certain guaranteed advance payments to NOOK Media in connection with such revenue sharing. For each of the first three years after the launch of such application for Windows 8, these advance payments are equal to $60,000 per year. These advance payments are subject to deferral under certain circumstances. The Company previously disclosed that it expected to be selling content in 10 international markets by June 30, 2013. While the Company has launched the NOOK app for Windows 8.1 in 32 countries and 21 languages, the Company has not met the content thresholds in all the markets as per the requirements under the commercial agreement. The Company is actively acquiring content internationally and expects to be in compliance with the requirement by the end of the fiscal year. This delay may entitle Microsoft to defer a portion of advance payments until the target expansion requirement is met. Microsoft also has paid and is obligated to continue to pay to NOOK Media $25,000 each year for the first five years of the term for purposes of assisting NOOK Media in acquiring local digital reading content and technology development in the performance of NOOK Media's obligations under the commercial agreement.

The guaranteed advance payments in connection with revenue sharing as well as the amounts received for purposes of assisting NOOK Media in acquiring local digital reading content and technology development received from Microsoft are treated as debt in accordance with ASC 470-10-25-2, Sales of Future Revenues or Various Other Measures of Income. The Company has estimated the cash flows associated with the commercial agreement and is amortizing the discount on the debt to interest expense over the term of the agreement in accordance with ASC 835-30-35-2, The Interest Method.

Settlement and License Agreement

The patent agreement provides for Microsoft and its subsidiaries to license to the Company and its affiliates certain intellectual property in exchange for royalty payments based on sales of certain devices. Additionally, the Company and Microsoft dismissed certain outstanding patent litigation between the Company, Microsoft and their respective affiliates in accordance with the settlement and license agreement. The Company records the royalty expense upon future NOOK® sales in the statement of operations in cost of sales and occupancy with no expense or liability for the sale of devices prior to this agreement.

(16) Pearson

On December 21, 2012, NOOK Media entered into an agreement with a subsidiary of Pearson plc (Pearson) to make a strategic investment in NOOK Media. That transaction closed on January 22, 2013, and Pearson invested approximately $89,500 of cash in NOOK Media at a post-money valuation of approximately $1,789,000 in exchange for preferred membership interests representing a 5% equity stake in NOOK Media. Following the closing of the transaction, the Company owns approximately 78.2% of the NOOK Media subsidiary and Microsoft, which also holds preferred membership interests, owns approximately 16.8%. The preferred membership interests have a liquidation preference equal to the original investment. In addition, NOOK Media granted warrants to Pearson to purchase up to an additional 5% of NOOK Media under certain conditions at a pre-money valuation of NOOK Media of approximately $1,789,000. The fair value of the preferred membership interests warrant liability was calculated using the Monte Carlo simulation approach.

This methodology values financial instruments whose value is dependent on an underlying total equity value by sampling random paths for the total equity value. The assumptions that are analyzed and incorporated into the model include closing date, valuation date, sales price of the preferred membership interests and warrants, warrant expiration date, time to liquidity event, risk-free rate, volatility, various correlations and the probability of meeting the net sales target. Based on the Company's analysis, the total fair value of preferred membership interests warrants as of the valuation date was $1,700 and was recorded as a noncurrent asset and a long term liability. The noncurrent asset is being amortized over the vesting period in line with its net sales target.

(17) Shareholders' Equity

On May 15, 2007, the Company's Board of Directors authorized a stock repurchase program for the purchase of up to $400,000 of the Company's common stock. The maximum dollar value of common stock that may yet be purchased under the current program is approximately $2,471 as of October 26, 2013. Stock repurchases under this program may be made through open market and privately negotiated transactions from time to time and in such amounts as management deems appropriate. During the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, there were no stock repurchases under this stock repurchase program.

(18) Legal Proceedings

The Company is involved in a variety of claims, suits, investigations and proceedings that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of its business, including actions with respect to contracts, intellectual property, taxation, employment, benefits, securities, personal injuries and other matters. The results of these proceedings in the ordinary course of business are not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

The Company records a liability when it believes that it is both probable that a liability will be incurred, and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. The Company evaluates, at least quarterly, developments in its legal matters that could affect the amount of liability that has been previously accrued and makes adjustments as appropriate. Significant judgment is required to determine both probability and the estimated amount of a loss or potential loss. The Company may be unable to reasonably estimate the reasonably possible loss or range of loss for a particular legal contingency for various reasons, including, among others: (i) if the damages sought are indeterminate; (ii) if proceedings are in the early stages; (iii) if there is uncertainty as to the outcome of pending proceedings (including motions and appeals); (iv) if there is uncertainty as to the likelihood of settlement and the outcome of any negotiations with respect thereto; (v) if there are significant factual issues to be determined or resolved; (vi) if the proceedings involve a large number of parties; (vii) if relevant law is unsettled or novel or untested legal theories are presented; or (viii) if the proceedings are taking place in jurisdictions where the laws are complex or unclear. In such instances, there is considerable uncertainty regarding the ultimate resolution of such matters, including a possible eventual loss, if any. With respect to the legal matters described below, the Company has determined, based on its current knowledge, that the amount of loss or range of loss, that is reasonably possible including any reasonably possible losses in excess of amounts already accrued, is not reasonably estimable. However, legal matters are inherently unpredictable and subject to significant uncertainties, some of which are beyond the Company's control. As such, there can be no assurance that the final outcome of these matters will not materially and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.

The following is a discussion of the material legal matters involving the Company.

PATENT LITIGATION

Barnes & Noble, Inc. and its subsidiaries are subject to allegations of patent infringement by various patent holders, including non-practicing entities, sometimes referred to as patent trolls, who may seek monetary settlements from the Company, its competitors, suppliers and resellers. In some of these cases, the Company is the sole defendant. In others, the Company is one of a number of defendants. The Company is actively defending a number of patent infringement suits, and several pending claims are in various stages of evaluation. The following cases are among the patent infringement cases pending against the Company:

Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnesandnoble.com llc v. LSI Corporation and Agere Systems, Inc.

On June 6, 2011, Barnes & Noble, Inc. filed a complaint against LSI Corporation (LSI) in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The complaint sought a declaratory judgment that Barnes & Noble, Inc. does not infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 5,546,420; 5,670,730; 5,862,182; 5,920,552; 6,044,073; 6,119,091; 6,404,732; 6,452,958; 6,707,867 and 7,583,582. Barnes & Noble, Inc. amended the complaint on August 10, 2011 to add barnesandnoble.com llc as a plaintiff, to add Agere Systems, Inc. (Agere) as a defendant, to add a cause of action seeking a declaratory judgment that neither Barnes & Noble, Inc. nor barnesandnoble.com llc infringes U.S. Patent No. 7,477,633, and to add causes of action seeking a declaratory judgment that each of the eleven patents-in-suit is invalid. On November 1, 2011, LSI and Agere answered the amended complaint and asserted counterclaims against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc, alleging infringement of the eleven patents-in-suit. On November 28, 2011, Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc answered the counterclaims and asserted several affirmative defenses, including the defense that seven of the patents-in-suit are unenforceable as a result of standard-setting misconduct. As required by the District Court's Local Patent Rules, LSI and Agere served their Disclosure of Asserted Claims and Infringement Contentions on July 2, 2012. In that disclosure, LSI and Agere asserted infringement of only six of the eleven patents they had previously accused Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc of infringing. On January 18, 2013, LSI and Agere notified Barnes & Noble, Inc. that they were dropping another asserted patent infringement claim. On May 20, 2013, LSI and Agere filed amended counterclaims, alleging infringement of five additional patents U.S. Patent Nos. 8,041,394; 5,870,087; 5,568,167; 6,982,663 and 5,452,006. Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc responded to these amended counterclaims and asserted several affirmative defenses on June 21, 2013. The District Court has set certain pretrial dates in the case, including a claim construction hearing beginning on March 24, 2014. The District Court has not yet set a trial date in the case.

Technology Properties Limited et al. v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., et al.

On July 24, 2012, Technology Properties Limited, LLC, Phoenix Digital Solutions, LLC, and Patriot Scientific Corporation (collectively, TPL) submitted a complaint to the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), captioned Certain Wireless Consumer Electronics Devices and Components thereof, Inv. No. 337-TA-853, requesting that the ITC institute an investigation pursuant to Section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The complaint alleges that the sale for importation into the United States, the importation, and/or the sale within the United States after importation of the Company's NOOKTM products infringe certain claims of U.S. Patent No. 5,809,336 ('336). The complaint also asserts similar claims against the products of 23 other Respondents. The complaint requests that the ITC issue a permanent exclusion order and a permanent cease-and-desist order with respect to these products. On September 24, 2012, the Company filed a response to the complaint, denying that its products infringe the '336 patent and denying that it has engaged in any action that would constitute unlawful sale for importation into the United States, importation, or sale within the United States after importation. The Company also asserted ten affirmative defenses. On June 3-7, 2013 and June 10-11, 2013, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) conducted a hearing in the action. On September 6, 2013, the ALJ issued his Initial Determination on Violation of Section 337 (ID), in which the ALJ found that neither the Company nor any of the other Respondents had violated Section 337. Concurrently, as required by governing ITC regulations, the ALJ issued a Recommended Determination on Remedy and Bond (RD). In the RD, the ALJ recommended that if, contrary to the ID, the Commission determines that a violation of Section 337 occurred: (i) a limited exclusion order should issue; (ii) no cease and desist orders should issue; and (iii) no bond should be imposed during the Presidential review period. On September 23, 2013, TPL filed a petition for review of the ID and RD and Respondents, including the Company, filed a contingent petition for review of certain portions of the ID. The original target date for ITC resolution of the investigation is January 6, 2014. However, because the ITC was closed as a result of the federal government shut down, the ITC extended all deadlines by sixteen days, making January 22, 2014 the new target date for completion of the investigation.

Also on July 24, 2012, TPL filed a complaint against the Company in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The complaint similarly alleges that the Company is infringing the '336 patent through the importation and sale in the United States of NOOKTM products. The complaint also alleges that Barnes & Noble is infringing two other patents in the same patent family: U.S. Patent No. 5,440,749 and U.S. Patent No. 5,530,890. On September 21, 2012, TPL and the Company filed a stipulation agreeing to stay the action pending final resolution of the ITC action. On September 26, 2012, the District Court granted the motion to stay.

Adrea LLC v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., barnesandnoble.com llc and Nook Media LLC

On June 14, 2013, Adrea LLC filed a complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc., barnesandnoble.com llc and Nook Media LLC (B&N) in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that various B&N NOOK products and related online services infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 7,298,851, 7,299,501 and 7,620,703. B&N filed its Answer on August 9, 2013, denying infringement and asserting several affirmative defenses. At the same time, B&N filed counterclaims seeking declaratory judgments of non-infringement and invalidity with respect to each of the patents-in-suit. The Court has set a further amended case management schedule under which a claim construction hearing was held on November 1, 2013; fact discovery is to be substantially

No trial date has been set.

Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., et al.

On August 27, 2012, Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO) filed a complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and seven other defendants in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas. The complaint alleges that the Company is infringing U.S. Patent No. 5,487,069 ('069). On October 19, 2012, the Company answered the complaint, denying CSIRO's material allegations, asserting several affirmative defenses, and asserting counterclaims for a declaratory judgment of invalidity and non-infringement. On February 19, 2013, the Company amended its answer to add an affirmative defense that the '069 patent is unenforceable due to inequitable conduct.

The court entered a discovery order and docket control order on April 25, 2013. A claim construction hearing is scheduled for April 10, 2014. The District Court has set the trial date for July 6, 2015.

The Company intends to continue to vigorously defend itself against CSIRO's claims. However, because discovery is in its early stages and the court has not yet construed the asserted claims of the '069 patent, we are not able to render a professional judgment as to the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome or the amount of any potential loss.

OTHER LITIGATION AND PROCEEDINGS

Kevin Khoa Nguyen, an individual, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated v. Barnes & Noble, Inc.

On April 17, 2012, a complaint was filed in the Superior Court for the State of California against the Company. The complaint is styled as a nationwide class action and includes a California state-wide subclass based on alleged cancellations of orders for HP TouchPad Tablets placed on the Company's website in August 2011. The lawsuit alleges claims for unfair business practices and false advertising under both New York and California state law, violation of the Consumer Legal Remedies Act under California law, and breach of contract. The complaint demands specific performance of the alleged contracts to sell HP TouchPad Tablets at a specified price, injunctive relief, and monetary relief, but does not specify an amount. The Company submitted its initial response to the complaint on May 18, 2012, and moved to compel plaintiff to arbitrate his claims on an individual basis pursuant to a contractual arbitration provision on May 25, 2012. The court denied the Company's motion to compel arbitration, and the Company appealed that denial to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The Company filed its opening brief on the appeal on February 11, 2013. The answering brief was filed on April 13, 2013, and the Company's reply brief was filed on May 23, 2013. The Company has also moved to dismiss the complaint and moved to transfer the action to New York. The court granted the Company's motion to stay on November 26, 2012, and the action has been stayed pending resolution of the Company's appeal from the court's denial of its motion to compel arbitration.

PIN Pad Litigation

As previously disclosed, the Company discovered that PIN pads in certain of its stores had been tampered to allow criminal access to card data and PIN numbers on credit and debit cards swiped through the terminals. Following public disclosure of this matter on October 24, 2012, the Company was served with four putative class action complaints (three in federal district court in the Northern District of Illinois and one in the Northern District of California), each of which alleged on behalf of national and other classes of customers who swiped credit and debit cards in Barnes & Noble Retail stores common law claims such as negligence, breach of contract and invasion of privacy, as well as statutory claims such as violations of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, state data breach notification statutes, and state unfair and deceptive practices statutes. The actions sought various forms of relief including damages, injunctive or equitable relief, multiple or punitive damages, attorneys' fees, costs, and interest. All four cases were transferred and/or assigned to a single Judge in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, and a single consolidated amended complaint was filed. The Company filed a motion to dismiss the consolidated amended complaint in its entirety, and in September 2013, the Court granted the motion to dismiss without prejudice. The Plaintiffs then filed an amended complaint, and the Company filed a second motion to dismiss. That motion is pending, and a decision is not expected from the Court until January 29, 2014 or later. It is possible that additional litigation arising out of this matter may be commenced on behalf of customers, banks or other card issuers, payment card companies or stockholders seeking damages allegedly arising out of this incident and other related relief.

The Company also has received inquiries related to this matter from the Federal Trade Commission and eight state attorneys general, all of which have either been closed or have not had any recent activity. The Company intends to cooperate with them if further activity arises. In addition, payment card companies and associations may impose fines by reason of the tampering and federal or state enforcement authorities may impose penalties or other remedies against the Company.

At this point the Company is unable to predict the developments in, outcome of, and economic and other consequences of pending or future litigation or state and federal inquiries related to this matter.

Dustin Torrez, an individual, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated v. Barnes & Noble, Inc.

On October 11, 2011, a complaint was filed in the Superior Court for the State of California against the Company. The complaint was styled as a California state-wide class action. It alleged violations of California Civil Code section 1747.08 (the Song-Beverly Credit Card Act of 1971) due to the Company's alleged improper requesting and recording of zip codes from California customers who used credit cards as payment. The complaint was re-filed in the Superior Court for the State of California on December 23, 2011 as a separate action. The Summons and Complaint have not been served on the Company for either action. On February 10, 2012, the plaintiff filed a request that the action filed in December be dismissed with prejudice. The dismissal was entered in March 2012.

Lina v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. et al.

On August 5, 2011, a purported class action complaint was filed against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. in the Superior Court for the State of California making the following allegations against defendants with respect to salaried Store Managers at Barnes & Noble stores located in the State of California from the period of August 5, 2007 to present: (1) failure to pay wages and overtime; (2) failure to pay for missed meal and/or rest breaks; (3) waiting time penalties; (4) failure to pay minimum wage; (5) failure to provide reimbursement for business expenses; and (6) failure to provide itemized wage statements. The claims are generally derivative of the allegation that these salaried managers were improperly classified as exempt from California's wage and hour laws. The complaint contains no allegations concerning the number of any such alleged violations or the amount of recovery sought on behalf of the purported class. The Company was served with the complaint on August 11, 2011. The parties have completed pre-certification discovery. On October 18, 2013, the court changed the previously ordered certification motion schedule. The current schedule is as follows: Plaintiff's motion for class certification was due November 11, 2013, Barnes & Noble's opposition is due January 13, 2014, and plaintiff's reply is due February 25, 2014. The hearing date for the certification motion is March 21, 2014. No trial date has been set.

Jones et al v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. et al.

On April 23, 2013, Kenneth Jones (Jones) filed a purported Private Attorney General Act action complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. in the Superior Court for the State of California making the following allegations against defendants with respect to salaried Store Managers at Barnes & Noble stores located in the State of California: (1) failure to pay wages and overtime; (2) failure to pay for missed meal and/or rest breaks; (3) waiting time penalties; (4) failure to pay minimum wage; (5) failure to provide reimbursement for business expenses; and (6) failure to provide itemized wage statements. The claims are generally derivative of the allegation that Jones and other aggrieved employees were improperly classified as exempt from California's wage and hour laws. The complaint contains no allegations concerning the number of any such alleged violations or the amount of recovery sought on behalf of the plaintiff or the purported aggrieved employees. The case was initially assigned to the Honorable Barbara Scheper. Because the underlying factual claims in the Jones complaint are almost identical to the claims in the Lina v. Barnes & Noble action, the Company filed a Notice of Related Case on May 1, 2013. On May 7, 2013, Judge Michael Johnson (before whom the Lina action is pending) ordered the Jones action related to the Lina action and assigned the Jones action to himself. The Company was served with the complaint on May 16, 2013, and filed an answer on June 10, 2013.

Trimmer v. Barnes & Noble

On January 25, 2013, Steven Trimmer (Trimmer), a former Assistant Store Manager (ASM) of the Company, filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and New York Labor Law (NYLL). Specifically, Trimmer alleges that he and other similarly situated ASMs were improperly classified as exempt from overtime and denied overtime wages prior to July 1, 2010, when the Company reclassified them as non-exempt. complaint seeks to certify a collective action under the FLSA comprised of ASMs throughout the country employed from January 25, 2010 until July 1, 2010, and a class action under the NYLL comprised of ASMs employed in New York from January 25, 2007 until July 1, 2010. The parties have completed the first phase of discovery with respect to the individual claims asserted by Trimmer and one opt-in plaintiff only. The Court has stayed all class-wide discovery at this point. The Company filed a summary judgment motion on November 25, 2013.

Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Investigation

On October 16, 2013, the SEC's New York Regional office notified the Company that it had commenced an investigation into: (1) the Company's restatement of earnings announced on July 29, 2013, and (2) a separate matter related to a former non-executive employee's allegation that the Company improperly allocated certain Information Technology expenses between its NOOK and Retail segments for purposes of segment reporting. The Company is cooperating with the SEC, including responding to requests for documents.

(19) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2013-11, Income Taxes. ASU 2013-11 requires that an unrecognized tax benefit, or a portion of an unrecognized tax benefit, should be presented in the financial statements as a reduction to a deferred tax asset for a net operating loss carryforward, a similar tax loss, or a tax credit carryforward, with certain exceptions. This ASU is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those years, beginning after December 15, 2013, with early adoption permitted. The adoption will not be effective for the Company's Fiscal 2014 Consolidated Financial Statements and is not expected to have a significant impact when adopted.

Review Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors

Barnes & Noble, Inc.

New York, New York

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet of Barnes & Noble, Inc. as of October 26, 2013 and the related condensed consolidated statements of operations for the thirteen and twenty-six week periods ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, and the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows for the twenty-six week periods ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the condensed consolidated financial statements referred to above for them to be in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated balance sheet of Barnes & Noble, Inc. as of April 27, 2013, and the related consolidated statements of operations, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein) and we expressed an unqualified audit opinion on those consolidated financial statements in our report dated July 26, 2013. In our opinion, the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheet as of April 27, 2013, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The primary sources of Barnes & Noble, Inc.'s (Barnes & Noble or the Company) cash are net cash flows from operating activities, funds available under its credit facility, cash received and committed in connection with the formation of NOOK Media LLC (NOOK Media) and related commercial agreements, cash received from the Pearson plc (Pearson) strategic investment in NOOK Media and short-term vendor financing.

The Company is party to an amended and restated credit facility with Bank of America, N.A., as administrative agent, collateral agent and swing line lender, and other lenders, dated as of April 29, 2011 (as amended and modified to date, the Credit Facility), consisting of up to $1 billion in aggregate commitments under a five-year asset-backed revolving credit facility expiring on April 29, 2016, which is secured by eligible inventory and accounts receivable with the ability to include eligible real estate and related assets. Borrowings under the Credit Facility are limited to a specified percentage of eligible inventories and accounts receivable and accrued interest, at the election of the Company, at Base Rate or LIBO Rate, plus, in each case, an Applicable Margin (each term as defined in the Credit Facility). In addition, the Company has the option to request an increase in commitments under the Credit Facility by up to $300 million, subject to certain restrictions.

The Credit Facility requires Availability (as defined in the Credit Facility) to be greater than the greater of (i) 10% of the Loan Cap (as defined in the Credit Facility) and (ii) $50 million. In addition, the Credit Facility contains covenants that limit, among other things, the Company's ability to incur indebtedness, create liens, make investments, make restricted payments, merge or acquire assets, and contains default provisions that are typical for this type of financing, among other things. Proceeds from the Credit Facility are used for general corporate purposes, including seasonal working capital needs.

The Company's cash and cash equivalents were $297.3 million as of October 26, 2013, compared with $471.0 million as of October 27, 2012. The decline in cash of $173.7 million is attributable to NOOK losses, partially offset by the Pearson investment, proceeds from the Microsoft Commercial agreement, B&N College profits and improvements in working capital. On October 26, 2013, the Company had borrowings of $105.0 million against its $1.0 billion credit facility compared to $338.4 million in the prior year period. The decline in borrowings of $233.4 million is primarily attributable to cash flows generated by B&N Retail. The Company had $34.5 million of outstanding letters of credit as of October 26, 2013 compared with $34.6 million as of October 27, 2012.

Merchandise inventories decreased $204.3 million, or 11.4%, to $1.592 billion as of October 26, 2013, compared with $1.796 billion as of October 27, 2012. This decrease is primarily due to lower NOOK and B&N College inventories. NOOK inventories decreased due to lower net realizable value and less units on hand. College inventories decreased due to lower new textbook purchases and earlier returns to publishers. Retail inventory decreased on lower trade book inventory and lower sales trends. Receivables, net decreased $40.2 million or 17.21% to $193.3 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $233.5 million as of October 27, 2012. This decrease was primarily due to lower channel partner receivables. Prepaid expenses and other current assets increased $20.8 million, or 14.5%, to $164.6 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $143.8 million as of October 27, 2012. This increase was primarily driven by an increase in textbook rental inventory on increased rental business. Short-term deferred taxes increased $54.8 million or 40.7% to $189.7 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $134.9 million as of October 27, 2012. This increase is primarily due to reclassifications, timing differences and a valuation allowance. Accounts Payable decreased $122.0 million, or 9.1%, to $1.226 billion as of October 26, 2013, compared to $1.348 billion as of October 27, 2012. Accounts payable was 77% and 75% of merchandise inventory as of October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively. Accrued liabilities increased $17.9 million, or 3.4%, to $544.0 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $526.1 million as of October 27, 2012. Accrued liabilities include deferred income, accrued taxes, compensation, occupancy related, legal and other miscellaneous accruals. Gift card liabilities increased $16.4 million, or 5.5%, to $313.6 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $297.2 million as of October 27, 2012 as gift card issuances exceeded redemptions and breakage over the past twelve months. The Junior Seller Note of $127.3 million relates to the acquisition of B&N College and was reclassified to short-term as it is due September 2014. Other long-term liabilities decreased $69.9 million, or 17.8%, to $323.4 million as of October 26, 2013, compared to $393.3 million as of October 27, 2012. Proceeds received from the Microsoft Commercial Agreement financing transaction were offset by lower tax reserves, deferred rent and the reclassification of the Junior Seller Note to short-term.

The Company has arrangements with third-party manufacturers to produce its NOOK® products. These manufacturers procure and assemble unfinished parts and components from third-party suppliers based on forecasts provided by the Company. Given production lead times, commitments are generally made far in advance of finished product delivery. Based on current purchase commitments and product development plans, the Company records a provision for purchase commitments. Future charges may be required based on changes in forecasted sales or strategic direction.

The Company's investing activities consist principally of capital expenditures for the maintenance of existing stores, new store construction, digital initiatives and enhancements to systems and the website. The Company plans to launch its new eCommerce website next year. The new website is expected to enhance its search capabilities, enable faster shipping and yield cost savings. The Company believes that the new website will allow it to be more competitive in the marketplace and continue to be a valuable resource for its customers, whether they would like to buy products shipped to their homes or picked up in the stores. Capital expenditures totaled $70.1 million and $67.0 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively.

On April 27, 2012, the Company entered into an investment agreement between the Company, Morrison and Microsoft pursuant to which the Company would form NOOK Media, and transfer to NOOK Media the Company's digital device, digital content and college bookstore businesses and NOOK Media would sell to Morrison, and Morrison would purchase, 300,000 convertible preferred membership interests in NOOK Media for an aggregate purchase price of $300.0 million. On October 4, 2012, NOOK Media was formed and the Company sold to Morrison 300,000 convertible preferred membership interests in NOOK Media for an aggregate purchase price of $300.0 million. The convertible preferred membership interests have a liquidation preference equal to Microsoft's original investment. Concurrently with its entry into this agreement, the Company has also entered into a commercial agreement with Microsoft, whereby, among other things, NOOK Media has developed and distributed a Windows 8 application for e-reading and digital content purchases, and has entered into an intellectual property license and settlement agreement with Microsoft and Microsoft Licensing GP. As part of the commercial agreement, for each of the first three years since the launch of the application for Windows 8, NOOK Media received and expects to continue to receive advance payments of $60.0 million per year from Microsoft. These advance payments are subject to deferral under certain circumstances. The Company previously disclosed that it expected to be selling content in 10 international markets by June 30, 2013. While the Company has launched the NOOK app for Windows 8.1 in 32 countries and 21 languages, the Company has not met the content thresholds in all the markets as per the requirements under the commercial agreement. The Company is actively acquiring content internationally and expects to be in compliance with the requirement by the end of the fiscal year. This delay may entitle Microsoft to defer a portion of advance payments until the target expansion requirement is met. Microsoft has paid and is obligated to continue to pay to NOOK Media $25.0 million each year for the first five years of the term for purposes of assisting NOOK Media in acquiring local digital reading content and technology development in the performance of NOOK Media's obligations under the commercial agreement. Under the terms of this transaction, NOOK Media was debt-free at inception, except for trade accounts payable and other working capital requirements. Under the limited liability company agreement of NOOK Media, no distributions may be made by NOOK Media without Morrison's approval.

On December 21, 2012, NOOK Media entered into an agreement with a subsidiary of Pearson to make a strategic investment in NOOK Media. That transaction closed on January 22, 2013, and Pearson invested approximately $89.5 million of cash in NOOK Media at a post-money valuation of approximately $1.789 billion in exchange for convertible preferred membership interests representing a 5% equity stake in NOOK Media. Following the closing of the transaction, the Company owns approximately 78.2% of NOOK Media and Microsoft, which holds convertible preferred membership interests, owns approximately 16.8%. The convertible preferred membership interests have a liquidation preference equal to the original investment. In addition, NOOK Media granted warrants to Pearson to purchase up to an additional 5% of NOOK Media under certain conditions at a pre-money valuation of NOOK Media of approximately $1.789 billion.

At closing, NOOK Media and Pearson entered into a commercial agreement with respect to distributing Pearson content in connection with this strategic investment.

On August 18, 2011, the Company entered into an investment agreement between the Company and Liberty GIC, Inc. (Liberty) pursuant to which the Company issued and sold to Liberty, and Liberty purchased, 204,000 shares of the Company's Series J Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share (Preferred Stock), for an aggregate purchase price of $204.0 million in a private placement exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act. The shares of Preferred Stock will be convertible, at the option of the holders, into shares of Common Stock representing 16.6% of the Common Stock outstanding as of August 29, 2011, (after giving pro forma effect to the issuance of the Preferred Stock), based on the initial conversion rate. The initial conversion rate reflects an initial conversion price of $17.00 and is subject to adjustment in certain circumstances. The initial dividend rate for the Preferred Stock is equal to 7.75% per annum of the initial liquidation preference of the Preferred Stock to be paid quarterly and subject to adjustment in certain circumstances.

Based upon the Company's current operating levels, management believes cash and cash equivalents on hand, net cash flows from operating activities, cash received and committed in the formation of NOOK Media and related commercial agreements, cash received from the Pearson strategic investment in NOOK Media, short-term vendor financing and the capacity under the credit facility will be sufficient to meet the Company's normal working capital and debt service requirements for at least the next twelve months. The Company regularly evaluates its capital structure and conditions in the financing markets to ensure it maintains adequate flexibility to successfully execute its business plan.

On September 30, 2009, in connection with the closing of the acquisition of B&N College (the Acquisition), the Company issued the sellers (i) a senior subordinated note (the Senior Seller Note) in the principal amount of $100.0 million, with interest of 8% per annum payable on the unpaid principal amount, which was paid on December 15, 2010 in accordance to its scheduled date, and (ii) a junior subordinated note (the Junior Seller Note) in the principal amount of $150.0 million, payable in full on the fifth anniversary of the closing of the Acquisition, with interest of 10% per annum payable on the unpaid principal amount. Pursuant to a settlement agreed to on June 13, 2012, the sellers have agreed to waive their right to receive $22.8 million in principal amount (and interest on such principal amount) of the Junior Seller Note. The net short-term payable of $127.3 million is due September 30, 2014 and has been reclassified to a short-term liability accordingly.

Segments

The Company identifies its operating segments based on the way the business is managed (focusing on the financial information distributed) and the manner in which the chief operating decision maker interacts with other members of management. The Company's three operating segments are: B&N Retail, B&N College and NOOK.

Seasonality

The B&N Retail business, like that of many retailers, is seasonal, with the major portion of sales and operating profit realized during its third fiscal quarter, which includes the holiday selling season.

The B&N College business is highly seasonal, with the major portion of sales and operating profit realized during the second and third fiscal quarters, when college students generally purchase and rent textbooks for the upcoming semesters. Revenues from textbook rentals, which primarily occur at the beginning of the semester, are recognized over the rental period.

The NOOK business, like that of many technology companies, is impacted by the launch of new products and the promotional efforts to support those new products, as well as the traditional retail holiday selling seasonality.

Business Overview

The Company's financial performance has been significantly impacted in recent years by a number of factors, including the expanding digital market, increased online competition and the economic downturn. However, the Company has benefited from reduced physical bookstore competition in the marketplace, the successful execution of new merchandising strategies, its ability to acquire new college contracts and by expanding its offerings to college students. Additionally, the Company has leveraged its unique assets, iconic brands and reach to become a leader in the distribution of digital content.

The Company derives the majority of its sales and net income from its B&N Retail and B&N College stores.

B&N Retail comparable store sales benefited as one of B&N Retail's largest competitors in the sale of physical books, Borders Group, Inc. (Borders), completed liquidating all of its stores under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in early fiscal 2012. While the Company expects declining physical book trends to continue industry-wide as consumer spending shifts further online and toward digital products, it expects to be the beneficiary of further market consolidation as other non-book retailers reduce their presence in the book category. Additionally, the Company continues to experience positive trends in its Toys & Games business as a result of the successful execution of new merchandising strategies. The Company is making further investments in its retail business this fiscal year and plans to launch a new eCommerce platform, which it believes will allow it to be more competitive in the marketplace.

B&N College provides direct access to a large and well-educated demographic group, enabling the Company to build relationships with students throughout their college years and beyond. The Company also expects to be the beneficiary of market consolidation as more and more schools outsource their bookstore management. The Company is in a unique market position to benefit from this trend given its full suite of services: bookstore management, textbook rental and digital delivery. The Company is making further investments in its college business, including investments to enhance offerings of digital products. The Company believes higher education provides a long-term growth opportunity.

NOOK represents the Company's digital business, including devices, digital content and accessories. Over the past four years, the Company entered the e-book market, launched its NOOK® brand of eReading products, and has introduced several NOOK® black-and-white and color devices, which provide a fun, easy-to-use and immersive digital reading experience. With NOOK®, customers gain access to the expansive NOOK Store of more than three million digital books, plus periodicals, comics, apps, movies and TV shows. In addition to NOOK® devices, the Company makes it easy for customers to enjoy any book, anytime, anywhere with its free line of NOOK® Reading Apps. Customers can use Barnes & Noble's eReading software to access and read books from their personal Barnes & Noble digital library on many 3rd party devices including Windows 8 PCs and tablets, iPads, iPhone®, and Android tablets and smartphones. The Lifetime Library helps ensure that Barnes & Noble customers will always be able to access their digital libraries on NOOK® products and software-enabled devices.

The Company sells digital content in the U.K. directly through its NOOK devices and its nook.co.uk website. The Company plans to continue to expand into additional international markets and believes that its partnership with Microsoft will help foster that expansion. The Company previously disclosed that it expected to be in 10 international markets by June 30, 2013. While the Company has launched the NOOK app for Windows 8.1 in 32 countries and 21 languages, the Company has not met the content thresholds in all the markets as per the requirements under the commercial agreement. The Company is actively acquiring content internationally and expects to be in compliance with the requirement by the end of the fiscal year. Additionally, the Company believes that its partnership with Pearson will accelerate customer access to digital content by pairing Pearson's leading expertise in online learning with NOOK's expertise in reading technology, online commerce and customer service.

The Company has made significant investments building the valuable NOOK® digital retailing platform, which has resulted in millions of digital customers buying content from Barnes & Noble. The Company's digital strategy is to offer customers any digital book or magazine, any time, on any device. The Company remains committed to having a premier digital bookstore and is focused on selling content to its existing customers as well as exploring new markets. Additionally, the Company remains committed to its NOOK device business. The Company intends to continue to design and develop innovative NOOK black-and-white and color devices, and believes that by offering high-quality reading devices at lower costs, it can drive device sales, and ultimately content sales. The Company will also focus on the sale of its existing device inventory and intends to continue to provide the resources necessary for quality customer service and support of those devices as well as devices in use by NOOK's existing customer base.

The Company believes its footprint of more than 1,300 stores will continue to be a major competitive asset in capturing digital content share. The Company will continue to integrate its traditional retail, trade book and college bookstores businesses with its electronic and Internet offerings, using retail stores in attractive geographic markets to promote and sell digital devices and content. Customers can see, feel and experiment with the NOOK® in the Company's stores.

Although the stores will be just a part of the offering, they will remain a key driver of sales and cash flow as the Company expands its multi-channel relationships with its customers. While the Company plans to open a few retail stores in new geographic markets, the Company expects to reduce the total net number of retail stores. B&N College expects to increase its college store base.

Although the Company believes cash on hand, cash flows from operating activities, funds available from its Credit Facility, cash received and committed in the formation of NOOK Media, cash received from the Pearson strategic investment in NOOK Media and short-term vendor financing provide the Company with adequate liquidity and capital resources for seasonal working capital requirements, the Company may raise additional capital to support key strategic initiatives.

During the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013, the Company's sales decreased $150.4 million, or 8.0%, to $1.734 billion from $1.885 billion during the 13 weeks ended October 27, 2012. The decrease by segment is as follows:

B&N Retail sales for the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 decreased $75.0 million, or 7.5%, to $921.0 million from $996.0 million during the same period a year ago, and accounted for 53.1% of total Company sales. The decrease was attributable to a 4.9% decrease in comparable store sales, which decreased sales by $40.9 million and lower online sales, which declined by $11.3 million. Closed stores decreased sales by $18.6 million, partially offset by new stores that increased sales by $4.4 million. Core comparable store sales, which exclude sales of NOOK products, decreased 3.7% as compared to the prior year. Core comparable sales were impacted by lower store traffic and comparisons to the sales of the Fifty Shades trilogy in the prior year. Sales of NOOK® products at B&N Retail declined as a result of lower device unit volume and lower device average selling prices. B&N Retail also includes third-party sales of Sterling Publishing Co., Inc.

B&N College sales decreased $35.5 million, or 4.6%, to $737.5 million during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 from $773.0 million during the 13 weeks ended October 27, 2012. This decrease was due primarily to a comparable store sales decline of 3.6% or $38.1 million due to a higher mix of lower priced used textbook rentals and lower textbook sales, partially offset by higher general merchandise sales. Sales were also impacted by the continued growth of textbook rentals where a portion of the rental sale is deferred over the rental period. This increase in the deferral from last year, lowered sales by $18.2 million for the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013. The decrease was also attributable to closed stores, which decreased sales by $9.7 million, partially offset by new store openings over the past year which increased sales by $29.8 million.

NOOK sales decreased $51.6 million, or 32.2%, to $108.7 million during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 from $160.3 million during the 13 weeks ended October 27, 2012. Device and accessories sales decreased $36.2 million or 41.3%, to $51.4 million during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 on lower unit volume and lower average selling prices. Digital content sales decreased $15.4 million or 21.2% to $57.3 million during the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013 on lower average selling prices and lower device sales volumes.

The elimination represents sales from NOOK to B&N Retail and B&N College on a sell through basis. The decrease versus the prior year was due to the lower device sales volume at B&N Retail.

Table of Contents

During the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013, B&N Retail had two store openings and three closings, and B&N College had six openings and three closings.

During the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, the Company's sales decreased $274.4 million, or 8.2%, to $3.064 billion from $3.338 billion during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. The decrease by segment is as follows:

B&N Retail sales for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 decreased $186.2 million, or 8.8%, to $1.929 billion from $2.115 billion during the same period a year ago, and accounted for 63.0% of total Company sales. The decrease was attributable to a 7.2% decrease in comparable store sales, which decreased sales by $128.4 million and lower online sales, which declined by $19.1 million. Closed stores decreased sales by $38.0 million, partially offset by new stores that increased sales by $7.8 million. Core comparable store sales, which exclude sales of NOOK products, decreased 5.5% as compared to the prior year. Core comparable sales were impacted by lower store traffic and comparisons to the strong sales of the Fifty Shades and Hunger Games trilogies in the prior year. Excluding these trilogies, core comparable sales decreased 2.7%. Sales of NOOK® products at B&N Retail declined as a result of lower device unit volume and lower device average selling prices. B&N Retail also includes third-party sales of Sterling Publishing Co., Inc.

B&N College sales decreased $30.2 million, or 3.0%, to $963.6 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 from $993.7 million during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. This decrease was primarily due to a comparable store sales decline of 3.2% or $40.8 million due to a higher mix of lower priced used textbook rentals and lower textbook sales, partially offset by higher general merchandise sales. Sales were also impacted by the continued growth of textbook rentals where a portion of the rental sale is deferred over the rental period. This increase in the deferral from last year, lowered sales by $16.7 million for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013. The decrease was also attributable to closed stores, which decreased sales by $12.1 million, offset by new store openings over the past year which increased sales by $39.7 million.

NOOK sales decreased $90.5 million, or 25.7%, to $261.9 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 from $352.3 million during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. Device and accessories sales decreased $61.9 million or 31.3%, to $136.0 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 on lower unit volume and lower average selling prices. Digital content sales decreased $28.6 million or 18.5% to $125.9 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013. The digital content decrease was due to lower device unit selling volumes, lower average selling prices and the comparisons to the Fifty Shades and Hunger Games trilogies in the prior year. Excluding the impact of these two trilogies, digital content sales decreased 13.5%.

The elimination represents sales from NOOK to B&N Retail and B&N College on a sell through basis. The decrease versus the prior year was due to the lower device sales volume at B&N Retail.

During the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, B&N Retail had three store opening and five closings, and B&N College had 21 openings and 12 closings.

The Company's cost of sales and occupancy includes costs such as merchandise costs, distribution center costs (including payroll, freight, supplies, depreciation and other operating expenses), rental expense, management service agreement costs with schools, common area maintenance and real estate taxes, partially offset by landlord tenant allowances amortized over the life of the lease.

During the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013, cost of sales and occupancy decreased $130.0 million, or 9.3%, to $1.272 billion from $1.402 billion during the 13 weeks ended October 27, 2012. Cost of sales and occupancy decreased as a percentage of sales to 73.4% from 74.4% during the same period one year ago. The increase or (decrease) by segment is as follows:

B&N Retail cost of sales and occupancy increased as a percentage of sales to 70.6% from 70.4% during the same period one year ago. This increase was attributable to occupancy deleverage against the sales decline partially offset by higher mix of higher margin core products in the current year.

B&N College cost of sales and occupancy decreased as a percentage of sales to 77.2% from 78.2% during the same period one year ago due to a favorable sales mix with higher textbook rentals, general merchandise and an increased margin rate in textbook rentals, partially offset by higher textbook rental deferrals and higher occupancy costs as a result of contract renewals.

NOOK cost of sales and occupancy decreased as a percentage of sales to 78.3% from 88.2% during the same period one year ago. This decrease is primarily due to lower device markdowns and a lower mix of device sales.

During the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, cost of sales and occupancy decreased $206.4 million, or 8.5%, to $2.234 billion from $2.440 billion during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. B&N Retail selling and administrative expenses decreased as a percentage of sales to 25.4% from 26.6% during the same period one year ago. The prior year included the reversal of a $4.6 million legal settlement accrual. Excluding this reversal, Retail selling and administrative expenses decreased 170 basis points from 27.1% to 25.4% due to lower compensation related costs.

Edgar Filing: BARNES & NOBLE INC - Form 10-Q

B&N College selling and administrative expenses increased as a percentage of sales to 11.4% from 10.4% during the same period one year ago due to increased expenses for digital higher education initiatives and deleveraging against lower sales.

NOOK selling and administrative expenses increased as a percentage of sales to 91.0% from 60.9% during the same period one year ago due to deleveraging against the decline in sales.

Selling and administrative expenses decreased $62.4 million, or 7.6%, to $763.4 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 from $825.8 million during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. Selling and administrative expenses increased as a percentage of sales to 24.9% from 24.7% during the same period one year ago. Current year expenses included executive severance charges of $5.5 million, while last year's expenses included $7.1 million of reversals of incentive compensation accruals. In addition, the prior year also included a $4.6 million legal settlement accrual reversal. Excluding these items, expenses declined 40 basis points. The change as a percentage of sales by segment is as follows:

B&N Retail selling and administrative expenses decreased as a percentage of sales to 24.3% from 24.9% during the same period one year ago. Excluding the items noted above, Retail selling and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales decreased 110 basis points to 24.2% from 25.3% during the same period one year ago. This decrease was primarily due to lower compensation related costs.

B&N College selling and administrative expenses increased as a percentage of sales to 15.9% from 14.6% during the same period one year ago due to increased expenses for digital higher education initiatives and deleveraging against lower sales.

NOOK selling and administrative expenses increased as a percentage of sales to 82.3% from 66.9% during the same period one year ago due to deleveraging against sales decline, offset by lower advertising costs.

During the 13 weeks ended October 26, 2013, depreciation and amortization decreased $3.9 million, or 6.8%, to $53.7 million from $57.6 million during the same period one year ago. This decrease was primarily attributable to fully depreciated assets and store closings at Retail, partially offset by additional capital expenditures at NOOK.

During the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013, depreciation and amortization decreased $6.9 million, or 6.0%, to $108.7 million from $115.6 million during the same period one year ago. This decrease was primarily attributable to fully depreciated assets and store closings at Retail, partially offset by additional capital expenditures at NOOK.

allowances against certain domestic deferred assets. The income tax provision is principally comprised of expense from profitable jurisdictions and valuation allowances against certain deferred assets in other jurisdictions. The Company has a negative effective tax rate because it is recording net tax expense even though it is in a cumulative pre-tax loss position.

The Company recorded an income tax provision of $16.7 million during the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 compared with an income tax benefit of $(21.1) million during the 26 weeks ended October 27, 2012. The Company's effective tax rate was (29.3)% and 34.9% for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively. The income tax provision for the 26 weeks ended October 26, 2013 does not include income tax benefits on losses incurred by certain domestic operations as the Company recorded valuation allowances against certain domestic deferred assets. The income tax provision is principally comprised of expense from profitable jurisdictions and valuation allowances against certain deferred assets in other jurisdictions. The Company has a negative effective tax rate because it is recording net tax expense even though it is in a cumulative pre-tax loss position.

In accordance with US GAAP rules on accounting for income taxes, the Company evaluates the realizability of its deferred tax assets at each reporting date. The Company records a valuation allowance when it determines that it is more likely than not that all or a portion of a particular deferred tax asset will not be realized. As part of this evaluation, the Company reviews all evidence, both positive and negative, to determine if a valuation allowance is needed. The Company's review of positive evidence included the review of feasible tax planning strategies that may be implemented and the reversal of temporary items. The Company determined that there was sufficient negative evidence to establish valuation allowances against certain deferred tax assets generated during this quarter. The Company will monitor the need for additional valuation allowances at each quarter in the future and, if the negative evidence outweighs the positive evidence, an allowance will be recorded.

Disclosure Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This quarterly report on Form 10-Q contains certain forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) and information relating to Barnes & Noble that are based on the beliefs of the management of Barnes & Noble as well as assumptions made by and information currently available to the management of Barnes & Noble. When used in this communication, the words anticipate, believe, estimate, expect, intend, plan, will, forecasts, projections, and similar expressions, as they relate to Barnes & Noble or the management of Barnes & Noble, identify forward-looking statements.

Such statements reflect the current views of Barnes & Noble with respect to future events, the outcome of which is subject to certain risks, including, among others, the general economic environment and consumer spending patterns, decreased consumer demand for Barnes & Noble's products, low growth or declining sales and net income due to various factors, possible disruptions in Barnes & Noble's computer systems, telephone systems or supply chain, possible risks associated with data privacy, information security and intellectual property, possible work stoppages or increases in labor costs, possible increases in shipping rates or interruptions in shipping service, effects of competition, possible risks that inventory in channels of distribution may be larger than able to be sold, possible risks associated with changes in the strategic direction of the device business, including possible reduction in sales of content, accessories and other merchandise and other adverse financial impacts, possible risk that component parts will be rendered obsolete or otherwise not be able to be effectively utilized in devices to be sold, possible risk that financial and operational forecasts and projections are not achieved, possible risk that returns from consumers or channels of distribution may be greater than estimated, the risk that digital sales growth is less than expectations and the risk that it does not exceed the rate of investment spend, higher-than-anticipated store closing or relocation costs, higher interest rates, the performance of Barnes & Noble's online, digital and other initiatives, the success of Barnes & Noble's strategic investments, unanticipated increases in merchandise, component or occupancy costs, unanticipated adverse litigation results or effects, product and component shortages, the potential adverse impact on the Company's businesses resulting from the Company's prior reviews of strategic alternatives and the potential separation of the Company's businesses, the risk that the transactions with Microsoft and Pearson do not achieve the expected benefits for the parties or impose costs on the Company in excess of what the Company anticipates, including the risk that NOOK Media's applications are not commercially successful or that the expected distribution of those applications is not achieved, risks associated with the international expansion contemplated by the relationship with Microsoft, including that it is not successful or is delayed, the risk that NOOK Media is not able to perform its obligations under the Microsoft and Pearson commercial agreements and the consequences thereof, risks associated with the restatement contained in, the delayed filing of, and the material weakness in internal controls described in Barnes & Noble's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 27, 2013, risks associated with the SEC investigation disclosed in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q and associated risks and other factors which may be outside of Barnes & Noble's control, including those factors discussed in detail in Item 1A, Risk Factors, in Barnes & Noble's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended April 27, 2013, and in Barnes & Noble's other filings made hereafter from time to time with the SEC.

Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results or outcomes may vary materially from those described as anticipated, believed, estimated, expected, intended or planned. Subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to Barnes & Noble or persons acting on its behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements in this paragraph. Barnes & Noble undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise after the date of this Form 10-Q.

Item 3: Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company limits its interest rate risks by investing certain of its excess cash balances in short-term, highly-liquid instruments with an original maturity of one year or less. The Company does not expect any material losses from its invested cash balances and the Company believes that its interest rate exposure is modest. As of October 26, 2013, the Company's cash and cash equivalents totaled approximately $297.3 million.

Additionally, the Company may from time to time borrow money under its credit facility at various interest rate options based on the Base Rate or LIBO Rate (each term as defined in the amended and restated credit facility with Bank of America, N.A.) depending upon certain financial tests. Accordingly, the Company may be exposed to interest rate risk on borrowings under its credit facility. The Company had $105.0 million and $338.4 million in borrowings under its credit facility at October 26, 2013 and October 27, 2012, respectively.

The Company does not have any material foreign currency exposure as nearly all of its business is transacted in United States currency.

Item 4: Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The management of the Company established and maintains disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that material information relating to the Company and its subsidiaries required to be disclosed in the reports that are filed or submitted under the Exchange Act are recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Company's President and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. As of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's management conducted an evaluation (as required under Rules 13a-15(b) and 15d-15(b) under the Exchange Act), under the supervision and with the participation of the principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act). A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that it will detect or uncover failures within the Company to disclose material information otherwise required to be set forth in the Company's periodic reports.

Based on management's evaluation, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as a result of the material weakness that existed in the Company's internal control over financial reporting as previously described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended April 27, 2013.

Previously Identified Material Weakness

Management of the Company concluded that its internal control over financial reporting was not effective as of April 27, 2013 because a material weakness existed in its internal control over the reporting and review of the reconciliation of its distribution center accrual. Management of the Company determined that the Company had incorrectly overstated certain accruals over an extended period of time for the periods prior to April 27, 2013 as a result of inadequate controls over the accrual reconciliation process at its distribution centers.

In response to the material weakness described above, during the quarter ended October 26, 2013, the Company undertook a manual reconciliation of the distribution center accrual, consistent with the reconciliation process used to complete the Company's fiscal 2013 annual financial statements. The Company continues to remediate the material weakness and improve its reconciliation processes by enhancing and testing the IT data flow within its systems, and working towards adding additional automated controls to its IT systems. The Company is continuing to work with an outside advisor to evaluate, design and implement effective controls over this process. In addition to the outside advisors, internal personnel are committed to the remediation efforts, including IT, internal audit, finance and accounting personnel. Also, management of the Company has created and filled a new position dedicated to enhancing the reconciliation process, and plans to hire additional personnel in future periods. Monthly reviews will be formalized across cross-functional teams as well. Additionally, the Company's internal audit personnel will be sampling and testing transactions related to the distribution center accrual as a part of the Company's internal audit plan for fiscal 2014.

The remediation of the material weakness described above is ongoing. Management believes that its efforts, when fully implemented, will be effective in remediating such material weakness by the end of fiscal 2014. In addition, management will continue to monitor the results of the remediation activities and test the new controls as part of its review of its internal control over financial reporting for fiscal 2014. Management is committed to the rigorous enforcement of an effective control environment.

Except for the material weakness noted above, there have been no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the most recent quarter ended October 26, 2013 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to affect, internal control over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

The Company is involved in a variety of claims, suits, investigations and proceedings that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of its business, including actions with respect to contracts, intellectual property, taxation, employment, benefits, securities, personal injuries and other matters. The results of these proceedings in the ordinary course of business are not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Table of Contents

The Company records a liability when it believes that it is both probable that a liability will be incurred, and the amount of loss can be reasonably estimated. The Company evaluates, at least quarterly, developments in its legal matters that could affect the amount of liability that has been previously accrued and makes adjustments as appropriate. Significant judgment is required to determine both probability and the estimated amount of a loss or potential loss. The Company may be unable to reasonably estimate the reasonably possible loss or range of loss for a particular legal contingency for various reasons, including, among others: (i) if the damages sought are indeterminate; (ii) if proceedings are in the early stages; (iii) if there is uncertainty as to the outcome of pending proceedings (including motions and appeals); (iv) if there is uncertainty as to the likelihood of settlement and the outcome of any negotiations with respect thereto; (v) if there are significant factual issues to be determined or resolved; (vi) if the proceedings involve a large number of parties; (vii) if relevant law is unsettled or novel or untested legal theories are presented; or (viii) if the proceedings are taking place in jurisdictions where the laws are complex or unclear. In such instances, there is considerable uncertainty regarding the ultimate resolution of such matters, including a possible eventual loss, if any. With respect to the legal matters described below, the Company has determined, based on its current knowledge, that the amount of loss or range of loss, that is reasonably possible including any reasonably possible losses in excess of amounts already accrued, is not reasonably estimable. However, legal matters are inherently unpredictable and subject to significant uncertainties, some of which are beyond the Company's control. As such, there can be no assurance that the final outcome of these matters will not materially and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.

The following is a discussion of the material legal matters involving the Company.

PATENT LITIGATION

Barnes & Noble, Inc. and its subsidiaries are subject to allegations of patent infringement by various patent holders, including non-practicing entities, sometimes referred to as patent trolls, who may seek monetary settlements from the Company, its competitors, suppliers and resellers. In some of these cases, the Company is the sole defendant. In others, the Company is one of a number of defendants. The Company is actively defending a number of patent infringement suits, and several pending claims are in various stages of evaluation. The following cases are among the patent infringement cases pending against the Company:

Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnesandnoble.com llc v. LSI Corporation and Agere Systems, Inc.

On June 6, 2011, Barnes & Noble, Inc. filed a complaint against LSI Corporation (LSI) in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The complaint sought a declaratory judgment that Barnes & Noble, Inc. does not infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 5,546,420; 5,670,730; 5,862,182; 5,920,552; 6,044,073; 6,119,091; 6,404,732; 6,452,958; 6,707,867 and 7,583,582. Barnes & Noble, Inc. amended the complaint on August 10, 2011 to add barnesandnoble.com llc as a plaintiff, to add Agere Systems, Inc. (Agere) as a defendant, to add a cause of action seeking a declaratory judgment that neither Barnes & Noble, Inc. nor barnesandnoble.com llc infringes U.S. Patent No. 7,477,633, and to add causes of action seeking a declaratory judgment that each of the eleven patents-in-suit is invalid. On November 1, 2011, LSI and Agere answered the amended complaint and asserted counterclaims against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc, alleging infringement of the eleven patents-in-suit. On November 28, 2011, Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc answered the counterclaims and asserted several affirmative defenses, including the defense that seven of the patents-in-suit are unenforceable as a result of standard-setting misconduct. As required by the District Court's Local Patent Rules, LSI and Agere served their Disclosure of Asserted Claims and Infringement Contentions on July 2, 2012. In that disclosure, LSI and Agere asserted infringement of only six of the eleven patents they had previously accused Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc of infringing. On January 18, 2013, LSI and Agere notified Barnes & Noble, Inc. that they were dropping another asserted patent infringement claim. On May 20, 2013, LSI and Agere filed amended counterclaims, alleging infringement of five additional patents U.S. Patent Nos. 8,041,394; 5,870,087; 5,568,167; 6,982,663 and 5,452,006. Barnes & Noble, Inc. and barnesandnoble.com llc responded to these amended counterclaims and asserted several affirmative defenses on June 21, 2013. The District Court has set certain pretrial dates in the case, including a claim construction hearing beginning on March 24, 2014. The District Court has not yet set a trial date in the case.

Technology Properties Limited et al. v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., et al.

On July 24, 2012, Technology Properties Limited, LLC, Phoenix Digital Solutions, LLC, and Patriot Scientific Corporation (collectively, TPL) submitted a complaint to the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), captioned Certain Wireless Consumer Electronics Devices and Components thereof, Inv. No. 337-TA-853, requesting that the ITC institute an investigation pursuant to Section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. The complaint alleges that the sale for importation into the United States, the importation, and/or the sale within the United States after importation of the Company's NOOKTM products infringe certain claims of U.S. Patent No. 5,809,336 ('336). The complaint also asserts similar claims against the products of 23 other Respondents. The complaint requests that the ITC issue a permanent exclusion order and a permanent cease-and-desist order with respect to these products. On September 24, 2012, the Company filed a response to the complaint, denying that its products infringe the '336 patent and denying that it has engaged in any action that would constitute unlawful sale for importation into the United States, importation, or sale within the United States after importation. The Company also asserted ten affirmative defenses. On June 3-7, 2013 and June 10-11, 2013, the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) conducted a hearing in the action. On September 6, 2013, the ALJ issued his Initial Determination on Violation of Section 337 (ID), in which the ALJ found that neither the Company nor any of the other Respondents had violated Section 337. Concurrently, as required by governing ITC regulations, the ALJ issued a Recommended Determination on Remedy and Bond (RD). In the RD, the ALJ recommended that if, contrary to the ID, the Commission determines that a violation of Section 337 occurred: (i) a limited exclusion order should issue; (ii) no cease and desist orders should issue; and (iii) no bond should be imposed during the Presidential review period. On September 23, 2013, TPL filed a petition for review of the ID and RD and Respondents, including the Company, filed a contingent petition for review of certain portions of the ID. The original target date for ITC resolution of the investigation is January 6, 2014. However, because the ITC was closed as a result of the federal government shut down, the ITC extended all deadlines by sixteen days, making January 22, 2014 the new target date for completion of the investigation.

Also on July 24, 2012, TPL filed a complaint against the Company in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California. The complaint similarly alleges that the Company is infringing the '336 patent through the importation and sale in the United States of NOOKTM products. The complaint also alleges that Barnes & Noble is infringing two other patents in the same patent family: U.S. Patent No. 5,440,749 and U.S. Patent No. 5,530,890. On September 21, 2012, TPL and the Company filed a stipulation agreeing to stay the action pending final resolution of the ITC action. On September 26, 2012, the District Court granted the motion to stay.

Adrea LLC v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., barnesandnoble.com llc and Nook Media LLC

On June 14, 2013, Adrea LLC filed a complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc., barnesandnoble.com llc and Nook Media LLC (B&N) in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that various B&N NOOK products and related online services infringe U.S. Patent Nos. 7,298,851, 7,299,501 and 7,620,703. B&N filed its Answer on August 9, 2013, denying infringement and asserting several affirmative defenses. At the same time, B&N filed counterclaims seeking declaratory judgments of non-infringement and invalidity with respect to each of the patents-in-suit. The Court has set a further amended case management schedule under which a claim construction hearing was held on November 1, 2013; fact discovery is to be substantially completed by November 20, 2013, and concluded by December 6, 2013; expert disclosures and discovery are to be completed by no later than January 6, 2014; summary judgment motion briefing is to be completed by January 27, 2014; and a final pretrial conference will be held on February 3, 2014. No trial date has been set.

Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., et al.

On August 27, 2012, Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO) filed a complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and seven other defendants in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas. The complaint alleges that the Company is infringing U.S. Patent No. 5,487,069 ('069). On October 19, 2012, the Company answered the complaint, denying CSIRO's material allegations, asserting several affirmative defenses, and asserting counterclaims for a declaratory judgment of invalidity and non-infringement. On February 19, 2013, the Company amended its answer to add an affirmative defense that the '069 patent is unenforceable due to inequitable conduct.

The court entered a discovery order and docket control order on April 25, 2013. A claim construction hearing is scheduled for April 10, 2014. The District Court has set a trial date for July 6, 2015.

The Company intends to continue to vigorously defend itself against CSIRO's claims. However, because discovery is in its early stages and the court has not yet construed the asserted claims of the '069 patent, we are not able to render a professional judgment as to the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome or the amount of any potential loss.

OTHER LITIGATION AND PROCEEDINGS

Kevin Khoa Nguyen, an individual, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated v. Barnes & Noble, Inc.

On April 17, 2012, a complaint was filed in the Superior Court for the State of California against the Company. The complaint is styled as a nationwide class action and includes a California state-wide subclass based on alleged cancellations of orders for HP TouchPad Tablets placed on the Company's website in August 2011. The lawsuit alleges claims for unfair business practices and false advertising under both New York and California state law, violation of the Consumer Legal Remedies Act under California law, and breach of contract. The complaint demands specific performance of the alleged contracts to sell HP TouchPad Tablets at a specified price, injunctive relief, and monetary relief, but does not specify an amount. The Company submitted its initial response to the complaint on May 18, 2012, and moved to compel plaintiff to arbitrate his claims on an individual basis pursuant to a contractual arbitration provision on May 25, 2012. The court denied the Company's motion to compel arbitration, and the Company appealed that denial to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The Company filed its opening brief on the appeal on February 11, 2013. The answering brief was filed on April 13, 2013, and the Company's reply brief was filed on May 23, 2013. The Company has also moved to dismiss the complaint and moved to transfer the action to New York. The court granted the Company's motion to stay on November 26, 2012, and the action has been stayed pending resolution of the Company's appeal from the court's denial of its motion to compel arbitration.

PIN Pad Litigation

As previously disclosed, the Company discovered that PIN pads in certain of its stores had been tampered to allow criminal access to card data and PIN numbers on credit and debit cards swiped through the terminals. Following public disclosure of this matter on October 24, 2012, the Company was served with four putative class action complaints (three in federal district court in the Northern District of Illinois and one in the Northern District of California), each of which alleged on behalf of national and other classes of customers who swiped credit and debit cards in Barnes & Noble Retail stores common law claims such as negligence, breach of contract and invasion of privacy, as well as statutory claims such as violations of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, state data breach notification statutes, and state unfair and deceptive practices statutes. The actions sought various forms of relief including damages, injunctive or equitable relief, multiple or punitive damages, attorneys' fees, costs, and interest. All four cases were transferred and/or assigned to a single Judge in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, and a single consolidated amended complaint was filed. The Company filed a motion to dismiss the consolidated amended complaint in its entirety, and in September 2013, the Court granted the motion to dismiss without prejudice. The Plaintiffs then filed an amended complaint, and the Company filed a second motion to dismiss. That motion is pending, and a decision is not expected from the Court until January 29, 2014 or later. It is possible that additional litigation arising out of this matter may be commenced on behalf of customers, banks or other card issuers, payment card companies or stockholders seeking damages allegedly arising out of this incident and other related relief.

The Company also has received inquiries related to this matter from the Federal Trade Commission and eight state attorneys general, all of which have either been closed or have not had any recent activity. The Company intends to cooperate with them if further activity arises. In addition, payment card companies and associations may impose fines by reason of the tampering and federal or state enforcement authorities may impose penalties or other remedies against the Company.

At this point the Company is unable to predict the developments in, outcome of, and economic and other consequences of pending or future litigation or state and federal inquiries related to this matter.

Dustin Torrez, an individual, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated v. Barnes & Noble, Inc.

On October 11, 2011, a complaint was filed in the Superior Court for the State of California against the Company. The complaint was styled as a California state-wide class action. It alleged violations of California Civil Code section 1747.08 (the Song-Beverly Credit Card Act of 1971) due to the Company's alleged improper requesting and recording of zip codes from California customers who used credit cards as payment. The complaint was re-filed in the Superior Court for the State of California on December 23, 2011 as a separate action. The Summons and Complaint have not been served on the Company for either action. On February 10, 2012, the plaintiff filed a request that the action filed in December be dismissed with prejudice. The dismissal was entered in March 2012.

Lina v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. et al.

On August 5, 2011, a purported class action complaint was filed against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. in the Superior Court for the State of California making the following allegations against defendants with respect to salaried Store Managers at Barnes & Noble stores located in the State of California from the period of August 5, 2007 to present: (1) failure to pay wages and overtime; (2) failure to pay for missed meal and/or rest breaks; (3) waiting time penalties; (4) failure to pay minimum wage; (5) failure to provide reimbursement for business expenses; and (6) failure to provide itemized wage statements. The claims are generally derivative of the allegation that these salaried managers were improperly classified as exempt from California's wage and hour laws. The complaint contains no allegations concerning the number of any such alleged violations or the amount of recovery sought on behalf of the purported class. The Company was served with the complaint on August 11, 2011. The parties have completed pre-certification discovery. On October 18, 2013, the court changed the previously ordered certification motion schedule. The current schedule is as follows: Plaintiff's motion for class certification was due November 11, 2013, Barnes & Noble's opposition is due January 13, 2014, and plaintiff's reply is due February 25, 2014. The hearing date for the certification motion is March 21, 2014. No trial date has been set.

Jones et al v. Barnes & Noble, Inc., and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. et al.

On April 23, 2013, Kenneth Jones (Jones) filed a purported Private Attorney General Act action complaint against Barnes & Noble, Inc. and Barnes & Noble Booksellers, Inc. in the Superior Court for the State of California making the following allegations against defendants with respect to salaried Store Managers at Barnes & Noble stores located in the State of California: (1) failure to pay wages and overtime; (2) failure to pay for missed meal and/or rest breaks; (3) waiting time penalties; (4) failure to pay minimum wage; (5) failure to provide reimbursement for business expenses; and (6) failure to provide itemized wage statements. The claims are generally derivative of the allegation that Jones and other aggrieved employees were improperly classified as exempt from California's wage and hour laws. The complaint contains no allegations concerning the number of any such alleged violations or the amount of recovery sought on behalf of the plaintiff or the purported aggrieved employees. The case was initially assigned to the Honorable Barbara Scheper. Because the underlying factual claims in the Jones complaint are almost identical to the claims in the Lina v. Barnes & Noble action, the Company filed a Notice of Related Case on May 1, 2013. On May 7, 2013, Judge Michael Johnson (before whom the Lina action is pending) ordered the Jones action related to the Lina action and assigned the Jones action to himself. The Company was served with the complaint on May 16, 2013, and filed an answer on June 10, 2013.

Trimmer v. Barnes & Noble

On January 25, 2013, Steven Trimmer (Trimmer), a former Assistant Store Manager (ASM) of the Company, filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and New York Labor Law (NYLL). Specifically, Trimmer alleges that he and other similarly situated ASMs were improperly classified as exempt from overtime and denied overtime wages prior to July 1, 2010, when the Company reclassified them as non-exempt. The complaint seeks to certify a collective action under the FLSA comprised of ASMs throughout the country employed from January 25, 2010 until July 1, 2010, and a class action under the NYLL comprised of ASMs employed in New York from January 25, 2007 until July 1, 2010. The parties have completed the first phase of discovery with respect to the individual claims asserted by Trimmer and one opt-in plaintiff only. The Court has stayed all class-wide discovery at this point. The Company filed a summary judgment motion on November 25, 2013.

Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Investigation

On October 16, 2013, the SEC's New York Regional office notified the Company that it had commenced an investigation into: (1) the Company's restatement of earnings announced on July 29, 2013, and (2) a separate matter related to a former non-executive employee's allegation that the Company improperly allocated certain Information Technology expenses between its NOOK and Retail segments for purposes of segment reporting. The Company is cooperating with the SEC, including responding to requests for documents.

- (a) All of the shares on this table above were originally granted to employees as restricted stock or restricted stock units pursuant to the Company's 2004 Incentive Plan, 2009 Incentive Plan and 2009 Amended and Restated Incentive Plan. These Incentive Plans provide for the withholding of shares to satisfy tax obligations due upon the vesting of restricted stock or restricted stock units, and pursuant to the 2004 Incentive Plan and the 2009 Incentive Plan, the shares reflected above were relinquished by employees in exchange for the Company's agreement to pay federal and state withholding obligations resulting from the vesting of the Company's restricted stock and restricted stock units.

On May 15, 2007, the Company announced its Board of Directors authorized a stock repurchase program for the purchase of up to $400.0 million of the Company's common stock. The maximum dollar value of common stock that may yet be purchased under this program is approximately $2.5 million as of October 26, 2013.

Stock repurchases under this program may be made through open market and privately negotiated transactions from time to time and in such amounts as management deems appropriate. As of October 26, 2013, the Company has repurchased 34,280,767 shares at a cost of approximately $1.07 billion. The repurchased shares are held in treasury.
