CEO Roadshow Touches Down in Asia with Visits to Shanghai, China and Tokyo, Japan

Joe Almeida and Omar Ishrak continued their roadshow in October, visiting Covidien operations in Shanghai, China and Tokyo, Japan.

In China, Omar and Joe met with the Asia Leadership Team for a business review of the emerging markets countries. They then took tours of the Covidien Center of Innovation (CCI) and the Covidien Technology Center (CTC).

Established in 2005, the CCI in Shanghai was Covidien s first training and education center in Asia. CCI Shanghai offers clinician training on advanced procedures and techniques using leading equipment and technology. Since its establishment in 2005, CCI Shanghai has offered training and education to more than 20,000 healthcare professionals from across Asia.

The CTC was established August 2012 as the flagship research and development (R&D) center for Covidien Emerging Markets. The facility spans more than 100,000 square-feet (9,290 square meters), and houses various laboratories and state-of-the-art surgical and simulation suites that enable healthcare professionals to be actively involved in the medical device design and development process.

The visit concluded with a Town Hall meeting, hosted by Alex Gu, President, Covidien China. Joe and Omar both presented and participated in a Q&A session with the audience.

Joe and Omar were excited about our team s ability to quickly develop higher quality products, at a lower cost point, designed specifically for emerging markets, said Brian Craig, Vice President, Marketing, Emerging Markets, Covidien.

Joe and Omar then traveled to the Covidien offices in Tokyo, Japan.

Located on the west side of Tokyo, Covidien s Japan office houses approximately 580 employees, supporting various functions and product lines.

The CEOs participated in business reviews during the first half of their day, with updates from Conrad Crighton, Managing Director of Covidien Australia and New Zealand, and Roy Noda, President, Covidien Japan. They wrapped up the day with another joint town hall meeting.
