SECTION 1 REGISTRANT'S BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS

Item 1.01 Entry into Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 2, 2016, Sysco Corporation ("Sysco" or the "Company") entered into a Credit Agreement with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent and the lenders party thereto (the "New Credit Agreement"), which replaces Sysco's existing $1.5 billion senior revolving credit facility that was entered into on December 29, 2011, as amended (the "Existing Credit Agreement"). The aggregate commitments of the lenders under the New Credit Agreement, as of the effective date, is $2 billion, with a maturity date of November 2, 2021.

The New Credit Agreement contains customary terms and conditions for credit facilities of this type, including, without limitation, affirmative and negative covenants containing limitations on consolidations, mergers, and sales of assets, and limitations on the incurrence of certain liens. The New Credit Agreement contains customary reporting and other affirmative covenants, including, without limitation, a requirement to maintain a certain ratio of consolidated EBITDA to consolidated interest expense as described in the New Credit Agreement. The New Credit Agreement also contains customary events of default, including, without limitation, nonpayment of obligations under the New Credit Agreement, violation of covenants in the New Credit Agreement or certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency. Certain of the defaults are subject to exceptions, materiality qualifiers and grace periods customary for credit facilities of this type. Borrowings by Sysco under the New Credit Agreement are, in general, guaranteed by those wholly-owned subsidiaries of Sysco that are guarantors of the Company's senior notes and debentures. As was the case with regard to the Existing Credit Agreement, the New Credit Agreement will serve as a backstop for Sysco's commercial paper program.

The foregoing description of the New Credit Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the New Credit Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 hereto and incorporated by reference herein.

Neither Sysco nor any of its affiliates has any material relationship with any of the other parties to the New Credit Agreement, except for (i) the Company's previous credit facilities, with respect to which certain of the other parties to the New Credit Agreement (and their respective affiliates) were lenders and (ii) commercial banking, investment banking, underwriting, trust and other financial advisory services provided (or to be provided) to Sysco and its subsidiaries by certain of the lenders under the New Credit Agreement (and their respective affiliates), for which they have received (or will receive) customary fees and expenses.
