América Móvil's third quarter of 2017 financial and operating report

Mexico City, October 24, 2017 - América Móvil, S.A.B. de C.V. (“América Móvil”) [BMV: AMX] [NYSE: AMX, AMOV], announced today its financial and operating results for the third quarter of 2017.

- Our postpaid wireless subscriber base continued to show solid growth as it registered an annual increase of 6.0% after net additions of 1.4 million in the quarter, including 699 thousand in Brazil and 202 thousand in Mexico.
- On the fixed-line platform broadband accesses were up 5.0% year-on-year after 345 thousand new access gains in the quarter, while our PayTV subscriber base registered 50 thousand disconnections.
- Our third quarter revenues totaled 244 billion pesos, with service revenues coming in at 210 billion pesos. They were down 2.2% and 1.9% respectively in Mexican peso terms, but at constant exchange rates service revenues actually posted a 1.5% year-on-year increase. Revenue growth was affected by the natural disasters that hit Mexico, Puerto Rico and, to some extent, the U.S.
- In Mexico we opened the networks and public phones at no cost for five days, even to non-clients, and in Puerto Rico we credited back one month of fees to our postpaid clients and provided a 30 dollar bonus to our prepaids.
- In Latin America mobile data revenues led the way with a 24.3% annual increase, followed by fixed-broadband data, 5.2%, and PayTV revenues, 0.9%. In our European operations mobile data revenues were expanding 8.0%, with PayTV revenues growing 22.0%. Notwithstanding the economic impact of the earthquakes, our Mexican mobile operations continued recovering strongly, with service revenues climbing 8.5% year-on-year on the back of 21.3% data-services growth.
- Our adjusted EBITDA—excluding an 18.5 billion pesos expense associated with an arbitration ruling in Colombia—came in at 66.3 billion pesos, down 2.1% in Mexican peso terms but up 1.3% at constant exchange rates. The EBITDA figure reflects even more than revenues the impact of the natural disasters in Mexico and Puerto Rico, given the expenses incurred.
- After comprehensive financing costs of 22.9 billion pesos, half of which arose from foreign exchange losses mostly incurred as a result of the depreciation of the Mexican peso vs. the U.S. dollar and the euro, we posted a net loss of 9.5 billion pesos. Adjusted for the Colombian ruling we would have had a net profit of 2.5 billion pesos.

- Our net debt ended September at 575.1 billion pesos, down from 629.7 billion in December 2016. It was equivalent to 2.0 times LTM Adjusted EBITDA. Capital expenditures totaled 84.3 billion pesos and net shareholder distributions 5.3 billion pesos in the nine months to September, after adjusting for dividends received from KPN.

Relevant Events

On August 16th, the Mexican Supreme Court, resolved that the Zero-interconnection-rate regime defined by Congress in July 2014 is unconstitutional. It also resolved that the entity responsible for defining interconnection rates is the Instituto Federal de Telecomunicaciones "IFT". The IFT is currently defining what interconnection rate will apply, beginning in January 2018. The Supreme Court ruled that other carriers shall not compensate Telcel for the adverse effects caused by the zero-interconnection rate.

On July 25th, in the context of an arbitration process initiated by Colombia's Ministry of Information and Communications ("MinTIC"), an arbitration panel in Colombia ruled that our subsidiary Comcel was obliged to revert certain telecom assets to the Colombian Government under the terms of the original concession agreements granted in 1994 and extended through 2014. It further ruled that in order not to disrupt the public telecom service Comcel was to satisfy that obligation by instead paying to the Colombian Government an amount estimated to be the value of said assets. On August 29th Comcel paid under protest the amount defined by the panel which, at 3,155 billion Colombian pesos, was then equivalent to 1,070 million dollars. We have challenged the above ruling in all national and international forums available to us.

On September 6th we reached an agreement to sell our 30% stake of Grupo Pachuca. We will maintain certain broadcasting rights over the national soccer clubs Pachuca, León and Mineros de Zacatecas, that will allow us to continue to develop sports content on our different platforms.

On October 3rd, we closed a joint venture with JCDecaux that integrates into one business our respective out-of-home advertising units. We now own 40% of the combined business.

América Móvil Consolidated Results

The summer holidays came abruptly to an end as a number of natural disasters hit Mexico, the Caribbean and the U.S. At the same time, and after a period of relative calm in financial markets, information on the likely acceleration of wage inflation earlier this month revived talk of future inflationary pressures, with the Fed signaling it will continue raising rates, bringing about renewed volatility in emerging markets currencies.

Our third quarter revenues totaled 244 billion pesos, with service revenues coming in at 210 billion pesos. They were down 2.2% and 1.9% respectively in Mexican peso terms, but at constant exchange rates service revenues actually posted a 1.5% year-on-year increase.

The latter figure reflects the impact of lost revenues in Mexico and Puerto Rico on account of the earthquakes and hurricane Maria. In Puerto Rico we provided bonuses to our prepaid clients and credited monthly fees to our postpaid clients; in Mexico, Telcel and Telmex opened their networks at no cost to their clients for five days, following the earthquakes on September 19th.

Consolidated service revenue growth reflects also the normalization of the annual base of comparison in the U.S., since in the third quarter of 2016 we incorporated certain T-Mobile's subscribers, including their revenues and EBITDA.

Excluding Puerto Rico—where service revenues collapsed 17.4%—and the U.S., revenue trends in our other operations remained very much in line with those seen through the second quarter.

In Latam overall, mobile data revenues led the way with a 24.3% annual increase, followed by fixed-broadband, at 5.2%, and PayTV revenues at 0.9%. In our European operations mobile data revenues were expanding 8.0%, with PayTV revenues growing 22.0%. The South American block posted the fastest rate of service revenue growth, 3.4%, followed by Europe, Central America and Mexico. In Mexico mobile service revenues continued to post a strong recovery even in spite of the earthquakes: they were up 8.5% in the quarter, compared to their 15.4% decline a year earlier.

Our adjusted EBITDA—excluding an item resulting from the arbitration ruling in Colombia described in the Relevant Events section, which is considered to be an operating expense—came in at 66.3 billion pesos, down 2.1% in Mexican peso terms, in line with the decline in total revenues. At constant exchange rates, it was up 1.3% in the quarter. The rate of growth of our adjusted EBITDA was more affected than that of revenues by the natural disasters in Mexico and Puerto Rico, since they had an impact on costs as well, particularly in Puerto Rico.

We added 202 thousand postpaid subscribers and 14 thousand prepaids to finish the quarter with a total of 73.3 million subscribers, slightly more than a year before. Our postpaid base posted a 6.6% year-on-year increase. On the fixed-line platform we had 21.9 million accesses, roughly flat vs. the year-earlier quarter, with net disconnections of 133 thousand fixed-voice lines but almost unchanged in broadband accesses.

Total revenues came in at 66.3 billion pesos and service revenues at 51.2 billion pesos. The latter were up 3.0% from the year-earlier quarter and 1.2% sequentially, with wireless service revenues increasing 8.5% year-on-year in spite of the impact of the earthquakes suffered in Mexico. On the fixed-line platform service revenues were up 0.6% in the period.

After the earthquake of September 19th Telcel and Telmex opened up their networks at no cost for five days, including over 5000 WiFi hot-spots that could be used even by non-clients and public phones.

Third quarter EBITDA totaled 20.9 billion pesos, representing a 0.9% year-on-year increase, the first increase we have posted in 11 quarters. The EBITDA margin came in at 31.5% of total revenues and was 0.4 percentage points higher than a year before.

Ecuador

We ended the quarter with 8.6 million subscribers after disconnecting 210 thousand clients, all of which were prepaid. On the postpaid segment, we registered net gains of 41 thousand subscribers. Fixed-broadband and PayTV accesses observed annual increases of 10.5% and 3.9%, respectively.

Revenues were down 8.6% to 325 million dollars, with service revenues falling 6.8% year-on-year, dragged by voice revenues that declined 21.6% on the mobile platform on account of aggressive competition in the prepaid segment. The pace of service revenue decline has been reduced from -9.2% in the second quarter and -10.9% in the first. Mobile data revenues are contributing to the stabilization of revenues, having increased 9.5% annually. Albeit from a small base, fixed service revenues had a strong performance, rising 38.7% in the period.

Third quarter EBITDA totaled 125 million dollars or 38.6% of revenues.

On the fixed-line platform we were just shy of six million accesses, an increase of 1.9% over the previous quarter and 8.1% over the year; growth was driven by broadband accesses, up 15.8%.

Caribbean

At the end of the quarter we had 5.6 million wireless subscribers—2.9% more than last year's—after adding 32 thousand new clients. The postpaid base grew 4.7% to 1.8 million. Fixed RGUs reached 2.7 million accesses, up 3.4%, with Pay TV expanding 12.4%.

On the revenue side the quarter's figure reflects a drop of 17.7% for Puerto Rico taking the consolidated figure for the Caribbean to 441 million dollars, 9.4% less than a year before. In the Dominican Republic, service revenues were growing 1.5% year-on-year on the back of data revenues that expanded 8.7% annually. On the fixed-line segment we continue to experience solid growth as we expand broadband accesses and corporate services.

EBITDA declined 22.2% year-on-year to 122 million dollars with an EBITDA margin at 27.7% of revenues reflecting a 4.8 percentage point reduction from the prior quarter. The loss in EBITDA resulted from the revenue losses—including bonuses provided to our clients of 30 USD to prepaid clients and one month of service to postpaid subscribers—and the extraordinary operating costs in the aftermath of hurricane Maria, that hit the island on September 20th.

Among several issues, the island remained with no electrical power for some days and currently energy has been restored in only 15% of the territory. We experienced damages in our networks including some fallen towers and damages to the outside plant, including cuts in the metropolitan fiber rings. We are addressing these issues to reestablish communications services.

United States

Our subscriber base ended September with 23.7 million subscribers after net disconnections of 365 thousand subscribers in the quarter resulting from a cleanup of our base and from increased competition in the segment.

Total revenues increased 5.3% year-on-year reaching nearly two billion dollars in the quarter. Equipment revenues climbed 40.2% and service revenues 0.4%, as we moved to “monthly plans”. ARPU was up 7.3% annually and 0.8% sequentially.

The annual comparisons are affected by the fact that in the third quarter of 2016 we took on the former T-Mobile clients, which at the time added 50 million dollars to our revenues.

EBITDA came in at 141 million dollars, equivalent to 7.1% of revenues, a margin loss of 0.8 percentage points because of lower airtime margins, as the plan mix shifted to higher usage plans.

Telekom Austria Group

We ended the quarter with 20.8 million wireless subscribers, 0.5% more than a year before after net additions of 151 thousand in the quarter. The postpaid base was up 3.0% annually driven by Croatia, Serbia and Austria. On the fixed-line segment we had just over six million RGUs, slightly less than in the year-earlier quarter adjusted by the acquisition of fixed-line assets in Belarus and Croatia.

Third quarter revenues at our European operations totaled 1.1 billion euros and were up 2.3% year-on-year, with service revenues posting a 1.4% increase in spite of the ongoing elimination of roaming charges in the EU. Service revenues were down slightly on the mobile platform, -0.8%, but on the fixed-line platform they rose 5.6%, buoyed by PayTV revenues, up 22.0%, and by fixed-data services that increased 7.3%.

EBITDA came in at 410 million euros, and was down -2.6% in relation to the year before. It represented an EBITDA margin of 36.9% of revenues. The reduction in EBITDA partly arises from the unwinding of certain reserves in the third quarter of 2016, but also from an increase in subscriber acquisition costs reflecting a more dynamic commercial activity.
