Notes to Condensed Interim Financial Statements
(Unaudited)

Note 1 – Basis of presentation

The condensed interim financial statements included herein, presented in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles and stated in US dollars, have been prepared by the Company, without audit, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with US generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations, although the Company believes that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading.

These condensed statements reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which, in the opinion of management, are necessary for fair presentation of the information contained therein. It is suggested that these condensed interim financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2009 and notes thereto included in the Company's Form 10-K annual report. The Company follows the same accounting policies in the preparation of interim reports.

Results of operations for the interim periods are not indicative of annual results.

Note 2 – History and organization of the company

The Company was organized September 17, 2004 (Date of Inception) under the laws of the State of Nevada, as Teacher's Pet, Inc. The Company has had minimal operations and is considered a development stage company. The business of the Company is to sell supplies for teachers via the Internet. The Company has limited operations and in accordance with FASB ASC 915-10, "Development Stage Entities," the Company is considered a development stage company. The Company is authorized to issue 1,125,000,000 shares of its $0.001 par value common stock.

Note 3 – Going concern

The Company's financial statements are prepared using generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America applicable to a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has not yet established an ongoing source of revenues sufficient to cover its operating costs and allow it to continue as a going concern. As of June 30, 2010, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $48,108. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent on the Company obtaining adequate capital to fund operating losses until it becomes profitable. If the Company is unable to obtain adequate capital, it could be forced to cease operations.

The Company is currently contemplating an offering of its equity or debt securities to finance continuing operations. There are no agreements or arrangements currently in place or under negotiation to obtain such financing, and there are no assurances that the Company will be successful and without sufficient financing it would be unlikely for the Company to continue as a going concern.

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish the plans described in the preceding paragraph and eventually secure other sources of financing and attain profitable operations. These financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts, or amounts and classification of liabilities that might result from this uncertainty.

Account balances deemed uncollectible after collection efforts have been exhausted and the potential for recovery is considered remote. As of June 30, 2010, management determined that accounts receivable aged beyond 90 days to be uncollectible and, accordingly, wrote off $100 of uncollectible accounts receivable.

Such costs are immaterial to the financial statements and, accordingly, have not been reflected therein. The officers and directors of the Company are involved in other business activities and may, in the future, become involved in other business opportunities. If a specific business opportunity becomes available, such persons may face a conflict in selecting between the Company and their other business interests. The Company has not formulated a policy for the resolution of such conflicts.

Note 9 – Subsequent Events

On July 15, 2010, the Company amended its articles of incorporation to increase the authorized capital from 75,000,000 common shares to 1,125,000,000 common shares. Additionally, the Company's board of directors approved a 15:1 forward stock split with a record date of July 30, 2010. The forward stock split did not affect the Company's par value. These events have been retroactively applied to these condensed interim financial statements.

The Company's Management has reviewed all material events through the date of this report in accordance with ASC 855-10, and believes there are no further material subsequent events to report.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Forward-Looking Statements

This Quarterly Report contains “forward-looking statements,” as defined within the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, about Teacher’s Pet, Inc.’s business, financial condition and prospects that reflect management’s assumptions and beliefs based on information currently available. Forward-looking statements may include the words “may,” “could,” “estimate,” “intend,” “continue,” “believe,” “expect” or “anticipate” or other similar words. These forward-looking statements present our estimates and assumptions only as of the date of this report. Except for our ongoing securities laws, we do not intend, and undertake no obligation, to update any forward-looking statement.

All statements other than statements of historical fact are forward-looking statements for purposes of federal and state securities laws, including, but not limited to, any projections of earnings, revenue or other financial items; any statements of the plans, strategies and objections of management for future operations; any statements concerning proposed new services or developments; any statements regarding future economic conditions or performance; any statements or belief; and any statements of assumptions underlying any of the foregoing. We can give no assurance that the expectations indicated by such forward-looking statements will be realized. If any of our management’s assumptions should prove incorrect, or if any of the risks and uncertainties underlying such expectations should materialize, Teacher’s Pet’s actual results may differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements.

The key factors that are not within our control and that may have a direct bearing on operating results include, but are not limited to, acceptance of our services, our ability to expand our customer base, managements’ ability to raise capital in the future, the retention of key employees and changes in the regulation of our industry. There may be other risks and circumstances that management may be unable to predict.

Management’s Discussion and Results of Operation

Overview

We are in the business of selling products and providing services to assist teachers and parents further the education of children aged between kindergarten through sixth grade. Our target market consists primarily of elementary schools and teachers of grades kindergarten through sixth initially in the Phoenix, Arizona and Las Vegas, Nevada metropolitan areas. We also believe that parents who home-school their children may also be attracted to our proposed products. We believe that children may benefit from being exposing to educational stimuli at an early age outside the classroom environment.

Revenues

During the first quarter of 2010, we began to generate revenues from services provided to elementary educators. Our services included assistance and consultation of lesson plan development and tutoring of elementary students. In the three months ended June 30, 2010, we generated $50 in revenues. In comparable three month period ended June 30, 2009, we did not generate any revenues. During the six month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, we generated $200 and $0 in revenues. Since inception, we have only generated $200 in revenues, related specifically to revenues earned in the six months ended June 30, 2010. Our management believes that, due to budget constraints imposed on school boards, often in the form of furloughs, educators are being asked to compress educational objectives into shortened time frames and larger student-to-teacher ratios; thus, educators have been seeking personal assistance even at personal financial sacrifice, as all monies paid by teachers for supplies and assistances are generally not refunded by schools. Therefore, our management believes we can provide the assistance teachers require at a reasonable cost.

Expenses

In pursuit of our business objectives, we have incurred expenses primarily consisting of accounting and consulting fees, as well as depreciation expense on our computer equipment. Total operating expenses during the three months ended June 30, 2010 were $2,038, compared to $1,579 in the period ended June 30, 2009. The increase in total expenses during the comparable periods from 2009 to 2010 is due primarily to higher accounting fees paid in the most recent quarter. The components of the comparable periods are as follows:

Expense	Three months ended		Change
	June 30, 2010	2009	$	%
Accounting fees	$1,750	$1,250	$500	40.0	%
Depreciation expense	163	279	(116)	(41.5)	%
Office expenses	25	50	(25)	(50.0)	%
Uncollectible accounts expense	100	-	100	-	%
Total Operating Expenses	$2,038	$1,579	$459	29.1	%

Overall expenses increased by approximately 29% from the three months ended June 30, 2009 to the comparable period ended June 30, 2010. We attribute the bulk of the increase to a material increase in accounting fees paid in relation to satisfy our public reporting requirements. Our management cautions that the variations in all expense categories are not accurate indications of long-term trends and ongoing expenses will continue to vary drastically from period to period. We expect our operational expenses to increase materially in future periods, as we continue to seek avenues to generate sufficient revenues to sustain our operations organically.

Aggregate operating expenses since our inception on September 17, 2004 to June 30, 2010 were $46,794, comprised, as follows:

Expense	Inception		% of
	to June 30, 2010	Expenses
Accounting fees	$28,290	60.5	%
Depreciation expense	4,567	9.8	%
Office supplies and expenses	5,337	11.4	%
Professional and legal fees	8,500	18.2	%
Uncollectible accounts expense	100	0.1	%
Total Operating Expenses	$46,794	100.0	%

Since our inception, we have recorded interest expense in the amount of $4, related to interest finance charges incurred on our credit card.

During the year ended December 31, 2009, our management reviewed inventory on hand and, based upon anticipated customer demand and an overall evaluation of the market for such similar products, we decided to impair all existing items in inventory. As such, we recorded a provision for inventory losses in the amount of $1,510 to write down inventory. As a result of this impairment, we currently have no existing saleable inventory.

Net losses

In the three month period ended June 30, 2010, our net loss totaled $1,988, compared to a net loss of $1,579 in the three month period ended June 30, 2009. We have not been profitable from our inception in 2004 through present 2010, and our accumulated deficit amounts to $48,108. There is significant uncertainty projecting future profitability due to our history of losses and lack of revenues. We anticipate incurring ongoing operating losses for the foreseeable future and cannot provide any guidance otherwise. We have no recurring or guaranteed source of revenues and cannot predict when, if ever, we will become profitable. We anticipate incurring ongoing operating losses and cannot predict when, if at all, we may expect these losses to plateau or narrow. There is significant uncertainty projecting future profitability due to our minimal operating history and lack of guaranteed ongoing revenue streams.

Plan of Operation

In order for us to achieve profitability and support our planned ongoing operations, we believe that we must generate a minimum of approximately $25,000 in sales per year. However, we cannot guarantee that we will generate any sales, let alone achieve that target.

Currently, educators are stressed financially and professionally. School Districts are eliminating positions, increasing class sizes, furloughing employees and imposing hiring freezes. Although educators are paid relatively little compared to most other professions, they are proud of what they do and a substantial number of them sacrifice personal wealth for the benefit of their students. Personal conversations between our sole officer and educators have led us to offer personal services in the form of lesson plan consultation and development and tutoring services at reasonable costs. While we have begun to generate minimal revenues from these services, we believe our future business environment to be challenging, at best. As a result, we cannot guarantee that we will generate any sales, let alone achieve our target of $25,000 in annual sales.

Despite the challenges we expect to continue to face, our management remains steadfast in the belief that a child's education is the priority of all parents and teachers. Consequently, we are planning to initiate the following initiatives:

1. Attain Financing: Our cash on hand as of June 30, 2010 was $2,269. We do not believe this is sufficient to support our ongoing minimal level of operations, nor to undertake the initiatives set forth hereto. Therefore, we plan to raise additional capital through sales of equity or debt instruments, or some derivation thereupon. We believe we require a minimum of $50,000 to successfully attempt the business development program we have planned. We have thus far been unable to secure any such level of financing. We cannot assure you that any additional financing can be obtained or, if obtained, that it will be on reasonable terms. In the event we are unable to obtain any additional funds, we will be unable to conduct further operations and, consequently, go out of business.
2. Acquire Inventory: Although we are currently devoting significantly all of our efforts to providing personal assistance to educators, we plan to maintain pursuit of purchasing inventory from vendors such as Omni Products, Mirage International, Four Seasons Merchandise and Zhejiang Huangyan. We believe merchandising of educational products remains our core business, with better potential to reach customers in diverse geographic areas. Upon attaining funds, as set forth in initiative 1, above, we plan to begin to place purchase orders for saleable inventory. As mentioned, the bulk of potential suppliers have very lenient purchase requirements; thus, we expect to require no more than $2,000, in funds with which to begin to purchase inventory from each potential supplier.
3. Establish a Website: Previously, we relied upon word of mouth and personal sales to generate brand awareness and drive purchases. Obviously, that did not provide any measurable success. Therefore, we have reserved the domain www.eteacherspet.com, whereupon we plan to establish an e-commerce website. We currently have no pages published. Upon attaining sufficient financing, we plan to immediately begin development and publication of an operating e-commerce store. Due to the depressed economy and relatively plentiful amount of web developers in the marketplace, we expect to be able to establish a functional website for no more than $5,000. However, numerous factors will influence the actual price paid for full development, such as complexity of the build, number of products to be listed and other variables we may not foresee.
4. Develop a Sales and Marketing Strategy: Upon establishing a presence on the web, we plan to develop a sales and marketing strategy to generate awareness of our brand and website. We believe this will be the single most difficult initiative, as we will have significantly limited control over its success. At this time, we plan to utilize Google AdWords, establish sales accounts with Amazon.com and/or Buy.com, as well as attempt to establish link exchanges to facilitate the development organic Internet traffic. This is our current strategy, though there can be no assurance that we will revise or develop a completely different plan. We anticipate allocating, based upon a $50,000 financing commitment, up to $25,000 toward our Internet marketing strategy.

5. Identify and Appoint Additional Employees or Executives: Our sole officer and director may not have sufficient experience or foresight to be able to direct every aspect of our business. We intend to seek additional personnel, to employ or appoint to executive officer status, that can provide additional expertise or, at a minimum, the ability to segregate responsibilities to have more effective internal controls. Unfortunately, the $50,000 minimum financing amount is insufficient to complete this initiative. However, our sole officer and director believes she has contacts with educators or stay-at-home parents that could volunteer time or expertise to our operations on a part time basis until our finances permit hiring full-time or more qualified personnel.

There are no known trends, events or uncertainties, other than those disclosed heretofore, that have had or that are reasonably expected to have a material impact on our revenues from continuing operations.

Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain a set of disclosure controls and procedures designed to ensure that information we are required to disclose in reports filed under the Securities Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls are also designed with the objective of ensuring that this information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Based upon their evaluation as of the end of the period covered by this report, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are not effective to ensure that information required to be included in our periodic SEC filings is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC rules and forms.

Our Board of Directors was advised by management that its evaluation of internal control over financial reporting identified a material weakness as defined in Public Company Accounting Oversight Board Standard No. 5 in the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

This deficiency consisted primarily of inadequate staffing and supervision that could lead to the untimely identification and resolution of accounting and disclosure matters and failure to perform timely and effective reviews. However, the size of the Company prevents us from being able to employ sufficient resources to enable us to have adequate segregation of duties within our internal control system. Management is required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Management has taken all actions to ensure that the filing includes all required content and the financial statements presented are in conformity with US generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial reporting pursuant to the rules of the SEC.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during our most recent fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
