Kevin Landis
Chairman of the Board of Directors, CEO and President
Firsthand Technology Value Fund, Inc.
150 Almaden Boulevard
Suite 1250
San Jose, CA 95113

Dear Kevin:

Firsthand's Form N-2A filed on November 13, 2013 indicates that, in an "Exchange Agreement" to acquire the assets of IntraOp Medical, Firsthand issued 515,552 shares of its common stock subject to the following voting restriction:

Section 3. Voting of Subject Shares. During the Agreement Period, the Voting Stockholder agrees that (a) at such time as the Company conducts a meeting of, or otherwise seeks a vote or consent of, the Company Stockholders, the Voting Stockholder shall, or shall cause the holder of record on any applicable record date to, vote the Subject Shares beneficially owned by the Voting Stockholder in favor of, or provide a consent with respect to, any and all actions that a majority of the board of directors of the Company recommends or solicits, and (b) at each meeting of Company Stockholders and in connection with each consent solicitation, the Voting Stockholder shall, or shall cause the holder of record on any applicable record date to, vote the Subject Shares beneficially owned by the Voting Stockholder against, and not provide consents with respect to, any action that a majority of the board of directors of the Company opposes. In the event that a majority of the independent directors (using the definition of "independent director" as set forth in NASDAQ Marketplace Rule 4200(a)(15)) believes that a certain vote would result in a conflict of interest between the Company and the Purchasers (as defined in the Exchange Agreement), such independent directors may designate an independent third party to vote the Subject Shares or submit the matter to a vote of all of the Purchasers, in which case the vote of a majority of such Purchasers shall govern the vote of all of the Purchasers.

Section 18(i) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 Act states, in relevant part, that "[e]xcept as provided in subsection (a) of this section, or as otherwise required by law, every share of stock hereafter issued by a registered management company...shall be a voting stock and have equal voting rights with every other outstanding voting stock: Provided, That this subsection shall not apply...to shares issued in accordance with any rules, regulations, or orders which the Commission may make permitting such issue."

It appears that Firsthand violated Section 18(i) by issuing 515,552 shares of its common stock that do not "have equal voting rights with every other outstanding voting stock" because, unlike the owners of every other share of outstanding voting stock, the owners of the newly issued stock may not freely vote them. If you believe we are incorrect, please tell us why the issuance of the 515,552 shares of common stock does not violate Section 18(i). Thank you.

Warmly,

/S/ Phillip Goldstein
