Accrued interest on prime rate-based advances is due at the end of each calendar month beginning July 31, 2006.

The Credit Agreement contains standard covenants regarding Graco Inc. and its subsidiaries, including financial covenants, such as the maintenance of minimum consolidated interest coverage and maximum leverage ratios and representations, including the absence of litigation against Graco or any subsidiary that could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect and employee benefit pension plans compliance with ERISA minimum funding standards. The Credit Agreement also contains customary events of default, including failure of payment and nonperformance of obligations, material inaccuracy of representations and warranties, cross defaults, bankruptcy and involuntary proceedings, and material business alteration.

In the Credit Agreement, Graco agrees to indemnify U.S. Bank against loss or expense due to Graco s failure to make any payment when due and against any liabilities, losses, penalties or costs and expenses which may be incurred in connection with any claim or governmental proceeding arising out of the loan documents, the letters of credit, the obligations or any use of the proceeds.

U.S. Bank has in the past provided, and is expected to provide in the future, cash management, record-keeping and trustee, foreign exchange support and lending services to Graco Inc. and its subsidiaries, for which services they have in the past received and will in the future receive customary compensation and reimbursement of expenses.
