NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(unaudited)

1. Significant Accounting Policies

The unaudited interim financial statements of Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp. ("SRAC"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co. ("Sears"), reflect all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring accruals) which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for a fair statement of the results for the interim periods presented.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been condensed or omitted. The significant accounting policies used in the presentation of these financial statements are consistent with the summary of significant accounting policies set forth in SRAC's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the 52 weeks ended December 30, 2000, and these financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes found therein. The results of operations for the interim periods should not be considered indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

2. Back-up Liquidity

SRAC continued to provide support for 100% of its outstanding commercial paper through its investment portfolio and credit facilities. SRAC's investment portfolio fluctuated from a low of $49 million to a high of $855 million in the third quarter of 2001. Available credit facilities as of September 29, 2001 were as follows:

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp.:

We have reviewed the accompanying statements of financial position of Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp. (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co.) as of September 29, 2001 and September 30, 2000, and the related statements of income for the 13 week and 39 week periods then ended and cash flows for the 39 week periods then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp.'s management.

We conducted our reviews in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures to financial data and of making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our reviews, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to such financial statements for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have previously audited, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the statement of financial position of Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp. as of December 30, 2000 and the related statements of income, shareholder's equity and cash flows for the year then ended (not presented herein); and in our report dated January 19, 2001, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying statement of financial position as of December 30, 2000 is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the statement of financial position from which it has been derived.

SEARS ROEBUCK ACCEPTANCE CORP.

ITEM 2. ANALYSIS OF RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Sears Roebuck Acceptance Corp.'s ("SRAC") income is derived primarily from the earnings on its investment in the notes and receivable balances of Sears, Roebuck and Co. ("Sears") and invested cash. During the third quarter of 2001, SRAC revenues decreased to $260 million from $300 million in the comparable 2000 period. For the first nine months of 2001, SRAC's revenues decreased to $840 million from $901 million for the comparable 2000 period. The decrease in revenue resulted from a decrease in average rates on earning assets and lower average earning asset balances.

SRAC's interest and related expenses decreased to $207 million from $239 million and to $668 million from $716 million for the third quarter and first nine months of 2001, respectively, when compared to the same periods in 2000. Interest and related expenses decreased during the third quarter and first nine months of 2001 primarily due to decreases in both the cost of short-term funds and average long-term debt levels. The reduction generated by the decrease in SRAC's average cost of short-term funds to 4.02% in the third quarter and 5.29% in the first nine months of 2001 compared to 6.87% and 6.49% for the same periods in 2000 was partially offset by an increase in SRAC's average short-term borrowings to $3.2 billion and $3.3 billion in the third quarter and first nine months of 2001 compared to $3.1 billion and $2.9 billion for the same 2000 periods. SRAC's average long-term debt balances of $10.5 billion in both the third quarter and first nine months of 2001 reflect decreases of 5% and 8%, respectively, compared with $11.0 billion and $11.4 billion for the same periods in 2000. SRAC's cost of long-term funds averaged 6.56% and 6.63% in the third quarter and first nine months 2001 compared to 6.58% and 6.59% for the same periods in 2000. The average weighted maturity on SRAC's long-term debt portfolio was 7.6 years as of the end of the third quarter of 2001 compared to 7.8 years at the same point in 2000.

In October 2001, SRAC issued $245 million of medium-term notes with a floating rate indexed to Libor and with terms ranging from one to three years.

On October 16, 2001, SRAC initiated a $75 million overnight test borrowing (the minimum amount permissible) from the syndicate of banks under its $5.0 billion revolving credit facility. SRAC considers it prudent to test the administrative process periodically, especially in light of the recent terrorist activity.

SRAC's net income of $34 million and $111 million for the third quarter and first nine months of 2001, respectively, decreased from $40 million and $119 million for the comparable 2000 period amounts.

SRAC's ratio of earnings to fixed charges for both the third quarter and first nine months of 2001 was 1.26 compared to 1.26 for the comparable 2000 periods.
