The Board recommends that Shareholders vote FOR the director nominees named in the accompanying Proxy Statement, FOR Proposal 2 and AGAINST Proposal 3.

Proxy Statement
Approximate Mailing
Date:
April 17, 2003

This Proxy Statement is furnished to the Shareholders of Nordstrom, Inc. in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors for use at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held on May 20, 2003 and at any adjournment or postponement of the meeting. If the enclosed Proxy is executed and returned, it will be voted in accordance with the instructions given, but may be revoked at any time if it has not been exercised by voting in person at the Annual Meeting, submitting another proxy that is dated later, or notifying the Corporate Secretary in writing. If no contrary instruction is indicated on the Proxy, then each Proxy will be voted for Proposals 1 and 2, and, if it is presented, against Proposal 3, and may be voted on such other matters as may properly come before the Annual Meeting.

Only holders of the Company's Common Stock are entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting. There were 135,457,544 shares of Common Stock outstanding as of March 17, 2003, the record date for the Annual Meeting. Shareholders are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held of record at the close of business on March 17, 2003. Under Washington law and the Company's Bylaws, a quorum consisting of a majority of the shares eligible to vote must be represented in person or by proxy to elect directors and to transact any other business that may properly come before the Annual Meeting.

For election of directors, the nominees elected will be those receiving the greatest number of votes cast by the shares entitled to vote, up to the number of directors to be elected. Any action other than a vote for a nominee will have the effect of voting against that nominee. The appointment of auditors will be ratified and the Shareholder proposal will be adopted if the votes cast in favor of the respective action exceed the votes cast against it. Abstentions and nonvotes by brokers will have no effect since such actions do not represent votes cast by Shareholders.

Mrs. Shern currently serves on the audit committees of three public companies, including the Company's Audit Committee, and is expected to be appointed to serve on a fourth such committee in the next month. The Board of Directors has determined that this simultaneous service does not impair her ability to effectively serve on the Audit Committee.

During the past year there were four regularly scheduled meetings of the Audit Committee and six others conducted via teleconference. The primary function of the Audit Committee is to assist the Board of Directors in fulfilling its oversight responsibility by reviewing and appraising the following:

- the accounting, auditing and financial reporting processes of the Company;
- the management of business and financial risk and the internal controls environment;
- the Company's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements;
- the effectiveness and efficiency of operations;
- the integrity of the Company's financial statements;
- reports resulting from the performance of audits by the independent auditor and the internal auditor;
- the qualifications, independence and performance of the Company's independent auditors; and
- the performance of the Company's internal audit function.

The Committee meets periodically with the independent auditors, management and the internal auditors to review accounting, auditing, internal accounting controls, financial reporting matters and compliance with laws and regulations. The Committee also meets privately with each of the independent auditors, the Chief Financial Officer and the internal auditors.

Compensation and Stock Option Committee. Current members of the Compensation and Stock Option Committee are William D. Ruckelshaus, Chair, Enrique Hernandez, Jr., Jeanne P. Jackson, Alfred E. Osborne, Jr., Bruce G. Willison and Alison A. Winter, each of whom has been determined by the Board of Directors to be an independent director as defined under proposed rules of the New York Stock Exchange. During the past year there were four meetings of the Compensation and Stock Option Committee. The Committee is responsible, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors when applicable, for the following:

- evaluating annually the Company's goals and objectives relative to the President's compensation and evaluating the President's performance in light of these goals and objectives;
- conducting annual performance evaluations of the Company's executive officers;
- establishing guidelines for a compensation strategy for executives and measuring the performance of the executive officers against these guidelines;
- reviewing and making recommendations to the Board of Directors respecting cash and equity-based compensation plans; and
- reviewing and approving any benefit plans, retirement and deferred compensation or other perquisites offered to executive officers.

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee. Current members of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee are Alfred E. Osborne, Jr., Chair, D. Wayne Gittinger, Enrique Hernandez, Jr. and William D. Ruckelshaus. During the past year the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee held four meetings. The Committee is responsible for:

reviewing possible conflicts of interest of Board members and the Company's executive officers; developing and recommending to the Board of Directors corporate governance guidelines applicable to the Company; and reviewing and administering the Company's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics.

The Committee will consider recommendations by Shareholders for vacancies on the Board of Directors. Suggestions may be submitted to the Corporate Secretary.

Finance Committee. Current members of the Finance Committee are Alison A. Winter, Chair, D. Wayne Gittinger, John A. McMillan, John N. Nordstrom, Alfred E. Osborne, Jr. and Bruce G. Willison. During the past year the Finance Committee held four meetings. The Committee is primarily responsible for:

Directors also receive an annual award of Company Common Stock having a value of $45,000 and are reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses incurred in connection with the performance of their duties as directors. (a) The actual SERP benefit is a percentage of final average pay based on age and years of service at time of retirement. Pay is defined as base salary and bonus as reported for the Named Executive Officers. Final average pay represents the highest thirty-six months over the final sixty months of employment or the entire period of service after age 50, whichever is longer.

The target benefit is 60% of final average pay calculated as 2.4% for each year up to a maximum of 25 years. The benefit is reduced for each year that age plus years of service at time of retirement is less than 75. The benefit is offset by Company contributions under the Profit Sharing and 401(k) Plan.

(b) The credited years of service to the Company for the Named Executive Officers are:

Blake W. Nordstrom:	26 years
Joel T. Stinson:	26 years
James R. O Neal:	22 years
Michael G. Koppel:	3 years
Peter E. Nordstrom:	22 years

Savings Plans

The Company offers a Profit Sharing and 401(k) Plan (Plan) to all eligible employees, including the Named Executive Officers. Based on a predetermined formula, the Board of Directors approves annually an amount to be contributed by the Company to the profit sharing portion of the Plan. The amount allocated to the accounts of individual employees is based on years of service and annual pay. Enrolled employees also may defer up to 15% of their before-tax pay into the 401(k) portion of the Plan. The Company matches 100% of the employee contributions up to 4% of eligible pay. Employees direct contributions under the Plan to any of 12 investment alternatives including the Company's Common Stock.

The Company also offers a Deferred Compensation Plan which provides eligible employees, including the Named Executive Officers, with the option to defer future salary, bonuses and earned performance shares. Employees direct contributions under this plan to any of 15 investment alternatives. The investment alternatives do not include the Company's Common Stock.

Equity Compensation Plans

The following table provides information as of January 31, 2003 about the Company's Common Stock that may be issued upon the exercise of options and rights that have been or may be granted to employees and members of the Board of Directors under all of the Company's existing equity compensation plans. Certain other information required under this item is included in Note 17 of the Company's 2002 Annual Report to Shareholders, which sections are incorporated herein by reference.

Compensation and Stock Option Committee Report on the Fiscal Year Ended January 31, 2003

The Compensation and Stock Option Committee is made up of six directors. The Committee reviews and approves the compensation program for the President and other Company leaders.

Guiding Principles

Compensation for the President and other Company leaders is based on several guiding principles: to motivate leaders to achieve meaningful results; to reward our leaders in a way that makes sense for our culture, our business and our Shareholders; and to make decisions that are guided, but not dictated, by market pay levels and practices.

The Committee relies on these principles to oversee the compensation program and its three primary components of base salary, annual incentives and long-term performance incentives. The program is designed to focus Company leaders on the goals of the organization and to provide the greatest financial rewards when the Company and our Shareholders realize positive results.

Program Components

Base Salary. Base salary levels are targeted at the mid range of the market. As such, the emphasis for cash compensation is on annual incentives where individual and Company performance drive financial rewards. Market is defined as a combination of companies in specialty retailing and other industries depending on the position. Most of these retailing companies are included in Standard & Poor's Retail Index referenced in the Performance Graph on page 16. In its annual base salary review, the Committee considers market information in combination with other factors including the scope of the leader's role and the value added by the leader throughout the year.

For fiscal year 2002, the Committee increased the President's base salary from $600,000 to $700,000. In making this change, the Committee considered Mr. Nordstrom's progress and contributions over the previous twelve months. The achievement of financial results during that time continued to be challenging in a slow economy. Even so, the Committee was encouraged by the President's leadership in both short- and long-term accomplishments to improve Company performance. These accomplishments included a modest increase in net sales; reduced selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales; the Company-wide roll out of a perpetual inventory system; streamlined practices for back-of-the-house operations; and changes in the leadership team to position the Company for the future.

Even with this increase in base salary, the President's total compensation arrangement is still significantly below market for similar roles in other specialty retailers. Mr. Nordstrom asked the Committee to support this arrangement because he believes that greater emphasis should be placed on annual and long-term performance incentives, in keeping with the Company's culture and long-term goals.

Annual Incentives. The Leadership Bonus Plan provides cash awards when pre-determined performance measures are achieved. In any year, these measures may be a combination of Company and individual focused achievements including earnings before taxes, business unit net income, comparable store sales, expense control and strategic initiatives related to a specific position or area of the Company. Each participant has a target bonus opportunity expressed as a percentage of base salary and can earn above or below that percentage depending on results. Each year, the Committee reviews and approves bonus goals and targeted bonus opportunities. Actual bonuses are based on minimum, target and stretch levels according to Company objectives. No bonus is paid until a minimum level of performance is achieved.

For fiscal year 2002, the President's target bonus opportunity was 75% of base salary. The single measure of performance was the Company's earnings before taxes. This measure exceeded target expectations. The Committee believes the target was exceeded in part by the President's leadership in driving top line sales, controlling expenses, realizing efficiencies in the perpetual inventory system and regaining lost market share. The performance resulted in a bonus of $1,029,000. At Mr. Nordstrom's request, the Committee approved a reduction in the actual amount paid to $975,000.

Long-Term Performance Incentives. Long-term performance incentives deliver financial rewards to Company leaders only when the Company's stock price gains value over time. The incentives are granted each February in two forms: stock options and performance share units. The targeted value of a grant varies by position and is expressed as a percentage of base pay. The percentage represents competitive practices and is used as a guideline that may vary somewhat from grant to grant depending on the overall intended share usage and trending stock price. The Committee strongly encourages stock ownership among the Company officers to reinforce the alignment between personal and Shareholder interests.

The Committee grants long-term performance incentives under the Company's 1997 Stock Option Plan. The non-qualified stock options are granted at fair market value and vest equally over a 4-year period with a 10-year term. Performance share units vest over a 3-year period only when the Company's total shareholder return outperforms companies in a defined retail peer group. A portion of the units may vest if total shareholder return ranks in the upper half of the peer group. A premium is added to the vested units if the Company's total shareholder return ranks within the top two in the peer group. Vested units are paid in cash or shares of the Company's Common Stock at the election of the participant.

For fiscal year 2002, Mr. Nordstrom asked the Committee to support a targeted long-term incentive value for his grant that was significantly less than the market for specialty and general retailers. The Committee respectfully approved the request. In doing so, the Committee acknowledged Mr. Nordstrom's conservative intentions for his overall total compensation and their strong support for the long-term value that Mr. Nordstrom is bringing to the Company.

For 2002, the President was granted an option to purchase 53,233 shares of Common Stock and 11,830 performance share units. The units may vest over a 3-year period ending January 31, 2005 depending on total shareholder return. The performance period for units granted to the President in fiscal year 2000 and ending January 31, 2003 did not vest because the Company's total shareholder return did not meet minimum performance results relative to the peer group.

Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m)

Section 162(m) disallows a tax deduction to public corporations for compensation over $1,000,000 paid to the Named Executive Officers. The statute exempts qualifying performance-based compensation from the deduction limit if certain requirements are met. The Committee currently structures performance-based compensation to officers who may be subject to Section 162(m) in a way that satisfies those requirements and is in the best interests of the Shareholders and the Company.

Audit Committee Report on the Fiscal Year Ended January 31, 2003

The Audit Committee is composed of six directors, each of whom has been determined by the Board of Directors to be an independent director as defined under proposed rules of the New York Stock Exchange. In addition, the Board has selected directors for the Audit Committee based on the Board's determination that they are financially literate, fully qualified to monitor management and our internal accounting operations and the independent auditors, and fully qualified to monitor the disclosures of the Company so that they fairly present the Company's financial condition and results of operations. Without limiting the foregoing, the Audit Committee has at least one audit committee financial expert as that term is defined by Securities and Exchange Commission rules. That individual is Stephanie M. Shern. As set forth above, Mrs. Shern is independent of management.

A written charter adopted and approved by the Board of Directors governs the Audit Committee. Pursuant to a review of the relevant requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the proposed rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the proposed new listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange regarding audit committee procedures and responsibilities, the Audit Committee recently revised its charter. As a result, a copy is attached as Appendix A to this Proxy Statement. As required by the charter, the Audit Committee will continue to review and reassess the charter annually and recommend any changes to the Board of Directors for approval.

Management is responsible for the Company's internal controls and the financial reporting process. The Company's independent auditors, Deloitte & Touche LLP, report to the Company's Audit Committee, and are responsible for performing an independent audit of the Company's consolidated financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. The independent auditors and the Company's internal auditors have full access to the Audit Committee. These auditors meet with the Audit Committee at each of the Audit Committee's regularly scheduled meetings, with and without management being present, to discuss appropriate matters.

The Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for such fiscal year, based on the following:

- its review of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements;
- its review of the unaudited interim financial statements prepared each quarter by the Company;
- its review of the Company's disclosure committee practices and the certificates prepared each quarter in accordance with Sections 302 and 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002;
- its discussions with management regarding the audited consolidated financial statements;
- its discussions with management regarding the critical accounting policies on which the financial statements are based, as well as its evaluation of alternative treatments;
- its receipt of management representations that the Company's financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting policies;
- its discussions with outside legal counsel regarding contingent liabilities;
- its receipt of written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1; and
- its discussions with the independent auditors regarding their independence, the audited consolidated financial statements, the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended, and other matters.

The Audit Committee also recommended to the Board of Directors that the independent public accounting firm of Deloitte & Touche LLP be appointed the Company's auditors for the fiscal year ending January 31, 2004.

Certain Relationships And Related Transactions During the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 the Company and JBW Aircraft Leasing Company, Inc. (JBW), of which John N. Nordstrom, Director, Bruce A. Nordstrom, Chairman, and D. Wayne Gittinger, Director, are the sole shareholders, operated under Interchange Agreements pursuant to which the Company made aircraft available for occasional use by JBW in exchange for the Company's use of JBW's airplane. During the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 the Company made payments to JBW for use of its aircraft in the amount of $435,137. The rate of these payments was based on an evaluation of the alternatives available to the Company for chartering this type of aircraft from third-party charter services. These payments were fair and reasonable and as favorable to the Company as those which could have been obtained from such third party services. During the same period, JBW and its shareholders paid the Company $137,885 for maintenance services, pilot services and hangar rent. These payments equaled or exceeded the cost to the Company of providing those services and, in the Company's opinion, were fair and reasonable. This arrangement also allowed the Company to employ an additional full-time mechanic and provided the Company with access to an additional aircraft for business use.

During the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 JW Limited, of which John N. Nordstrom, Director, and D. Wayne Gittinger, Director, are the sole shareholders, paid the Company $21,863 for maintenance services and hangar rent. In addition, John N. Nordstrom paid the Company approximately $24,130 for maintenance services and hangar rent for his personal aircraft. These payments equaled or exceeded the cost to the Company of providing those services and, in the Company's opinion, were fair and reasonable.

On June 15, 1999, Geevy S.K. Thomas, an Executive Vice President of the Company, executed a promissory note in favor of the Company evidencing a loan in the original amount of $150,000 (with interest at the rate of 7.75%) to facilitate his relocation from California to Washington. The maximum amount of indebtedness during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 was $70,044. During the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 the amounts owing under the note were discharged by the Company.

The maximum amount of indebtedness during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 was $70,044. During the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 the amounts owing under the note were discharged by the Company.

The Company employed the wife of Mr. Kuntz during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 at a total salary and bonus of $243,034.

The Company employed the stepdaughter of Jammie Baugh, an Executive Vice President of the Company, during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 at a total salary and bonus of $79,080.

The Company employed the sister-in-law of Laurie M. Black, an Executive Vice President of the Company, during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 at a total salary and bonus of $91,118.

The Company employed the brother of Joel T. Stinson, an Executive Vice President of the Company, during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 at a total salary and bonus of $152,717.

Proposal 2: Ratification of Appointment of Auditors

The Board of Directors, acting upon the recommendation of the Audit Committee, has appointed the independent public accounting firm of Deloitte & Touche to be the Company's auditors for the fiscal year ending January 31, 2004. As in the past, the Board has determined that it would be desirable to request ratification of its appointment by the Shareholders of the Company. If the Shareholders do not ratify the appointment of Deloitte & Touche, the appointment of independent public accountants will be reconsidered by the Board. A representative of Deloitte & Touche will be present at the Annual Meeting, will have the opportunity to make a statement if he or she so desires, and will be available to respond to appropriate questions.

Audit Fees. The Company paid the following fees to Deloitte & Touche for the fiscal years ended January 31, 2003 and 2002:

Fiscal Year Ended January 31,	2003	2002
Audit Fees	$ 867,338	$ 636,965
Audit-Related Fees	$ 393,260	$ 321,874
Tax Fees	$ 314,239	$ 733,971
All Other Fees	$ 103,185	$2,682,407
	$ 1,678,022	$4,375,217

Audit fees primarily include attestation services for the consolidated financial statements of the Company and the separate financial statements of Nordstrom Credit, Inc., along with reviews of the interim financial information of the Company and Nordstrom Credit, Inc., and their respective Forms 10-K and 10-Q. Deloitte & Touche's work on these two audits was performed by full time, permanent employees and partners of Deloitte & Touche.

Audit-related fees generally include fees for the audit of Nordstrom.com, and agreed upon and other procedures related to asset securitizations.

Tax fees in the current year primarily include assistance provided to the Company on foreign tax consulting. Prior year numbers include amounts relating to a tax consulting project for a research and development credit on the Company's financial systems implementation project.

In the current year, other fees primarily include consulting projects for Façonnable SAS. Prior year amounts include consulting projects by Deloitte Consulting relating to corporate logistics, financial process/systems assessments, and financial systems design and implementation.

The Audit Committee believes the provision of these audit and non-audit services is compatible with maintaining Deloitte & Touche's independence as the Company's independent accounting firm.

On April 1, 2003 the Audit Committee adopted a policy that requires the Audit Committee to pre-approve all audit and non-audit services performed by the independent auditors in order to assure that they do not impair the auditor's independence from the Company. The Committee will also review, at each of its regularly scheduled meetings, (i) a listing of approved services since its last review; (ii) a report summarizing the year-to-date services provided by the independent auditor, including fees paid for those services; and (iii) a projection for the current fiscal year of estimated fees.

In addition, the policy prohibits the Company from engaging the independent auditors for services billed on a contingent fee basis and from hiring current or former employees of the independent auditors to any position at the divisional vice president level or higher unless such employment is approved by the Audit Committee.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR RATIFICATION OF DELOITTE & TOUCHE LLP AS AUDITORS FOR THE COMPANY.

Proposal 3: Shareholder Proposal Regarding Expensing Stock Options

The Sheet Metal Workers' National Pension Fund, 601 North Fairfax Street, Suite 500, Alexandria, Virginia 22314-2075, which represented to the Company that it held 3,000 shares of Common Stock on December 9, 2002, has notified the Company that it intends to present the following Proposal at the Annual Meeting:

Resolved, that the shareholders of Nordstrom, Inc. (Company) hereby request that the Company's Board of Directors establish a policy of expensing in the Company's annual income statement the costs of all future stock options issued by the Company.

Statement of Support: Current accounting rules give companies the choice of reporting stock option expenses annually in the company income statement or as a footnote in the annual report (See: Financial Accounting Standards Board Statement 123). Most companies, including ours, report the cost of stock options as a footnote in the annual report, rather than include the option costs in determining operating income. We believe that expensing stock options would more accurately reflect a company's operational earnings.

Stock options are an important component of our Company's executive compensation program. Options have replaced salary and bonuses as the most significant element of executive pay packages at numerous companies. The lack of option expensing can promote excessive use of options in a company's compensation plans, obscure and understate the cost of executive compensation and promote the pursuit of corporate strategies designed to promote short-term stock price rather than long-term corporate value.

A recent report issued by Standard & Poor's indicated that the expensing of stock option grant costs would have lowered operational earnings at companies by as much as 10%. The failure to expense stock option grants has introduced a significant distortion in reported earnings, stated Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan.

Reporting stock options as expenses is a sensible and positive step toward a clearer and more precise accounting of a company's worth. Globe and Mail, "Expensing Options is a Bandwagon Worth Joining," Aug. 16, 2002.

Warren Buffett wrote in a New York Times Op-Ed piece on July 24, 2002:

There is a crisis of confidence today about corporate earnings reports and the credibility of chief executives. And it's justified.

For many years, I've had little confidence in the earnings numbers reported by most corporations. I'm not talking about Enron and WorldCom—examples of outright crookedness. Rather, I am referring to the legal, but improper, accounting methods used by chief executives to inflate reported earnings...

Options are a huge cost for many corporations and a huge benefit to executives. No wonder, then, that they have fought ferociously to avoid making a charge against their earnings. Without blushing, almost all C.E.O.'s have told their shareholders that options are cost-free...

When a company gives something of value to its employees in return for their services, it is clearly a compensation expense. And if expenses don't belong in the earnings statement, where in the world do they belong?

Many companies have responded to investors' concerns about their failure to expense stock options. In recent months, more than 100 companies, including such prominent ones as Coca Cola, Washington Post, and General Electric, have decided to expense stock options in order to provide their shareholders more accurate financial statements. Our Company has yet to act. We urge your support.

The Company's Statement in Opposition

We believe that there are costs associated with stock options and that those costs should be disclosed to Shareholders. We also understand the need of our Shareholders to have access to information that accurately and clearly presents the financial results of the Company and that makes our results easily comparable to the results of other companies.

As discussed below, the subject of accounting for stock options is being actively debated. Until the accounting regulators provide more clarity on the issue we believe it is premature to change our accounting method. Comparability can only be achieved if companies are using the same accounting methods.

We follow the accounting rule most widely used by American industry for stock options. This rule is called the intrinsic value method. Its application results in no expense recognition on our earnings statement because we grant options at a price equal to the fair market value of our stock on the date of the grant. In effect, the intrinsic value method acknowledges that an option granted at fair market value has no value on the date of grant and no certainty of ever having any value. While the face of the Company's consolidated statement of earnings does not therefore include an expense for options, Shareholders can review the information in Note 17 of the Notes to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements to determine what the impact of stock options on the Company's financial results would have been had the method proposed by the proponent been used.

The Shareholder Proposal requests that we change our accounting practice and adopt the fair value method that is used by a minority of U.S. companies. This accounting method attempts to estimate the expense resulting from stock option grants through application of complicated valuation techniques, not originally designed for valuing employee stock options, that rely upon many assumptions, including future stock prices, stock price volatility, how long the employee will hold the option, and interest rates. Unfortunately, no rules exist as to how these assumptions should be determined. Thus the subjective nature of the fair value calculation leads to financial statements that are not comparable with other companies.

Congress, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) and the International Accounting Standards Board are actively studying the issue of accounting for stock options. On March 12, 2003 the FASB announced it would initiate a project to improve the accounting and disclosures related to stock-based compensation . . . costs and to address whether to require the cost of employee stock options be treated as an expense. The FASB also announced it believes there is need for one consistent approach to recognize the costs associated with employee stock options. The FASB hopes to issue an Exposure Draft later this year that could become effective in 2004.

The Company's goal is to prudently select accounting methods that facilitate the presentation of financial results in an accurate and transparent manner and provide for comparability with other companies. With respect to accounting for the cost of stock options, we believe the best way to further this goal is to retain the Company's current accounting policy and await a decision on this issue from the organizations that regulate financial accounting.

ACCORDINGLY, THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS URGES YOU TO VOTE AGAINST THIS PROPOSAL.

Compliance with Section 16 of the Exchange
Act of 1934

Based upon a review of filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and written representations that no other reports were required, the Company believes that during the fiscal year ended January 31, 2003 all filing requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act applicable to its directors, executive officers and 10 percent shareholders were satisfied, except that Erik B. Nordstrom and Peter E. Nordstrom each filed a late Form 4 reporting a single transaction, and Bruce A. Nordstrom filed two reports late related to the purchase and subsequent gifting of 21 shares.

Other Matters

The Board of Directors of the Company knows of no other matters that may come before the Annual Meeting. However, if any other matters should properly come before the Annual Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof, it is the intention of the persons named in the Proxy to vote the Proxy in accordance with their best judgment.
