FUND PROFILE

THE CENTRAL EUROPEAN EQUITY FUND (CEE) is an actively managed Exchange-Traded Closed-End Fund that invests primarily in equities of Central and Eastern Europe. Its benchmark is comprised of 85% CECE Index and 15% of the Russian RTX Index. Both indices are calculated by the Vienna Stock Exchange. The Central European Equity Fund is managed by the Deutsche Bank Group.

Hanspeter Ackermann, CIO of the Central European Equity Fund, manages the portfolio with specialists at Deutsche Asset Management International in Frankfurt and Warsaw providing advice.

COMMENTS FROM THE CIO

- o The Central Europe region significantly outperformed developed markets for the six-month period ending April 30, 2003. The CECE Index rose 12.7%, while the S&P 500 Index rose 3.5% and the MSCI Europe Index rose 2.7%.
  - o Admission to the European Union remains on track, as public referenda continue to be passed and membership criteria are met. We believe this will continue to be healthy for the markets as has happened with Spain, Portugal and Greece before they were admitted.
  - o Russia's GDP rose at an annualized rate of 6.4% during the first quarter. Growth was achieved through a continued improvement in the oil and metal sectors as well as in engineering and processing industries.
  - o Investment and consolidation in the oil industry is picking up. With the world's second largest oil & gas reserves, Russia is becoming a major player. We believe this is an attractive area to invest in now.
