PART III - NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why the Form 10-K, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach Extra Sheets if Needed).

The Registrant is unable to timely file its report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003 (the "Form 10-K") without unreasonable effort or expense. As disclosed in the Registrant's press releases dated February 20, 2004 and March 4, 2004, the Registrant has determined that it will be required to restate financial statements from prior periods due to the fact that revenues from equipment sales made to Growell Metal Co., Ltd. ("Growell") in the third and fourth quarters of 2002 and the first quarter of 2003 should not have been recognized in those periods. The previously reported equipment sales to Growell were comprised of $1.6 million of revenue from alloying equipment sales in the third and fourth quarters of 2002 and $2.6 million of revenue from the sale of Liquidmetal die casting machines in the first quarter of 2003. The Registrant's ongoing review and analysis of these equipment sales and the restatement have caused a delay in the completion of the Registrant's audit for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003 and a corresponding delay in the completion in the Form 10-K. The Registrant expects that it will file the Form 10-K by March 30, 2004.

The effect of the restatement will be to eliminate the recognition of revenue on the alloying equipment sales made to Growell in the third and fourth quarters of 2002, and to defer the recognition of revenue on the die casting machine sales made in the first quarter of 2003. The Registrant currently expects that the revenue from the die casting machine sales will be deferred until the first quarter of 2004, which is the quarter during which Growell paid for the die casting machines as a part of the previously announced settlement agreement between the Registrant and Growell. On a preliminary unaudited basis, the Registrant currently expects that the restatement will result in total revenues of $11.5 million for the 2002 fiscal year, a decrease over previously reported revenues for the year. On a quarterly basis, the restatement will result in revenue of $2.8 million and $5.2 million for the third quarter of 2002 and fourth quarter of 2002, respectively, representing a decrease over previously reported revenues for such periods. The registrant does not expect that the restatement will have a material impact on the amount of the Registrant's previously reported net loss for fiscal 2002 or for the third and fourth quarters of 2002.

On a preliminary unaudited basis, the Registrant also currently expects that the restatement will result in revenue of $4.0 million for the first quarter of 2003, representing a decrease over previously reported first quarter 2003 revenues, and a net loss of $(7.6) million for the first quarter of 2003, representing an increase in the previously reported net loss for first quarter 2003.
