Payment at Maturity per Buffered Security

Hypothetical Payout on the Buffered Securities

The payoff diagram below illustrates the payment at maturity on the Buffered Securities, assuming a hypothetical buffer amount of 26%.

The issuer has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents the issuer has filed with the SEC for more complete information about the issuer and this offering. You may get these documents for free by visiting EDGAR on the SEC Web site at www.sec.gov. Alternatively, the issuer, any underwriter or any dealer participating in the offering will arrange to send you the prospectus if you request it by calling toll-free 1-800-584-6837.

Risk Considerations

The risks set forth below are discussed in more detail in the “Risk Factors” section in the accompanying preliminary terms. Please review those risk factors carefully prior to making an investment decision.

· Buffered Securities do not pay interest and provide a minimum payment at maturity of only at least 26% of your principal.

· The market price of the Buffered Securities will be influenced by many unpredictable factors.

· The Buffered Securities are subject to our credit risk, and any actual or anticipated changes to our credit ratings or credit spreads may adversely affect the market value of the Buffered Securities.

· As a finance subsidiary, MSFL has no independent operations and will have no independent assets.

· The amount payable on the Buffered Securities is not linked to the value of the underlying index at any time other than the valuation date.

· Investing in the Buffered Securities is not equivalent to investing in the underlying index.

· The rate we are willing to pay for securities of this type, maturity and issuance size is likely to be lower than the rate implied by our secondary market credit spreads and advantageous to us. Both the lower rate and the inclusion of costs associated with issuing, selling, structuring and hedging the Buffered Securities in the original issue price reduce the economic terms of the Buffered Securities, cause the estimated value of the Buffered Securities to be less than the original issue price and will adversely affect secondary market prices.

· Adjustments to the underlying index could adversely affect the value of the Buffered Securities.

Edgar Filing: MORGAN STANLEY - Form FWP

The estimated value of the Buffered Securities is determined by reference to our pricing and valuation models, which may differ from those of other dealers and is not a maximum or minimum secondary market price.

- The Buffered Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and secondary trading may be limited.

The calculation agent, which is a subsidiary of Morgan Stanley and an affiliate of MSFL, will make determinations with respect to the Buffered Securities.

- Hedging and trading activity by our affiliates could potentially adversely affect the value of the Buffered Securities.

- The U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered Securities are uncertain.

Tax Considerations

You should review carefully the discussion in the accompanying preliminary terms under the caption “Additional Information About the Buffered Securities– Tax considerations” concerning the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered Securities. However, you should consult your tax adviser regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Buffered Securities, as well as any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction.
