Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

On September 7, 2010, LogMeIn, Inc. ( LMI ) received notice from Intel Corporation ( Intel ) of termination of the Connectivity Service and Marketing Agreement, dated December 26, 2007, by and between LMI and Intel (the Agreement ), pursuant to Section 13.6(f) of the Agreement. Termination of the Agreement is effective as of December 26, 2010. Under the Agreement, the parties jointly developed a service that delivered connectivity to computers built with Intel components and LMI adapted its service delivery platform to work with specific technology delivered with Intel hardware and software products. Intel paid LMI a minimum quarterly license and service fee of $1.25 million during the term of the Agreement. As previously disclosed, the current market demand for the technology developed under the Agreement was not sufficient for LMI and Intel to continue offering services under the Agreement. The Agreement was filed as Exhibit 10.16 to LMI s Form S-1/A filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 26, 2009.

Due to the termination of the Agreement, Intel will continue to owe LMI the minimum quarterly license and services fees for the remainder of 2010, but will not owe LMI any of the $5.0 million in license and service fees associated with 2011, which was to be the final year of the Agreement. In lieu of the 2011 license and service fees, Intel will pay LMI a one-time termination payment of $2.5 million.
