Financial Statements and Schedules

(With Independent Auditors' Report Thereon)

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors
Cerner Corporation:

We have audited the accompanying statements of net assets available for participants of the Cerner Corporation Foundations Retirement Plan as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for participants for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for participants of the Cerner Corporation Foundations Retirement Plan as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the changes in net assets available for participants for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary schedules of assets held for investment purposes and reportable transactions are presented for the purpose of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements, but are supplementary information required by the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. The supplemental schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

GENERAL

The following brief description of the Cerner Corporation Foundations Retirement Plan (the Plan) is provided for general information purposes only. Participants should refer to the Plan Agreement for more complete information.

The Plan was adopted by the Board of Directors of Cerner Corporation (the Company or Employer) effective November 1, 1987, with the most recent amendment effective January 1, 2000. The Plan is administered by a third-party administrator. All full-time associates of the Company are eligible for participation in the Plan after attaining age eighteen.

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and present the Plan's net assets available for participants and changes in those net assets.

EXPENSES

Substantially all costs and expenses incurred in administering the Plan are paid by the Company. Expenses related to issuance of loans to participants are charged to the participant obtaining the loan.

INVESTMENTS

The Plan's investments and earnings thereon are held in a bank trust account. The fair values of investments are based principally on quotations from national securities exchanges. Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis.

LOANS TO PARTICIPANTS

At the discretion of the Company, loans may be made to participants in an amount up to 50% of the participant's self-directed funds balance. The loan period may not exceed ten years and the interest rate is prime plus 1%.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The Plan utilizes a number of estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities to prepare these financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(2) CONTRIBUTIONS

Participating associates may elect to make pretax contributions from 1% to 20% of their compensation to the Plan, subject to annual limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Service. Participants may direct contributions into nine different investment funds. These funds include investments in the Company common stock, the American Century Ultra Fund, the American Century Growth Fund, the American Century Select Fund, the American Century Balanced Fund, the American Century Value Fund, the American Century International Growth Fund, the American Century Stable Asset Fund, and the Charles B. Schwab Personal Choice Account. The Company will make matching contributions in an amount equal to 33% of the participant's annual contribution, not to exceed 6% of the participant's annual compensation. All Company contributions are directed to the Company common stock fund.

(3) DISTRIBUTIONS

Upon normal retirement, retirement for permanent disability, or death, a participant is entitled to the full value of the assets attributable to his or her contributions and Company contributions made on his or her behalf. Upon termination for any other reason, a participant is entitled to 100% of his or her contributions and the vested portion of Company contributions. Company contributions vest 20% after one year of service and 20% for each additional year of service until a participant is 100% vested upon completing five years of service. Forfeitures of nonvested contributions are allocated to all Plan participants as of the Plan year-end on a pro rata basis according to individual participant annual earnings.

Participants receive distributions of Company common stock in shares of the Company's common stock, except that cash is distributed for fractional shares. Participants may also elect to receive cash for distributions with a value less than $1,000. During the years ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, 97,988 and 46,925 shares of the Company's common stock, respectively, were distributed to withdrawing participants. Participants receive distributions from all other funds in cash.

(4) TAX STATUS

The Plan received a favorable determination letter, dated August 25, 1994, from the Internal Revenue Service confirming the tax-exempt status of the Plan under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Company is not aware of any activity or transactions that may adversely affect the qualified status of the Plan.

Schedule of Reportable Transactions

Year ended December 31, 2000

IDENTITY OF PARTY INVOLVED	DESCRIPTION OF ASSET	PURCHASE PRICE	SELLING PRICE	OR
Cerner Corporation	Common stock	$ 6,543,869	--	6

NOTES:

A reportable transaction is defined by the Department of Labor as:

- A single transaction in excess of 5% of the fair value of plan assets.
- A series of transactions with or in conjunction with the same person, involving property other than securities, which amounts in the aggregate to more than 5% of the fair value of the plan assets.
- A series of transactions with respect to securities of the same issue which amounts in the aggregate to more than 5% of the fair value of the total plan assets.
- Any transaction with or in conjunction with a person if a prior or subsequent single transaction has occurred with respect to securities with or in conjunction with the same person in an amount in excess of 5% of the fair value of plan assets.

A reportable transaction is identified by comparing the fair value of the transaction at the transaction date with the fair value of the plan assets at the beginning of the year ended December 31, 2000.

See accompanying independent auditors' report.
