Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On September 17, 2007, Sterling Chemicals, Inc. (Sterling) entered into a long-term exclusive styrene supply agreement with NOVA Chemicals Inc. (Nova). The effectiveness of this agreement is conditioned on its approval by the Federal Trade Commission (the FTC). If this agreement becomes effective, it will have an initial term extending until December 31, 2017, subject to some limited earlier termination rights held by Sterling. Under the agreement, Nova will have the exclusive right to the entire production capacity of Sterling s Texas City, Texas styrene plant, the amount of any styrene supplied in any particular period being at Nova s option based on a full-cost formula. In exchange for Sterling s obligations under this agreement and a related rail car purchase and sale agreement entered into concurrently with the supply agreement, Nova has agreed to pay Sterling $60 million within ten business days after the agreements become effective. Alternatively, if the FTC does not approve the supply agreement, Nova will be required to pay Sterling a break-up fee equal to $6 million.

The press release announcing the entry into the supply agreement and the related rail car purchase and sale agreement with Nova is included in this Current Report as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
