PRECISION DRILLING CORPORATION'S FOURTH QUARTER EARNINGS EXPECTED TO BE CDN $0.14 TO CDN $0.18 PER SHARE

Precision Drilling Corporation ("Precision" or the "Corporation") today announces that it expects diluted earnings per share for the fourth quarter of 2002 to be in the range of $0.14 to $0.18. This is significantly below the anticipated range of $0.45 to $0.55 indicated in our October 4, 2002 press release.

Results for the Contract Drilling Group are being revised downward by 10% from previous expectations. This reduction is primarily related to lower than anticipated Canadian drilling activity levels. Pricing levels have remained as anticipated.

The Rental and Production Group will generate results in line with expectations.

The Technology Services Group, which accounts for the majority of the shortfall, has experienced a number of negative influences on its global operations. New product launch teams and service delivery infrastructures established to support the group's long term growth strategy have been under utilized due to the delayed roll out of new wireline and logging-while-drilling technologies. This is having the greatest effect in the US, Latin America and Asia Pacific regions. In addition, political instability, project delays and adverse weather conditions in a number of regions have further impacted activity levels.

On a more positive note, with the strengthening in domestic natural gas prices and the continued stability in world oil prices, the Corporation believes it is well positioned to take advantage of the strong Canadian market expected in the first quarter of 2003. We are optimistic that the US market will soon react to these same strong fundamentals and alleviate some of the negative pressure that currently exists in this market. We expect that increased activity levels globally, combined with a heightened focus on operational efficiencies, particularly in the Technology Services Group, should enhance future profitability.

Certain statements contained in this press release, including statements which may contain words such as "could", "should", "anticipate", "expect", "believe", "will" and similar expressions and statements relating to future profitability or anticipated results and statements relating to matters that are not historical facts including anticipated earnings per share are forward-looking statements.
