ITEM 7.01 REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE.

On June 21, 2005, the U.S. Patent Office issued to the Company a patent on non-directional carpet tile products. (U.S. Patent No. 6,908,656.) The patent claims cover characteristics of certain products in the Company's carpet tile collection that allow those carpet tiles to be randomly oriented during installation. In connection with the issuance of the patent, the Company filed lawsuits against certain competitors seeking, among other things, to stop any infringement of the patent. Some of those competitors also filed a separate action seeking, among other things, a declaration that the patent is invalid.
