A message to the Cigna Team

Cigna has a rich, proud history of embracing and adapting to change. In fact, this has been a hallmark of our organization dating back to our founding in 1792 – always driven by our unwavering commitment to meeting the dynamic needs of our customers, clients, partners and communities.

Frequently, we pursue opportunities to improve through the acquisition of organizations with complementary capabilities and similar histories of customer centricity.

Consistent with this, I'm happy to share with you that earlier today, Cigna announced an agreement to acquire Express Scripts, a leading pharmacy services company that makes the use of medicine safer and more affordable for more than 80 million people throughout the United States. Together, we will serve millions, and have more than one billion customer touch points per year.

Another shared characteristic between our companies is our passion for making our customers and their communities healthier. As part of today's announcement, we have committed to investing an incremental $200 million in our charitable foundation following the transaction closing, to support the communities in which we operate and with a continued focus on improving societal health.

I'm excited by this news, and hope you will be, as well. Express Scripts has a well-earned reputation for innovation, providing strong customer service and delivering high-quality, affordable health care services. Among many other benefits, this acquisition will significantly expand Cigna's pharmacy and physician engagement, as well as the breadth of our retail and government risk-based programs.

Together, we will be even better positioned to expand consumer choice, help deepen customer and provider relationships, and make health care even more personalized and simpler for those we serve.

Importantly, until the deal formally closes, Cigna and Express Scripts will continue to remain separate and independent companies, and we must continue to focus on delivering quality health care services for our clients and customers.

You can learn more about our acquisition of Express Scripts in this video.

Let me conclude by thanking all of you! Your continued contributions in a highly dynamic environment made this transaction possible, and I'm proud of how you continue to embody our mission of improving the health, well-being and sense of security of those we serve, each and every day.

David
