STATEMENT related to letters filed with the ICC

July 12, 2011

AGL Resources Inc. and Nicor Inc. are aware of anonymous letters recently sent to the Illinois Commerce Commission Staff about the proposed merger of the companies. The letters contain several inaccuracies and make a number of unfounded assertions which are inconsistent with previous testimony of senior officers of both companies.

AGL Resources and Nicor believe the combination of the two companies will create long term benefits for customers and establish a platform for growth superior to what either company could achieve alone. Both Nicor and AGL Resources possess exceptional safety records and are committed to ensuring safety remains a top priority in the combined company.

In an effort to ensure Nicor customers continue to enjoy the same safe, reliable and efficient delivery of natural gas that they do today, AGL Resources has committed to maintaining for a period of three years after the close of the proposed merger, the number of full-time equivalent employees involved in the operation of the natural gas distribution business of Nicor Gas. This means that most of the people involved in operating the Nicor Gas system today will continue performing those or similar jobs following the merger. AGL Resources also recently entered into an agreement with ICC Staff to maintain, for a five-year period, personnel levels in specific areas of oversight of the Nicor Gas system. This further commitment to safety is unprecedented among recent utility mergers in Illinois.

Additionally, AGL Resources' commitments to honor the existing union contracts with Nicor Gas and continue the company's philanthropic contributions for a period of at least three years after the close of the merger, as well as its decision to locate its distribution headquarters in Naperville, will help allow the communities served by Nicor to continue to flourish.

AGL Resources and Nicor are committed to developing a successful integration plan, and the result will undoubtedly bring change to both organizations. The people at both companies are a valued asset and every effort is being made to minimize the impact to employees in the process of blending the two companies.

AGL Resources and Nicor are confident that the combination of these very good companies will provide benefits to customers through the sharing of best practices and will enhance efficiencies by conducting business on a greater scale and scope. The companies believe that approval of the merger will fortify the focus on their core business components and look forward to working with the ICC as the merger continues through the regulatory process.
