Sequent Employee Email - AGL Resources Files Request with FERC

In the course of planning to support the proposed merger of AGL Resources and Nicor, and the anticipated integration of Nicor Enerchange and Sequent Energy Management, AGL Resources yesterday filed a request with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) seeking a waiver of the Commission's posting and bidding requirements. The company also requested a temporary waiver of some regulations, such as the Shipper Must Have Title and Buy/Sell rules.

Assuming the companies are successful in securing the necessary regulatory approvals to complete the merger, these waivers would help facilitate the direct transfer of transportation and storage contracts between Nicor Enerchange and Sequent at the close of the transaction and ensure continuity of service for customers of both companies.

The FERC filing, while customary in transactions of this nature, may be reported by trade media, such as Gas Daily. As a result, you may receive questions from your customers. The attached talking points should help you address customer concerns. All media inquiries should be directed to Tami Gerke at (404) 584-3873.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns.

Talking Points

To assist with addressing customer questions about FERC Filing on 09/14/11

About the Filing

- The filing seeks waivers from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) associated with the transfer of transportation and storage contracts at the close of the proposed merger between AGL Resources Inc. and Nicor Inc..
- The businesses of Nicor Enerchange and Sequent Energy Management are expected to be integrated as part of the proposed merger between Nicor and AGL Resources.
- AGL Resources is committed to the wholesale and asset management business in the Midwest, as well as to serving commercial and industrial customers in this region.
- As the companies are in the transitional phase of integration planning, it is premature to discuss the organizational structure of the combined company.
- AGL Resources and Nicor Enerchange are committed to ensuring clients continue to experience superior service during the transition that follows the close of the proposed merger.

About the Proposed Merger

- The transaction, expected to close later this year, will combine AGL Resources and Nicor to create a leading U.S. natural gas distribution company with:
 - o Approximately $5.1 billion in annual revenues;
 - o Seven regulated natural gas distribution companies providing natural gas service to about 4.5 million customers in Illinois, Georgia, New Jersey, Virginia, Florida, Tennessee and Maryland;
 - o Over 1 million retail customers in the unregulated businesses;
 - o Physical wholesale gas business delivering approximately 4.7 billion cubic feet (Bcf) per day to gas customers; and
 - o Expertise and facilities across the natural gas storage value chain that will provide 31 Bcf of storage in 2012 with expansion potential up to 90 Bcf.
- The increased scale and scope of the combined company is expected to create long-term benefits for customers and establish a growth platform superior to what either company could achieve alone.
- The companies have received approval or clearance from the following federal agencies: the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Justice. The shareholders of both companies have also approved the merger and all proposals required to execute the merger.
- The merger still requires approval from the Illinois Commerce Commission, the state agency that regulates Nicor Gas and establishes rates. We are working diligently through the regulatory process to secure the necessary approvals to complete the transaction later this year.

- Until the merger closes, both companies will continue to operate independently and conduct business as usual with customers.
