Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Crompton Corporation announced yesterday that it has entered into a definitive merger agreement with Great Lakes Chemical Corporation for an all-stock merger transaction that will create the third-largest publicly traded U.S. specialty chemicals company. The new company will have combined pro forma 2004 revenues of more than $4.1 billion and a market capitalization of nearly $3.2 billion.

Under terms of the agreement, which has been unanimously supported by the boards of directors of both companies, Great Lakes shareholders will receive 2.2232 shares of Crompton common stock for each share of Great Lakes common stock they hold. The transaction is expected to be tax-free to Great Lakes's shareholders. The exchange ratio represents a 10.1% premium over Great Lakes's closing share price on March 8, 2005, and equates to $29.92 per Great Lakes share. Based on the March 8th price, the transaction is valued at $1.8 billion, including approximately $250 million of Great Lakes net debt and minority interest.

The new company will be owned 51 percent by Crompton shareholders and 49 percent by Great Lakes shareholders on a fully-diluted basis. Robert L. Wood, currently chairman, president and CEO of Crompton, will serve in those capacities for the combined company, which will be headquartered in Middlebury, Connecticut. In addition to Robert L. Wood, the board of directors will have five directors from each side, for a total of eleven directors. The new company expects to maintain Crompton's existing cash dividend level of $.05 per quarter.

The transaction is expected to be accretive to the combined company's 2006 earnings per share and cash flow per share. In addition to significant cost synergies, the combined company expects to realize cash flow benefits related to utilization of Compton's net operating losses. One-time pre-tax closing costs are expected to be approximately $35 million - $40 million. The combined company also expects to incur one-time pre-tax integration costs of approximately $90 million - $100 million.

The transaction, which is expected to close by mid-year, is subject to regulatory approvals, approval by shareholders of both companies and other customary conditions. Morgan Stanley and Citigroup Global Markets Inc. acted as financial advisors to Crompton on this transaction and Merrill Lynch & Co. acted as financial advisor to Great Lakes.

A copy of the definitive merger agreement and a press release describing the transaction are attached as exhibits hereto and are incorporated by reference herein.
