Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

The underperformance in Daikyo's results are believed to be a temporary effect of the sudden downturn of the real estate market. Therefore, ORIX will acquire 10 billion yen in preferred shares of Daikyo upon the request of both companies, however there is no change to ORIX's original stance of non-strategic investment in Daikyo. In order for Daikyo to weather the continued severe operating environment, ORIX will continue to support Daikyo's plans for restructuring.

It is showing growth in the number of units under management and increased major renovation construction contracts. The integration of OFC in to Daikyo Group property management business is expected to result in an expanded client base, diversification of services, expanded business opportunities by capitalizing on each company's unique expertise, and cost reduction through a shared network. The integration will lead to increased property management revenues and an expanded stable revenue base for the Daikyo Group, prompting ORIX and Daikyo to reach a basic agreement regarding the transfer of OFC to Astage.
