With that I will now turn the call over to Doug.

Douglas F. Bauer - TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - CEO

Thank you, Glenn, and welcome to our first quarter 2014 earnings conference call.

Today, I will provide a brief summary of our recent results, as well as share some additional insight into the housing market and bring you up-to-date on our progress related to the transaction with the Weyerhaeuser Real Estate Company or WRECO. Mike Grubbs will follow up with some additional detail on the first quarter and provide some perspective on the remainder of 2014. We will, then, be joined by Tom Mitchell to take some questions.

We are pleased to start 2014 with a strong quarter in all financial metrics. Increases in orders, deliveries, backlog and average selling price. All of which drove higher revenues and resulting in increasing earnings-per-share, when compared to the same period in 2013.

We were able to achieve these results while working to complete the integration and transition of the WRECO operations, as part of our $2.7 billion merger we announced in November 2013. This wouldn't have been possible without the hard work and dedication of our deep and talented TRI Pointe team.

* * * * *

For the first quarter 2014, TRI Pointe generated net income of $4.3 million, which resulted in earnings per diluted share of $0.14, or earnings per diluted share of $0.15, excluding expenses associated with the WRECO transaction.

* * * * *

I'd like to provide an update on the WRECO transaction. One of the main strengths of this merger is that it gives TRI Pointe a well-diversified brand of companies across many of our target markets with strong local operating teams to execute. The combination with WRECO will be highly transformative for the Company's scale, while providing increased liquidity and earnings on a combined basis.

We continue to make meaningful progress in our plans for the integration and transition of the WRECO operations and team to the TRI Pointe platform. As we spend more time working with the five WRECO companies, we have learned to appreciate the strength and depth of the management teams at Winchester, Trendmaker, Maracay, Quadrant and Pardee. We remain on track to close this transaction early in the third quarter of 2014.

Edgar Filing: TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - Form 425

Looking forward to the remainder of the year, we are excited not only about the growth of TRI Pointe, but the combination of these six companies. The long-term outlook is strong in all of our existing markets and affords us an excellent land position that presents opportunities for future profitability and cash flow.

I want to thank the WRECO and TRI Pointe teams for the tremendous support and effort they have put into the integration and transition of what will become one of the largest homebuilders, based on estimated, combined equity market value, but it isn't about being the biggest, but being one of the best in markets.

I will now pass the call to Mike to provide additional detail on our first quarter 2014 financial results.

Michael D. Grubbs - TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - CFO

Thanks, Doug, good morning. I would, also, like to welcome everyone to today's call.

I will be highlighting some of our results and key financial metrics from the first quarter and provide our expectations and outlook for the second quarter and full-year 2014; and, then, we will open it up for some questions.

* * * * *

During the first quarter, the Company incurred $548,000 in transaction-related expenses, which included legal and accounting due diligence, integration and other transition costs related to the WRECO transaction. Excluding these expenses, earnings per diluted share was $0.15. The Company also expects to continue to incur additional transition expenses related to the WRECO integration during the next two quarters.

* * * * *

For the balance of 2014, excluding the WRECO transaction, we expect to open 22 new selling communities to TRI Pointe, of which 16 are in California, and six in Colorado.

* * * * *

For the full year 2014, excluding the WRECO transaction, the Company is maintaining its guidance for deliveries of 660 homes and home sales revenue of $475 million.

* * * * *

As I mentioned, we're off to a solid start in 2014. As we look ahead to the balance of the year, we're very excited and focused on the transformational changes of our Company.

This completes our prepared remarks, but let me remind everyone that while we can discuss our results, we are still fairly restricted on discussing information related to WRECO. After we close this transaction, which we expect to occur early in the third quarter, we will be provide additional information related to the WRECO subsidiaries and future filings and on subsequent earnings release calls. We look forward to reporting our progress throughout the rest of the year.

At this point, Danielle, we will like to open it up for questions.

Our next question comes from Ivy Zelman with Zelman and Associates. Please proceed.

Ivy Zelman - Zelman & Associates - Analyst

Hi, guys. Good morning. Good results. Just a few things, your SG&A as a percent of sales have been very strong and, surprising, to the upside, in recognizing the success you've had in the ramp-up with maintaining a local cost. Can you just elaborate on if we should assume that's sustainable in the face of the acquisition and, obviously, integration costs, do you think you can kind of stay in that low end of the range?

Michael D. Grubbs - TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - CFO

Ivy, this is Mike. Yes.

We're really not guiding to the combined company right now, but as TRI Pointe standalone, obviously, we're comfortable working in the lower end of that range. We are going to incur some additional transition costs. That's going to bump that number, probably, up. And when you look at the combined companies, they're running a little bit higher SG&A, so that's one of our target goals over the next two to three years, is to drive that number back down.

Douglas F. Bauer - TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - CEO

Part of the issue Ivy, this is Doug. We're dealing with and higher AST in our mix of homes right now, so that, obviously, drives the percentage down, and when you combine the companies, the AST will come down quite a bit. So, there will definitely be some changes in that SG&A, but we look at that as something we continue to improve on over the next one to three years.

Brendan Lynch - Sidoti & Company - Analyst

I see that you're acquiring some land in California in the first quarter. Is this something that you continue you will continue to do even after the WRECO acquisition, or is this just a land deal that was coming to fruition in the first quarter that you had been working on for the past, you know, several months?

Douglas F. Bauer - TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. - CEO

Yes. This is Doug, Brendan. I mean, we will continue to look at land opportunities. We've got 100% coverage for 2015, and through 2016, I think we're if I recall, Mike, about 75%, 80%. So, we're looking for opportunities that will fill that pipeline for the second half of 2016. So, we will continue to be in the market here at TRI Pointe and, frankly, after we close the WRECO transaction, as well.

Below are excerpts from an earnings release issued by TRI Pointe Homes, Inc. on May 6, 2014.

Douglas F. Bauer, Chief Executive Officer stated, "We are pleased with our strong operating results during the first quarter while we continue to complete the integration and transition of the WRECO companies. These results are a direct result of our disciplined land acquisition process that leads to the opening of new communities in excellent locations, executed by our very talented TRI Pointe team. As we continue through 2014, TRI Pointe is well positioned to achieve meaningful top and bottom line growth over 2013, while transforming into one of the largest homebuilders in our industry, which will be composed of six, well positioned regional homebuilding brands in some of the best housing markets."

First quarter 2014 operating results

Net income for the first quarter of 2014 was impacted by $548,000 of expenses associated with the WRECO transaction. Excluding the WRECO transaction expenses, net of tax, net income would have been $4.6 million*, or $0.15* per diluted share.

WRECO Transaction

On November 4, 2013, TRI Pointe announced that its Board of Directors approved a definitive agreement pursuant to which WRECO, the wholly-owned homebuilding and real estate subsidiary of Weyerhaeuser Company (NYSE: WY) ("Weyerhaeuser"), will combine with a subsidiary of TRI Pointe in a transaction valued at approximately $2.7 billion as of that date. The transaction is on target to close early in the third quarter of 2014 and will establish TRI Pointe as one of the ten largest homebuilders in the United States based on estimated combined equity market value.

2014 Outlook

The Company, exclusive of the WRECO transaction, expects to open 22 new selling communities for the balance of 2014, of which 16 are in California and six in Colorado. In the second quarter of 2014, the Company expects to deliver approximately 50% of its 195 units in backlog as of March 31, 2014. For the full year 2014, the Company is maintaining its initial guidance for deliveries of 660 homes and home sales revenue of $475 million, exclusive of the WRECO transaction.
