The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation primarily through investment in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central Europe, Russia and Turkey.

Investments in funds involve risks, including the loss of principal.

The shares of most closed-end funds, including the Fund, are not continuously offered. Once issued, shares of closed-end funds are bought and sold in the open market. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to net asset value. The price of the Fund's shares is determined by a number of factors, several of which are beyond the control of the Fund. Therefore, the Fund cannot predict whether its shares will trade at, below, or above net asset value.

This Fund is non-diversified and can take larger positions in fewer issuers than a diversified fund, increasing its potential risk. Investing in foreign securities, particularly those of emerging markets, presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that focuses in a particular segment of the market or a particular region of the world will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

The European Union, the United States and other countries have imposed sanctions on Russia as a result of the Russian military intervention in Ukraine. These sanctions have adversely affected Russian individuals, Russian issuers and the Russian economy. Russia, in turn, has imposed sanctions targeting Western individuals, businesses and products, including food products. The various sanctions have adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, not only the Russian economy but also the economies of many countries in Europe, including countries in Central Europe. Potential developments in the Ukraine, and the continuation of current sanctions, or the imposition of additional sanctions, may materially adversely affect the value or liquidity of the Fund's portfolio.

Deutsche Asset Management represents the asset management activities conducted by Deutsche Bank AG or any of its subsidiaries.

Letter to the Shareholders (Unaudited)

Dear Shareholder,

For the semiannual period ended April 30, 2017, the Central Europe, Russia and Turkey Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") delivered a total return in U.S. dollars (USD) of 13.08% based on net asset value (NAV) and 15.91% based on market price. During the same period, the total return in USD of the Fund's benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Europe ex Greece Index, was 14.07%.¹ The Fund's discount to NAV averaged 12.84% for the period in review, compared with 12.23% for the same period a year earlier.

During the course of the reporting period, equity markets in Emerging Europe performed well due to improvements in overall global economic conditions, along with favorable earnings results in the region. Poland was the top performing equity market for the period, gaining 32.7% (WIG20 in USD terms).² Russia returned 13.6% (RTS in USD terms) and Turkey returned 7.5% (XU100 in USD terms).^{3,4}

Russia's recession ended during the fourth quarter of 2016, with a slight increase in the country's gross domestic product (GDP) of 0.3%.⁵ The Central Bank of Russia (CBR) has forecast GDP growth of 1.2% in 2017, and we believe that interest rates may further decline by over 1% by the end of 2017 due to deflationary trends. Driven by the stabilization of the domestic economy and the increase in the price of oil, Russian equities were top performers until the end of 2016. However, this positive trend turned negative in 2017, with oil prices declining and hopes for the removal of sanctions fading. The biggest sector outperformers were utilities, followed by telecommunication services and financials. The weakest individual performer within the Russian large cap universe was Magnit PJSC (a significant underweight in the Fund compared with the benchmark), due to falling same-store sales and uncertainty regarding the company's 2017 earnings forecast.

Turkey has thus far recovered nicely in 2017 despite its weak local currency, which depreciated almost 13% during the reporting period. Following the result of April's referendum on the executive presidency system, the Turkish lira (TRY) has stabilized. The Turkish government is supporting private businesses through credit guarantees, which translate into higher loan growth in the banking sector. Ongoing tax cuts on some durable goods and incentives for new hiring, such as insurance premium and income tax reductions, were additional beneficial measures. However, Turkey's unemployment rate remained high, and consumption growth remained low. Double-digit inflation, high interest rates and a weak tourism sector represented further challenges for the economy. The best market performers were materials and energy stocks, while real estate and consumer staples stocks lagged.

Poland's macroeconomic environment remained strong due to a supportive European backdrop, robust domestic private consumption and a healthy labor market. We believe that recent weakness in investment spending driven by a decline in the utilization of EU funds by the public sector will reverse itself in 2017, and should lead to an uptick in investments. The dynamic surge in inflation during the reporting period led to speculation regarding interest-rate hikes, which supported the performance of Polish banks. The energy sector was very strong due to newly introduced "grey zone regulation" (i.e., rules to limit tax evasion and under-the-table operations within Poland's liquid natural gas market) and robust underlying demand.

In Hungary, macroeconomic conditions remained favorable. Hungary's government decreased the corporate income tax rate to 9% this year, one of the lowest levels in the EU, and introduced economic stimulus measures such as the reduction of social security contributions and increases in minimum income. Within Hungary, the MOL Group, where the Fund had an overweight position, was the best performer due to a very positive environment for refiners and the company's strong operational results.

Economic Outlook

In Russia, we see signs of a recovery. However, the equity market is strongly correlated to the price of oil. We believe that only renewed momentum in the price of oil would lead to further market outperformance there. Additionally, Russia's weight in GEMs (global emerging markets) funds is already high (i.e., a consensus overweight among investors) and the removal of U.S. and EU sanctions seems not to be happening as some investors had expected.

We remain cautious regarding the Turkish market, and the Fund is underweight in Turkish equities. An elevated current account deficit and high dependence on external funding remain Turkey's economic Achilles' heel. Looking forward, we expect an unfavorable inflation picture there throughout the year, which may lead to further depreciation of the TRY.

In Poland, risks—political as well as sector-related—have not yet been removed. Thus, after being one of the top-performing equity markets year to date, the risk of consolidation there is increasing. On the other hand, Polish companies display strong earnings growth. But since the earnings forecasts for banks chiefly depend on the inflation outlook, a reduction in inflation related to the fading oil price might be an argument against rapid interest rate hikes. The Fund is underweight in the Polish banking sector, but we would expect positive sentiment to prevail for Poland. Based on this, market corrections may be used as opportunities to increase exposure to the market.

The Fund entered the second quarter of 2017 with an overweight position in Hungary. The country's equity market displays sound earnings growth and the macroeconomic picture there remains very solid.

Lastly, on April 28, 2017, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors had approved and recommended to stockholders for their approval at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held on June 27, 2017: a change to the Fund's investment objective from seeking "long-term capital appreciation through investment primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central Europe, Russia and Turkey" to seeking "long-term capital appreciation primarily through investment in equity and equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central and Eastern Europe"; a conforming change to the Fund's corresponding fundamental investment policy; and a change to the Fund's concentration policy to require the Fund to concentrate its investments in the energy sector. Details are set forth in the Fund's proxy statement dated May 22, 2017, which stockholders are urged to review carefully.

Sincerely,

Christian Strenger		Brian Binder

Outlook Interview with the Portfolio Manager (Unaudited)

Portfolio Manager

Sylwia Szczeppek, Vice President

Portfolio Manager since December 22, 2014.

Question: Russia is among the top dividend payers in the world. How sustainable is such a high yield?

Answer: The MSCI Russia dividend yield is expected to be north of 5% in 2017. The payout ratio of the market increased from 16% in 2006 to 35% in 2016. It is important to understand the reasons for such a high payout. The positive aspect is that the government has pushed state-owned companies to pay more. The less positive aspect is that companies haven't invested much in recent years, often limiting capital expenditures to maintenance works. That, of course, is negative for growth. Going forward we don't see much opportunity for a further increase in dividend payouts from the current high base, as the state would need to encourage growth through creating an environment conducive to investment.

Question: What is the impact of the strong Russian ruble on the economy?

Answer: Ruble appreciation has a negative impact on exporters. Industrial production remained flat in the first quarter of 2017 and retail trade and construction continued to decrease further. The only segments currently profiting from the strong ruble are transport and wholesale trade. On the other hand, the strong ruble is not driving a recovery in consumption. We believe that the ruble's strength will be temporary due to forex interventions and the expected deeper cut in the key rate, which will make ruble-denominated bonds and carry trades less attractive.

Question: Considering inflationary trends in Poland, what is the interest rate outlook for the coming 12 months?

Answer: Despite a very upbeat macroeconomic environment, the rhetoric from the National Bank of Poland has remained dovish. In the opinion of the monetary policy committee of the Polish Central Bank, any inflationary pressure is still doubtful and price growth will probably moderate until the end of the year. In our view, the interest rates will likely remain unchanged for the next 12 months. Wage growth has been stable so far. Fiscal policy under the new government is not as expansionary as expected, and the increase in spending was less than expected. The Polish zloty remains strong, so any increase in interest rates could lead to further currency appreciation.

Question: The Fund is significantly underweight in Turkey. What is your longer term outlook for the Turkish market?

Answer: Turkey is living through difficult times. A long-term, very exciting story has been blurred by a highly populist political agenda, which takes its toll on the macroeconomic environment: Support schemes such as the lifting of the value-added tax for electronic goods and furniture boosts consumer sentiment, but does little to address Turkey's issue of becoming stuck in a "middle income trap" (i.e., lifting GDP per capita from the current level of approximately 10,000 USD). Shifting global alliances, also due to the multitude of ongoing issues in the Middle East, leaves little confidence in proposed long-term policies by the government. Although trade diversification has improved markedly over the past 20 years, Turkey's key trading partner still remains the EU, which is highly critical of the current trends of governance and democratic process in Turkey. Accordingly, our investments in Turkey have become highly selective.

For purposes of its industry concentration policy, the Fund classifies issuers of portfolio securities at the industry sub-group level. Certain of the categories in the above Schedule of Investments consist of multiple industry sub-groups or industries.

Fair Value Measurements

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels. Level 1 includes quoted prices in active markets for identical securities. Level 2 includes other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds and credit risk). Level 3 includes significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments). The level assigned to the securities valuations may not be an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of April 30, 2017 in valuing the Fund's investments.

Notes to Financial Statements (Unaudited)

A. Accounting Policies

The Central Europe, Russia and Turkey Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company incorporated in Maryland. The Fund commenced investment operations on March 6, 1990.

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Fund qualifies as an investment company under Topic 946 of Accounting Standards Codification of U.S. GAAP. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuation. The Fund calculates its net asset value ("NAV") per share for publication at the close of regular trading on Deutsche Börse XETRA, normally at 11:30 a.m., New York time.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels. Level 1 includes quoted prices in active markets for identical securities. Level 2 includes other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds and credit risk). Level 3 includes significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments). The level assigned to the securities valuations may not be an indication of the risk or liquidity associated with investing in those securities.

Equity securities are valued at the most recent sale price or official closing price reported on the exchange (U.S. or foreign) or over-the-counter market on which they trade prior to the time of valuation. Securities for which no sales are reported are valued at the calculated mean between the most recent bid and asked quotations on the relevant market or, if a mean cannot be determined, at the most recent bid quotation. Equity securities are generally categorized as Level 1.

Investments in open-end investment companies are valued and traded at their NAV each business day and are categorized as Level 1.

Securities and other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or for which the above valuation procedures are deemed not to reflect fair value are valued in a manner that is intended to reflect their fair value as determined in accordance with procedures approved by the Board and are generally categorized as Level 3. In accordance with the Fund's valuation procedures, factors considered in determining value may include, but are not limited to, the type of the security; the size of the holding; the initial cost of the security; the existence of any contractual restrictions on the security's disposition; the price and extent of public trading in similar securities of the issuer or of comparable companies; quotations or evaluated prices from broker-dealers and/or the appropriate stock exchange (for exchange-traded securities); an analysis of the company's or issuer's financial statements; an evaluation of the forces that influence the issuer and the market(s) in which the security is purchased and sold; and, with respect to debt securities, the maturity, coupon, creditworthiness, currency denomination, and the movement of the market in which the security is normally traded. The value determined under these procedures may differ from published values for the same securities.

Disclosure about the classification of the fair value measurements is included in a table following the Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income. Investment transactions are accounted for on a trade date plus one basis for daily NAV calculation. However, for financial reporting purposes, investment security transactions are reported on trade date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date net of foreign withholding taxes. Certain dividends from foreign securities may be recorded subsequent to the ex-dividend date as soon as the Fund is informed of such dividends. Realized gains and losses from investment transactions are recorded on an identified cost basis. Proceeds from litigation payments, if any, are included in net realized gain (loss) for investments.

Securities Lending. Brown Brothers Harriman & Co., as lending agent, lends securities of the Fund to certain financial institutions under the terms of its securities lending agreement. During the term of the loans, the Fund continues to receive dividends generated by the securities and to participate in any changes in their market value. The Fund requires the borrowers of the securities to maintain collateral with the Fund consisting of either cash or liquid, unencumbered assets having a value at least equal to the value of the securities loaned. When the collateral falls below specified amounts, the lending agent will use its best effort to obtain additional collateral on the next business day to meet required amounts under the securities lending agreement. As of period end, any securities on loan were collateralized by cash. During the six months ended April 30, 2017, the Fund invested the cash collateral into a joint trading account in affiliated money market funds managed by Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. As of April 30, 2017, the Fund invested the cash collateral in Deutsche Government & Agency Securities Portfolio. Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. receives a management/administration fee (0.10% annualized effective rate as of April 30, 2017) on the cash collateral invested in Deutsche Government & Agency Securities Portfolio. The Fund receives compensation for lending its securities either in the form of fees or by earning interest on invested cash collateral net of borrower rebates and fees paid to a lending agent. Either the Fund or the borrower may terminate the loan at any time and the borrower, after notice, is required to return borrowed securities within a standard time period. There may be risks of delay and costs in recovery of securities or even loss of rights in the collateral should the borrower of the securities fail financially. If the Fund is not able to recover securities lent, the Fund may sell the collateral and purchase a replacement investment in the market, incurring the risk that the value of the replacement security is greater than the value of the collateral. The Fund is also subject to all investment risks associated with the reinvestment of any cash collateral received including, but not limited to, interest rate, credit and liquidity risk associated with such investments.

As of April 30, 2017, the Fund had securities on loan, which were classified as common stock in the Schedule of Investments. The value of the related collateral exceeded the value of the securities loaned at period end. As of period end, the remaining contractual maturity of the collateral agreements were overnight and continuous.

Foreign Currency Translation. The books and records of the Fund are maintained in United States dollars.

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are translated into United States dollars at the prevailing exchange rates at period end. Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. Net realized and unrealized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net gains and losses between trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, the acquisition and disposition of foreign currencies, and the difference between the amount of net investment income accrued and the U.S. dollar amount actually received. The portion of both realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments that results from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates is not separately disclosed but is included with net realized and unrealized gain/appreciation and loss/depreciation on investments.

Contingencies. In the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

Taxes. The Fund's policy is to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, which are applicable to regulated investment companies, and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders.

Additionally, the Fund may be subject to taxes imposed by the governments of countries in which it invests. Such taxes are generally based on income and/or capital gains earned or repatriated. Estimated tax liabilities on certain foreign securities are recorded on an accrual basis and are reflected as components of interest income or net change in unrealized gain/loss on investments. Tax liabilities realized as a result of security sales are reflected as a component of net realized gain/loss on investments.

At October 31, 2016, the Fund had a net tax basis capital loss carryforward of approximately $50,172,000, which may be applied against realized net taxable capital gains indefinitely, including short-term losses ($26,448,000) and long-term losses ($23,724,000).

The Fund has reviewed the tax positions for the open tax years as of October 31, 2016 and has determined that no provision for income tax and/or uncertain tax provisions is required in the Fund's financial statements. The Fund's federal tax returns for the prior three fiscal years remain open subject to examinations by the Internal Revenue Service.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders. The Fund records dividends and distributions to its shareholders on the ex-dividend date. The timing and character of certain income and capital gain distributions are determined annually in accordance with United States federal income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences primarily relate to investments in foreign currency denominated investments, investments in foreign passive investment companies, recognition of certain foreign currency gains (losses) as ordinary income (loss) and certain securities sold at a loss. As a result, net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) on investment transactions for a reporting period may differ significantly from distributions during such period. Accordingly, the Fund may periodically make reclassifications among certain of its capital accounts without impacting the NAV of the Fund.

The tax character of current year distributions will be determined at the end of the current fiscal year.

B. Investment Advisory and Administration Agreements

The Fund is party to an Investment Advisory Agreement with Deutsche Asset Management International GmbH ("Deutsche AM International GmbH"). The Fund also has an Administration Agreement with Deutsche Investment Management Americas Inc. ("DIMA"). Deutsche AM International GmbH and DIMA are affiliated companies.

Under the Investment Advisory Agreement with Deutsche AM International GmbH, Deutsche AM International GmbH directs the investments of the Fund in accordance with its investment objectives, policies and restrictions. Deutsche AM International GmbH determines the securities, instruments and other contracts relating to investments to be purchased, sold or entered into by the Fund.

The Investment Advisory Agreement provides Deutsche AM International GmbH with a fee, computed weekly and payable monthly, at the annual rate of 0.80% of the Fund's average weekly net assets up to and including $100 million, 0.60% of such assets in excess of $100 million and up to and including $500 million, 0.55% of such assets in excess of $500 million and up to and including $750 million, and 0.50% of such assets in excess of $750 million.

Accordingly, for the six months ended April 30, 2017, the fee pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement was equivalent to an annualized rate of 0.71% of the Fund's average daily net assets.

Under the Administration Agreement with DIMA, DIMA provides all of the non-investment advisory services to the Fund. The Administration Agreement provides DIMA with a fee, computed weekly and payable monthly, of 0.20% of the Fund's average weekly net assets.

C. Transactions with Affiliates

Deutsche AM Service Company ("DSC"), an affiliate of DIMA, is the transfer agent, dividend-paying agent and shareholder service agent of the Fund. Pursuant to a sub-transfer agency agreement between DSC and DST Systems, Inc. ("DST"), DSC has delegated certain transfer agent and dividend-paying agent functions to DST. DSC compensates DST out of the shareholder servicing fee it receives from the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2017, the amount charged to the Fund by DSC aggregated $3,750, of which $750 is unpaid.

Under an agreement with DIMA, DIMA is compensated for providing typesetting and certain regulatory filing services to the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2017, the amount charged to the Fund by DIMA included in the Statement of Operations under "Reports to shareholders" aggregated $6,282, of which $5,715 is unpaid.

Deutsche Bank AG, the German parent of DIMA and Deutsche AM International GmbH, and its affiliates may receive brokerage commissions as a result of executing agency transactions in portfolio securities on behalf of the Fund, that the Board determined were effected in compliance with the Fund's Rule 17e-1 procedures. For the six months ended April 30, 2017, Deutsche Bank did not receive brokerage commissions from the Fund.

Certain Officers of the Fund are also officers of either DIMA or Deutsche AM International GmbH.

The Fund pays each Director who is not an "interested person" of DIMA or Deutsche AM International GmbH retainer fees plus specified amounts for attended board and committee meetings.

The Fund may invest cash balances in Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund, which is managed by DIMA. The Fund indirectly bears its proportionate share of the expenses of Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund. Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund does not pay DIMA an investment management fee. Deutsche Central Cash Management Government Fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with the liquidity and the preservation of capital.

D. Portfolio Securities

Purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term investments, for the six months ended April 30, 2017 were $108,395,088 and $113,538,421, respectively.

E. Investing in Emerging Markets in Europe

Investing in emerging markets may involve special risks and considerations not typically associated with investing in developed markets. These risks include currency fluctuations, high rates of inflation or deflation, repatriation restrictions on income and capital, and future adverse political, social and economic developments. Moreover, securities issued in these markets may be less liquid, may be subject to government ownership controls or delayed settlements and may have prices that are more volatile or less easily assessed than those of comparable securities of issuers in developed markets.

The European Union, the United States and other countries have imposed sanctions on Russia as a result of the Russian military intervention in Ukraine. These sanctions have adversely affected Russian individuals, Russian issuers and the Russian economy. Russia, in turn, has imposed sanctions targeting Western individuals, businesses and products, including food products. The various sanctions have adversely affected, and may continue to adversely affect, not only the Russian economy but also the economies of many countries in Europe, including countries in Central Europe. Potential developments in the Ukraine, and the continuation of current sanctions, or the imposition of additional sanctions, may materially adversely affect the value or liquidity of the Fund's portfolio.

F. Capital

During the six months ended April 30, 2017 and the year ended October 31, 2016, the Fund purchased 349,600 and 473,337 of its shares of common stock on the open market at a total cost of $7,169,474 and $8,641,463 ($20.51 and $18.26 average per share), respectively. The average discount of these purchased shares comparing the purchased price to the NAV per share at the time of purchase was 12.70% and 11.94%, respectively.

During the six months ended April 30, 2017 and the year ended October 31, 2016, the Fund issued for dividend reinvestment 44,794 and 56,912 shares, respectively. The average discount of these issued shares comparing the issue price to NAV per share at the time of the issuance was 12.67% and 11.37%, respectively.

G. Share Repurchases

On July 27, 2015, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors approved an extension of the current repurchase authorization permitting the Fund to repurchase up to 867,000 shares during the period from August 1, 2015 through July 31, 2016. The Fund repurchased 374,079 shares between August 1, 2015 and July 31, 2016. On July 25, 2016, the Fund announced that the Board of Directors approved an extension of the current repurchase authorization permitting the Fund to repurchase up to 796,000 shares during the period from August 1, 2016 through July 31, 2017. The Fund repurchased 514,600 shares between August 1, 2016 and April 30, 2017.

Repurchases will be made from time to time when they are believed to be in the best interests of the Fund. There can be no assurance that the Fund's repurchases will reduce the spread between the market price of the Fund's shares referred to below and its NAV per share.

Monthly updates concerning the Fund's repurchase program are available on its Web site at deutschefunds.com.

H. Concentration of Ownership

From time to time, the Fund may have a concentration of several shareholder accounts holding a significant percentage of shares outstanding. Investment activities of these shareholders could have a material impact on the Fund. At April 30, 2017, there were three shareholders that held approximately 21%, 17% and 8%, respectively, of the outstanding shares of the Fund.

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial or non-financial companies. Our affiliates include financial companies with the DWS or Deutsche Bank ("DB") name, such as DB AG Frankfurt.

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and non-financial companies.

Non-affiliates

Non-affiliates we share with include account service providers, service quality monitoring services, mailing service providers and verification services to help in the fight against money laundering and fraud.

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between non-affiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you. Deutsche Asset Management does not jointly market.

Rev. 09/2016

There are three closed-end funds investing in European equities advised and administered by wholly owned subsidiaries of the Deutsche Bank Group:

— The Central Europe, Russia and Turkey Fund, Inc. — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of issuers domiciled in Central Europe, Russia and Turkey (with normally at least 80% in securities of issuers in such countries).

— The European Equity Fund, Inc. — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of companies domiciled in countries that are members of the European Union (with normally at least 80% in securities of issuers in such countries).

— The New Germany Fund, Inc. — investing primarily in equity or equity-linked securities of middle market German companies with up to 20% in other Western European companies (with no more than 15% in any single country).

Please consult your broker for advice on any of the above or call 1-800-349-4281 (in the U.S.) or 00-800-2287-2750 (outside of the U.S.) for shareholder reports.

The Central Europe, Russia and Turkey Fund is non-diversified and can take larger positions in fewer issues, increasing its potential risk. Investing in foreign securities presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Any fund that focuses in a particular segment of the market will generally be more volatile than a fund that invests more broadly.

10. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

There were no material changes to the procedures by which stockholders may recommend nominees to the Fund's Board. The Nominating and Governance Committee will consider nominee candidates properly submitted by stockholders in accordance with applicable law, the Fund's Articles of Incorporation or By-laws, resolutions of the Board and the qualifications and procedures set forth in the Nominating and Governance Committee Charter and this proxy statement. The Nominating and Governance Committee's Charter requires that a stockholder or group of stockholders seeking to submit a nominee candidate (i) must have beneficially owned at least 5% of the Fund's common stock for at least two years, (ii) may submit only one nominee candidate for any particular meeting of stockholders, and (iii) may submit a nominee candidate for only an annual meeting or other meeting of stockholders at which directors will be elected. The stockholder or group of stockholders must provide notice of the proposed nominee pursuant to the requirements found in the Fund's By-laws. Generally, this notice must be received not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of mailing of the notice for the preceding year's annual meeting. Such notice shall include the specific information required by the Fund's By-laws. The Nominating and Governance Committee will evaluate nominee candidates properly submitted by stockholders on the same basis as it considers and evaluates candidates recommended by other sources.
