Expedia, Inc. Announces Intention to Repurchase Up to $3.5 Billion of its Common Stock in Tender Offer Bellevue, Wash.

Expedia, Inc. (NASDAQ: EXPE) announced today that it intends to repurchase up to 116,666,665 shares of its common stock in a tender offer at a price per share not less than $27.50 and not greater than $30.00. The 116,666,665 shares subject to the tender offer represent approximately 42% of the number of shares of common stock currently outstanding and approximately 38% of the total number of shares of common stock and Class B common stock currently outstanding. The tender offer is expected to commence during the week of June 25, 2007 and to expire, unless extended, during the week of August 6, 2007. A modified Dutch auction will allow stockholders to indicate how many shares and at what price within the company's specified range they wish to tender. Based on the number of shares tendered and the prices specified by the tendering stockholders, the company will determine the lowest price per share within the range at which the company can purchase 116,666,665 shares of its common stock or such lesser number of shares as are properly tendered. The company will not purchase shares below a price stipulated by a stockholder, and in some cases, may actually purchase shares at prices above a stockholder's indication under the terms of the modified Dutch auction. Expedia, Inc.'s directors and executive officers and Liberty Media Corporation have advised the company that they do not intend to tender any shares in the tender offer.

Specific instructions and a complete explanation of the terms and conditions of the tender offer will be contained in the Offer to Purchase and related materials that Expedia expects will be mailed to stockholders of record beginning the week of June 25, 2007. MacKenzie Partners, Inc. will serve as information agent and The Bank of New York will serve as the depository. The tender offer will not be contingent upon any minimum number of shares being tendered. However, it will be subject to certain conditions that will be described in the Offer to Purchase, including the receipt of financing.

With this action, we couldn't be clearer that the management and the Board of this company are confident in the value of Expedia and in its long term future," said Barry Diller, Expedia, Inc.'s Chairman and Senior Executive.

Expedia, Inc. will announce its second quarter results prior to its purchase of shares pursuant to the offer. The company currently plans to issue its second quarter earnings release on or around August 2, 2007.

This press release is for informational purposes only and is not an offer to purchase or the solicitation of an offer to sell any shares of the company's common stock. The solicitation and offer to purchase the company's common stock will only be made pursuant to the Offer to Purchase and related materials that the company will send to its stockholders. Stockholders should read those materials carefully because they will contain important information, including the various terms and conditions of the tender offer. Stockholders will be able to obtain copies of the Offer to Purchase, related materials filed by the company as part of the statement on Schedule TO and other documents filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) through the SEC's internet address at <http://www.sec.gov> without charge when these documents become available. Stockholders and investors may also obtain a copy of these documents, as well as any other documents the company has filed with the SEC, without charge, from the company or at the Investor Relations section of the company's website: www.expediainc.com. Stockholders are urged to carefully read these materials prior to making any decision with respect to the offer. Stockholders and investors who have questions or need assistance may call MacKenzie Partners, Inc. at 1-800-322-2885 in the United States and Canada, and +1-212-929-5500 for all other countries.
